'BIG 4' TIRED OF DELAY; TO MEET MINUS FRANCE

Sea Envoys Angered by Tardieu Tactics.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 3.—The five power naval conference will resume work tomorrow, after a two weeks' holiday. Whether it resumes as a four or a five power conference depends on the French. This became apparent today, when it was announced that the heads of the delegations will meet tomorrow morning at St. James's palace to receive a report of the experts' committee on categories, which has already been discussed by the first committee and which, although complete for some time, has been held up by the absence of the French delegates.

It is quite possible that this decision was due to the rapidly increasing irritation and disgust at the French methods, which was intensified by news from Paris this morning that it had been discovered that when the Tardieu government resigned a fortnight ago it had not been defeated at all, but actually had a majority of two on the supposed fatal vote.

Ballot Boxes Stuffed.

The whole episode is said to have been a gay riot in what the French declare is a serious parliamentary body. There are just over 600 members in the chamber, but more than 1,600 ballots were cast in this division. The gay deputies shoved them into the boxes in handfulls. When the good and bad were sorted the first count showed a majority of five against the government. The second count got the hostile majority down to one, on which Premier Tardieu resigned. Since then there has been a third count, showing that M. Tardieu actually had a majority of two.

The deputies' gayety cost America alone about $5,000 daily for sixteen days for the keep of the idle delegation, and proportionate sums for Japan, Italy and Great Britain.

It was announced today that it was hoped M. A. de Fleuriau, French ambassador to London, would be allowed to attend the meeting of the chiefs of the delegations tomorrow, but it was made clear that if he was not the meeting would be held anyway.

"Take It or Leave It."

THE TRIBUNE learns there has been some unofficial talk of ignoring the French until and if they come back. Under this plan the four powers would work out their problems and arrive at an agreement based on a reasonable allowance to France. Then the latter come take it or leave it.

Such a treaty, however, would have to be conditioned, so far as Great Britain and Italy are concerned, on the size of navy France finally is allotted. There is a very definite feeling, however, that France's claim for 725,000 tons is purely bluff, and that it has no intention of actually building up to that figure. It is also believed that no French government could get the chamber to vote the necessary finance with its sequel of heavier taxation.

Private Talks Continue.

In the meantime, private conversations between the delegates continued today. Senator David A. Reed again saw Tsuneo Matsudaira, Japanese delegate. Later Senator Reed and Senator Joseph T. Robinson saw A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, and R. L. Craigie, head of the American department of the foreign office and British political expert. These visits are supposed to have concerned compromise proposals to Japan.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald was heckled in the house of commons this afternoon by Rear Admiral T. Beamish, the fire eating retired sailor, who sits for the Tory seat of Lewes. Admiral Beamish wanted to know if the British government based parity with the United States on tonnage and gun power only, or whether they had considered the principles of the French memorandum for parity based on commitments and trade and sea routes.

Mr. MacDonald replied that in all formal and informal conversations all factors had been considered. He did not say, nor did Admiral Beamish ask, whether America's lack of bases and fast merchant ships capable of being armed had been considered as important factors in real parity.

THE BIRD DOG THAT WENT ON A BEAR HUNT

Ex-Mayor Hale Gets 2 Years for Rum Plot

Dr. Raleigh P. Hale, former mayor of East Chicago, and James Regan, former police chief, were sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary and fined $2,000 each yesterday by Judge Thomas W. Slick in the United States District court at Hammond. Hale and Regan were convicted with thirteen others on conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Judge Slick sentenced thirteen of the fifteen defendants after overruling their motions for new trials. The others sentenced are:

Martin Zarkovich, former detective captain, and Patsey Ramey, former detective, two years and $500; John Antonion, a year and a day and $1,000; Sanford Overall and Eldridge White, Negro bootleggers, four months and $100; Tom Thomas, six months and $500; Bertha Popp, six months and $1,000; Joseph De Angelo, six months and $500; Tony Zaleski, a year and six day and $1,000; Enrique Orta, six months and $500; Grice Chandler, Negro vice king, two years and $2,000 on the conspiracy charge, and two years under the Jones law.

Additional Sentences Imposed.

Thomas, Mrs. Bopp, and Zaleski also were sentenced to a year and a day for violation of the prohibition law. These terms are to be served concurrently with the other sentences imposed on the trio.

Philip Collenger, alleged Capone lieutenant and collector for the booze ring, was released under $25,000 bond, Judge Slick withholding sentence, after Chandler had declared that Collenger was the man to whom he had paid money for protection and from whom he purchased the rights to sell liquor and operate vice and gambling houses in East Chicago. Chandler said he had made no money in his operations because he had been forced to pay all his profits for protection.

After Chandler had made his statement, James Clark, Collenger's counsel, decided not to ask for a new trial, and filed notice of an appeal. Hale, Regan, Zarkovich and Ramey also gave notice of appeals. Nick Zudovich was not sentenced because he is now serving a sentence for manslaughter.

Try Former Officials.

Trial of the Michigan City liquor conspiracy charges against Joseph Allie, former dry agent; Richard Kruse, former Michigan City police chief, and five other defendants was started yesterday in the United States court at South Bend. The seven defendants were tried with 16 others last fall but the jury disagreed. John Boss, former commissioner of Michigan City, who was indicted along with the others, was granted a separate trial.

MRS. FIELD SEEKS HOME IN NEVADA, IS RENO REPORT

A Reno dispatch last night said that Mrs. Marshall Field III. was negotiating for a lease on an estate on Lake Tahoe, about 40 miles from the Nevada city, and that she planned to take up her residence there about May 1 after her return from a vacation in Porto Rico. The estate is the one that was occupied by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney during her Nevada residence.

In New York Mrs. Field's attorney, Joseph R. Truesdale, who is reported to have been handling the lease negotiations, was asked about the implications of domestic discord involved in Mrs. Field's reported plan to live in Nevada. "There is not the slightest basis for divorce stories," the lawyer said. "Such rumors are no more true now than they were when they were first circulated a year and a half ago."

Mr. and Mrs. Field have been maintaining separate establishments in New York, but when questioned on this arrangement recently, both said that reports of domestic infelicity were absurd. Mr. Field is the only surviving grandson of the Chicago merchant. Mrs. Field was Evelyn Marshall, daughter of the late Charles H. Marshall of New York. They were married in 1915.

Woman Drops Dead While at Old Friend's Funeral

Mrs. Tandel had been a resident of Des Plaines for 21 years.

Noted Hunter Hit in Traffic; Fear for Life

Thomas Alexander Barns, 48 years old, who has spent half his life shooting African big game without being scratched, was in a critical condition last night in the Columbus Memorial hospital as the result of a traffic accident.

Mr. Barns, who is a noted author, lecturer, explorer and American agent for the Benguela railroad of South Africa, was crossing Clark street at Arlington place last night when a southbound street car hurled him in front of a northbound taxicab. He suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries.

Collector for Museums.

The cab driver, Everett H. Little, 7705 Sheridan road, drove him to the hospital. Mr. Barns' secretary, Miss Alice Elsenau, 431 St. James place, told police he was on his way to consult a physician when struck. His Chicago residence is at 1259 North State parkway.

Mr. Barns is a member of the African society, the American Museum of Natural History and the National Geographical society. He has been a rancher and coffee planter in Rhodesia, led many ivory expeditions into Portuguese East Africa, and collected rare zoological specimens for British and American museums, including a notable group of gorillas and African elephants now in the Kensington museum, London.

Four deaths yesterday raised the Cook county motor toll to 153. The victims:

Lucille Shiram, 7 years old, 740 Belden avenue. Fatally injured when hit by a truck at Lincoln and Belden avenues. The driver, Paul Karczeroski, 2224 Fletcher street, was held.

Fritz Niederich, 77 years old, 5031 Quincy street. Died in the West Suburban hospital of injuries received when struck by an automobile on Jan. 1.

Joseph Kolman, 52 years old, 3245 South Morgan street. Died in the People's hospital of injuries received Sunday when struck by an automobile in front of 2761 Archer avenue.

Mrs. Cecelia Kalski, 50 years old, 2118 Pierce street. Died of injuries received on Feb. 23 when she was struck by a hit and run motorist at Damen and Fullerton avenues.

A coroner's jury recommended that Robert Rice, colored, 5906 Indiana avenue, driver of the taxicab which struck and fatally injured Fred Hurley, 28 years old, 509 West 42d street, Sunday morning, be held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter.

Brunette Hair in Home Leads to Divorce Suit

Mrs. Gladys Cygan, 220 East Walton street, filed a divorce suit in Superior court yesterday against Herbert Cygan, 999 Lake Shore drive. The Cygans were married Aug. 18, 1925. Mrs. Cygan said she became suspicious when she found combs and brunette hair in her home.

TORTURE FARM COUPLE IN HUNT FOR HUGE GEM

Gossip of Rare Find Leads to Tragedy.

Farmers in southeastern McHenry county were up in arms last night over an outrage committed yesterday against a married couple of the community by two thugs.

Ed Tessendorf, who tills a 100 acre farm two miles north of Crystal Lake, and his wife, Emma, were the victims. The couple have been the subject of neighborly gossip since last August when Tessendorf's spade turned up a translucent stone the size of a goose egg while he was digging a ditch in his back yard.

The farmer held the unusual stone up to the view of his wife on the porch. She suggested it would serve as a toy for their one year old son, Earl.

A Surprising Discovery.

Two months passed and one day as the toddling boy stood at the window with the stone in his hands his mother noticed the deep scratches it cut in the glass as he pawed the window pane with it. Excitedly she called Tessendorf from the barn.

Tessendorf slipped the stone in his shirt pocket, jumped into his flivver, and sped to a village jeweler whom he knew. The jeweler was not much of a lapidary, but he advised the farmer to rent a safety deposit box immediately and keep the stone there. The jeweler insisted the stone was worth several thousand dollars.

The Tessendorfs are a numerous clan in McHenry county. Two of Ed's brothers run the Crystal Lake hardware store and another, Walter, has the farm half a mile south of Ed's. Tessendorf spoke little of his hopes, but the gossip soon got around that he was the possessor of a diamond as big as a fist and worth at least $40,000.

Two Strangers Appear.

Yesterday Mrs. Tessendorf was finishing the dinner dishes and her husband was doing chores in the stable when two men in a big coupe stopped at the front gate. One, who was tall and thin, went to the house, while the other, who was shorter and more sturdy, walked to the barn.

"What's up, stranger—run out of gas?" Tessendorf asked pleasantly. A pistol butt rapped his skull and he fell unconscious.

Regaining his senses, the farmer found himself tied hand and foot to his bed, beside his wife, who was also bound. Little Earl was whimpering in a corner, penned there by an overturned chair.

"Where's that $40,000 rock?" demanded the heavyset stranger. "Don't tell them, Ed," whispered Mrs. Tessendorf.

Woman Tells of Torture.

What happened then was related by Mrs. Walter Tessendorf, sister-in-law of the farmer. He was under a physician's care as a result of his experience.

"They pressed glowing cigars against his cheeks," the sister-in-law said. "They wrenched his toenails with pliers. But he wouldn't say a word about the stone.

"Then they started a search themselves. They broke a desk open, strewed the contents on the floor, smashed a mantle clock, and ransacked the house from top to bottom. They hunted about an hour and then came back to the bedroom.

"The shorter fellow told Ed if he didn't tell before the count of ten he'd kill Emma. The tall one started counting and the other knelt at one end of the room and aimed the shotgun.

"The gun blazed and I guess Ed thought his wife was done for. The shot hadn't touched her, but Ed shouted murder and told the men to look again in the clock they had broken."

Child Unties Mother.

When the vandals fled little Earl clambered over the chair and, by his mother's direction, loosed the knot that held her wrists. She unbound herself and Tessendorf and telephoned Sheriff Cyrus Sanford at Woodstock. The sheriff notified the Chicago detective bureau and the bureau's first request was for a description of the "diamond."

"Well," said the sheriff, "you can get a description from the State street jeweler to whom he sent it for appraisal two weeks ago. The jeweler returned the stone by registered mail with the advice it was a good specimen of crystal and worth about $200."

Death Closes Judge Hopkins' Career at 65

Superior Judge Jacob H. Hopkins died in Mercy hospital at 9:14 last evening after a brief illness. He was 65 years old. Judge Denis E. Sullivan, an associate on the bench, announced that funeral services will be held tomorrow morning, with interment in De Kalb, Ill., Judge Hopkins' birthplace.

Out of respect to the memory of Judge Hopkins, the Superior, Circuit, Municipal and County courts will be closed tomorrow. The body will lie in state at the Auditorium hotel from noon today until tomorrow morning. A special train to De Kalb will leave at 11 a. m. tomorrow and return to Chicago after the funeral.

Stricken Three Weeks Ago.

Judge Hopkins was stricken with an acute intestinal disorder three weeks ago in his rooms at the Auditorium hotel. He underwent an operation two weeks ago. The attending surgeon, Dr. Phillip H. Kreuscher, deemed a second operation necessary, and this was performed last Tuesday by Dr. Kreuscher and Dr. Karl A. Meyer.

Although the surgery relieved the obstruction from which the patient was suffering, Judge Hopkins failed to rally. On Saturday he became so weak that a blood transfusion was performed.

19 Years on Bench.

Judge Hopkins, in nineteen years on the bench, including six years in the Municipal court, demonstrated that it was possible for a judge to be fair and unyielding on the bench and yet retain the title of "good fellow" among the friends he had made before his elevation.

Born in De Kalb on May 3, 1865, Judge Hopkins came to Chicago shortly after his graduation from Knox college in Galesburg, studied at the Union College of Law and was admitted to the bar in 1889.

Immediately he took an active interest in politics, becoming one of the prominent Gold Democratic leaders in 1896.

Lieutenant of James Quinn.

In politics he was a lieutenant of the late James A. Quinn, then boss of the old 21st ward, but at the same time he maintained a warm friendship with John P. Hopkins, former mayor, and Roger Sullivan, then at the head of the wing of the party to which Quinn and Mayor Carter H. Harrison were opposed.

In 1900 Hopkins was elected to the state board of equilization, and about the same time served as a member of the Democratic county committee.

In 1910 he was elected judge of the Municipal court. Shortly afterwards he was selected by Chief Justice Olson to preside over the newly created Morals court, the most difficult assignment to be made. He made the Morals court one of the greatest influences for good in the city. In this capacity he made friends of both the social workers and reformers who had been aghast at the appointment of a practical politician to the court.

Went Without Vacations.

His position was rendered the more difficult because at that time the old levee district was being destroyed and he often had to dispose of 200 or 300 cases a day. For years he took no vacation, but when he finally made a trip to Europe he was greeted by a crowded and flower filled courtroom upon his return. Later, although a bachelor, he was selected to preside over the Court of Domestic Relations, for which he did what he had previously done for the Morals court. He was elected to the Superior court in 1917 and reelected in 1923 and 1929. He was chief justice of the Criminal court in 1924-1925 and 1928-1929.

Judge Hopkins presided over many famous trials, including that of William A. Bither, former attorney for the school board, for graft, and that of the Drake hotel bandits.

TEACHERS, ALL OTHER WORKERS GET PAY TODAY

Mayor's Aids Cause Delay by Bickering.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Strawn committee, managers of the Taxpayers' trust, handed over to the local governments yesterday a total of $12,873,582.86 for pay rolls and other necessities.

The county was ready to receive its $2,750,000 share and paid its employés up to Feb. 15. The succeeding 15 days will be paid when the pay rolls have been checked. The sanitary district was on hand to receive its $340,113.33 to pay interest on bonds, which was paid yesterday.

The city, as frequently happens, was not prepared. Silas H. Strawn, Rufus C. Dawes, Gen. Abel Davis, Harold Beacon, Walter H. Jacobs, and other representatives of the Taxpayers' trust waited a couple of hours at the Chicago Title and Trust company for the city to appear. Then they phoned the city hall.

Papers Are Not Signed.

It was disclosed that Mayor Thompson had not signed the ordinance passed at the last council meeting increasing the interest rate on 1928 and 1929 tax anticipation warrants from 2½ and 4 per cent to 6 per cent. Nor had the mayor signed the coupons of the new warrants. James W. Breen of the law department took the documents to the mayor's residence to get his signature and the signed ordinance was at the city clerk's office at 1:47 p. m. Then the city representatives rushed over to the Title and Trust company at 2 o'clock, which started an argument of an hour.

From the employés' viewpoint, the net result was that the city got its $9,783,469.53 too late to pay more than the help in the city collector's, city clerk's, controller's, and civil service offices. No pay was delivered to the school teachers, who have $3,960,000 coming, nor to other school employés, who have $1,106,615 overdue.

Will Receive Pay Today.

It was announced last night that the school teachers and the city corporate employés will be paid today. That announcement was possible only because of a truce on the internecine war in the city administration and a letdown in its proposed attack upon the Strawn plan.

In the meantime the campaign to collect $74,000,000 to keep the local governments operating until July 1, which is directed by Philip R. Clarke, president of the Central Trust company, obtained added subscribers yesterday for $2,816,000. This brings the total subscriptions to $63,130,800, or 85 per cent of the total. To date the financial aid given this campaign by individual politicians has been nil.

Righeimer Starts Debate.

At the 2 o'clock meeting in the Chicago Title and Trust offices, Attorney Frank Righeimer insisted with considerable vigor that the Strawn committee buy the 1930 tax anticipation warrants of the board of education. The committee had decided it would buy $4,500,000 of the 1928 corporate warrants and $4,750,000 of the educational 1928 warrants, which had been sold by the city to itself and paid for with trust and surplus funds.

Mr. Strawn said that he notified the city of the committee's decision last Tuesday; city representatives said they were not informed until Thursday, but that left the city and school officials with three days to be ready for the session yesterday.

Briefly the plan of the Strawn committee is this: by purchasing the 1928 and 1929 warrants held in the city treasury, the city can reinvest its surplus funds in corporate and school warrants of 1930. But the ordinance passed last Wednesday does not authorize the city to invest in 1930 warrants, and no meeting was called Thursday, Friday, or Saturday to correct the defect.

Try to Convince Clarke.

In addition Chairman John S. Clarke of the council finance committee does not want the city to invest its surplus funds in school warrants. To convince him, a closed session was held in his office yesterday afternoon with the city controller, school board, city treasurer, and corporation counsel's offices represented. The final decision was that the controller will give the treasurer an interim certificate for school tax anticipation warrants for $4,750,000 this morning and checks for school salaries for that sum will be issued. In the meantime an effort will be made to sell $4,750,000 of the school tax warrants.

H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, who spent two weeks in New York trying to sell school warrants, gave the impression that he believes he can sell the warrants. Anyway, upon him the conferees are relying. If he does not succeed than an ordinance will be passed at the council meeting next Thursday authorizing the city to buy these warrants from their surplus funds.

Hope for Double Amount.

If President Caldwell does succeed then the city will have from the Strawn committee $4,750,000 more than is required to meet the city's corporate pay rolls to Feb. 15.

That is exactly what the city officials hope will happen. They want to be relieved of aiding in providing money for the school teachers and employés, because in that event they reckon that, after they have sold enough 1928 warrants, the city corporate part of the local governments will be able to get along without the aid of the Strawn committee, and they can fight any bills that committee presents in the legislature for curbing city waste and extravagance and preventing a recurrence of present conditions.

The ordinance to be presented to the council next Thursday will approve only the pending transaction, which indicates that the Strawn committee will be opposed when the next few millions are handed out.

New Battle Is Expected.

That summarizes the involved maneuvering and scheming of the day which prevented the school teachers and school employés, the policemen, firemen and other city employés from getting their overdue salaries. The city officials insisted upon telling the Strawn committee in what tax anticipation warrrants it must invest the cash of the taxpayers' trust. They will attempt to force the Strawn committee the next time to buy the 1930 tax warrants. Those of the city have not been approved by Chapman and Cutler or other recognized bond attorneys, although those of the school board have been passed upon favorably.

While the city and school officials were busy scheming on spending the money, Mr. Clarke and his organization were working overtime trying to get subscriptions.

Not Enough Subscriptions.

"We had responses from several loyal Chicagoans who are wintering in Florida and California," said Mr. Clarke last night, "and their subscriptions were generous, but there were not enough of them. We are hoping for good returns from hundreds of other telegrams sent to other Chicagoans now out of the city.

"We simply cannot understand why there is the slightest hesitancy on the part of business men and wealthy individuals in subscribing for these writs, which will net a handsome interest return over a short period and which are as sure of redemption as Liberty bonds themselves. The element of sacrifice does not enter into it at all.

"Several business concerns doing business in the Chicago district have refused to participate, holding that they are only branches of outside concerns. Whether they are branches or not, it is distinctly up to them to help in this emergency. Perhaps the concerns do not pay taxes here, but so long as they are doing business here they certainly owe something in the way of support."

Subscriptions for Day.

Some of the cheering high lights of the day were subscriptions of $600,000 from the New York Central lines, $300,000 from the Chicago Union Station, $250,000 from the Union Stock Yards and Transit company, $100,000 from the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway and another $100,000 from the Bowman Dairy company. B. E. Sunny wired a $50,000 subscription from Pasadena, Cal., R. H. Ripley wired $25,000 from Philadelphia, Clayton Mark another subscription of $10,000 from Palm Beach and Mrs. Louise De Koven Bowen another of $10,000 from Tucson, Ariz.

Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, was married to Richard Joseph Buck New York broker, at St. Joseph's Catholic church, here today. The bride's heavy burden of family jewelry explained the presence of the guard.

Aside from the armed force, Miss Farrell was attended by her sisters, Mrs. Joseph B. Murray and Mrs. Luke D. Stapleton, both of New York City.

The Rev. W. Coleman Nevils read both the nuptial mass and the marriage ceremony.

A reception was held later at Rock Ledge, the home of the bride's parents. It was announced the couple would make their home in New York City after a European honeymoon.

Brookings, S. D., March 3.—[Special.]—Basketball receipts and other school funds of more than $500 were taken from the vault at the high school by yeggs who broke through the heavy wall of concrete and drilled a thickness of steel.

CLAIMS REPORT ON CLINIC BACKS MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. C. B. Reed Comments on Experts' Findings.

Dr. Charles B. Reed, president of the Chicago Medical society, last night issued a statement concerning the report made last Saturday by three noted physicians concerning the Public Health institute clinic for the treatment of social diseases which for years has been under the ban of the medical society.

Dr. Reed says he does not agree with a published statement that the report gives "high praise." He says the report "vindicates the position and criticism which the medical society has consistantly maintained regarding the institute in an effort to bring it within the scope of the best professional ethics and of the best medical treatment for venereal disease.

Dr. Reed's statement criticizes THE TRIBUNE for printing the report of the three experts before he and his colleagues of the medical society had an opportunity to read it.

Experts Make Report.

The report was made by Dr. Harold N. Cole, professor of syhpilis and dermatology at Western Reserve university, Cleveland, O.; Dr. Edwin L. Keyes, professor of urology at Cornell university medical college; and Dr. Thomas Parran Jr., assistant surgeon general of the United States public health service, in charge of the division of venereal disease.

These three visiting experts made the inquiry on behalf of the medical advisory board of the institute, composed of seven recognized Chicago medical leaders. It is expected the report will bring a crucial point in the case of Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, noted Chicago surgeon, who was expelled from the Chicago Medical society because of his indirect connection with the institute.

"The report specifically states," the statement of Dr. Reed says, "that 'from an efficiency standpoint and from a business standpoint the Public Health institute is being run remarkably well. If the medical side could be carried in the same plane a remarkable piece of work would be accomplished.'"

Quotes from Statement.

After pointing out that the report says the institute's medical service could be "immeasurably improved" by the addition of certain specialists, Dr. Reed quotes further from the report, as follows:

"There is perhaps no such thing (at the institute) as flagrantly taking advantage of the patient; nevertheless there are many unethical procedures in the way of uncalled for and unnecessary extra items of technique which run up the patient's bill considerably."

"The impression of the investigators," continues Dr. Reed, "was 'on the whole mildly favorable.'" Concerning the personnel of the institute staff, he says, the report continues:

"The schools from which many of these men come are not of the highest type, and it is rather my impression from a survey of their internships that the type of hospital service that these men have had was nil or not the best. They are as competant people as one would expect in a place that is hampered in its selection of physicians, for after all, a high grade physician would hesitate to work for them."

Agrees with Society, He Says.

Dr. Reed himself continues: "The report agrees with the medical society that the institute is deficient from the public health standpoint, not following up lapsed infectious cases which can easily become sources of fresh infections to the community, and not following up family contacts; an adequate system of case control, and in a number of other ways.

"The analysis of costs of treatment at the institute as compared with charges made in private medical treatment, which Dr. Parran gives us in the third section of the report, do not harmonize with facts stated elsewhere in the report. The net result is to substantiate the attitude of the medical society that there is no large or essential difference between cost of venereal disease treatment at the institute and the same treatment in private practice."

TAX BOARD VOTES TO SPEED UP 1929 RURAL ASSESSMENT

The board of assessors yesterday voted to expedite the 1929 real estate assessment by failing to send out country town field books to local assessors from the central office. It was agreed that the local assesors shall work with a new report form on which appraisals of newly erected buildings and other physical changes will be recorded.

This move will eliminate much of the trouble which arose over the 1928 assessments in country towns and which is still delaying completion of the reassessment. The plan was approved by County Attorney Hayden Bell, Charles C. Carnahan, representing the board, and Roy A. Massena, attorney for the board of review.

It was explained that the statutes give the local assessor power to make an original assessment. In making the 1928 assessment the local assessors have completed their duties with the exception of making additions or subtractions to the rolls of new or destroyed buildings. Therefore, all the local assessor needs is a form on which to copy the work for 1929

McDONOUGH ASKS SHOWDOWN ON TRANSIT PLANS

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th], chairman of the council local transportation committee, yesterday asked reports from the transit interests on the progress they have made toward a financial plan for the consolidation of the transportation lines. He sent letters to the presidents of the transit companies, the citizens' committee, and to the Insull bankers' committee, which has been charged with writing the financial provisions of the proposed new franchise.

The transportation committee is to meet on Thursday to consider the drafts of the franchise, with the exception of the financial plan. The renewed activity follows the demand of Ald. Guy Guernsey [6th] for competitive bidding on a franchise to hasten a settlement of the transit problem and the resolution of Ald. Arthur Albert [43d] asking for the formation of a new committee to take over the problem.

"The time has come to find out whether the traction interests wish in good faith to settle this question and whether any of the traction interests do not wish to settle it," McDonough's letter said.

Harry Weber, attorney for the south side lines, said that all the transit people would give Ald. McDonough an "emphatic yes" to that question.

ALDERMEN HEAR REORGANIZATION PLAN FOR POLICE

The council police committee, headed by Ald. Thomas F. Byrne [15th], yesterday began consideration of the plan recommended by the citizens' police advisory committee for a reorganization of the police force. The plan was explained to the aldermen by Elmer T. Stevens, chairman of the advisory committee, and Bruce Smith, director of the staff engaged in studying reorganization plans.

"This plan means that there will be hundreds of more men engaged in active police work," said Mr. Smith. "A recommendation will be made later as to the minimum number of men needed on the Chicago force, but we will determine first how many indoor men can be released for street duty."

RANDOLPH LISTS CITY VIRTUES TO ANSWER CRITICS

Leaders Back War on Criminals.

City-wide backing for the Chicago Association of Commerce committee for the prevention and punishment of crime was promised yesterday when 250 leaders of civic and business organizations met at the Union League club. Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce, at a meeting of the Chicago Passenger club last night discussed Chicago's crime situation in a "Boost Chicago" talk.

Col. Randolph read a clipping from a German newspaper, which depicted Chicago as the most lawless city in the world. The paper said Chicago has a bombing a day and that the city is in the hands of the criminal element, which, the paper asserted, is led by the mayor. Many American newspaper print articles about Chicago only slightly less ridiculous, Col. Randolph said.

"City Not Crime Capital."

"Chicago is not the crime capital of the United States," he asserted, citing murder statistics.

"Neither is Chicago broke," he continued. "No private business could carry on without revenue for twenty-one months as Chicago has done, because of the revaluation of property. No private business could be conducted without sending out bills for accounts receivable. Chicago has done so and her credit is strained and there was a necessity for private citizens to come to the rescue and they did so under the able leadership of Silas H. Strawn and Philip Clarke.

"Gov. Emmerson has promised us a special session of the legislature to consider plans to get us out of this financial muddle. But Chicago is sound financially. Its public debt is only $95.01 per capital, compared with $245.50 per capita for New York and $208 for Philadelphia. The ratio of the public debt to real values in Chicago is only 3 per cent, while in New York it is 6 per cent and in Philadelphia 7 per cent.

"The Association of Commerce is not conducting a crime crusade. We didn't choose to get into this, but we were forced into it when a construction foreman was shot out on the Midway. We will work through other agencies organized for specific purposes such as the combating of bombing. We will resort to no extralegal methods and any talk of vigilants is ridiculous.

Praises Police Force.

"Our police department is functioning admirably. Recently I attended a banquet given by the CHICAGO TRIBUNE to 150 hero policemen who had advanced under fire and got their man and proved faithful to their trust. Those policemen don't stoop to dirty money.

"Yet we know people are paying $6 for a 50 cent pint of booze and the difference is distributed all along the line. We are not fighting booze, but we are fighting the hoodlums who make corrupt alliances with politics.

"We want to make Chicago a place where an honest man can transact honest business and we don't believe the way to do it is to hide our crime. You men are in a position to disseminate the news of Chicago's virtues and you may say: 'Let him who is without sin cast the first stone.'"

WOMAN AND GIRL MEET DEATH IN TWO TRAGEDIES

A woman and a girl met spectacular deaths yesterday, the woman in a leap from the 20th floor of the Hotel Sherman, the girl under the wheels of an elevated train at the 63d street station. Neither the police nor the coroner were able to determine last night whether the elevated tragedy was suicidal or accidental.

Note Tells Suicide Motive.

A note left by Mrs. Louise Rychtik, 45 years old, 4826 W. 24th place, indicated that she had been grieving over a divorce granted her husband a week ago and that she ended her life by leaping from the hotel window, fearing she was losing her mind. Her body was found on the roof of the office building adjoining the hotel annex on the west.

The note, written in Bohemian, and a bottle containing veronal were found in the room which the woman had engaged the previous night. There was evidence that Mrs. Rychtik had made the fatal leap between 4 o'clock and 5:30 o'clock in the morning. An inquest will be held this morning at the Western Casket company, 226 West Randolph street.

Hold Inquest on Girl.

A coroner's jury in the case of Miss Catherine Penley, 17 year old cashier in a loop restaurant, who was killed by an elevated train, was unable to determine whether death was accidental or by intention. Miss Charlotte Rambler and Miss Josephine Byrne, both of 6053 Woodlawn avenue, told the police they saw the girl walk to the edge of the platform and apparently jump to the track as an Evanston express approached. Miss Penley's father, James Penley, 6236 University avenue, was certain that the girl must have fallen on the tracks, as there was no motive for suicide.

Bert Wilkinson, 6022 Calumet avenue, a conductor for the elevated, risked his life by jumping down in an effort to stop the train before it struck the girl.

SEEK FUNDS TO PRESS HUNT FOR JUSTICE FERON

Plans to raise funds to carry on a search for James M. Feron, missing Oak Park police magistrate, were made last night at a meeting in the office of C. H. Crysler, president of the village. Attorney Robert E. Cantwell Jr. was named chairman of the Oak Park division of the citizens' loyalty committee which will raise the funds.

J. Edward Jones, Feron's opponent in the coming election, charged yesterday that the missing justice was hiding in Chicago's loop, and the officials of Oak Park were aware of this, despite the fact that Chief of Police Barsema sent two men to Milwaukee to investigate after it had been reported that Feron was in a sanitarium there as a result of a nervous breakdown.

WEBER AND WIFE MAKE UP; SHE'LL STUMP FOR HIM

Divorce Action Against Legislator Dropped.

Mrs. Eleanor Weber yesterday dropped her divorce suit against her husband, State Representative Charles H. Weber of the Sixth district, and announced she would take the stump for him in his campaign for the offices of county commissioner and Democratic committeeman of the Forty-fifth ward. The reconciliation was effected Sunday after Weber had invited government agents and police to investigate charges made in her suit that he was making $100,000 a year from gambling and liquor activities.

In her bill filed last Thursday in the Superior court Mrs. Weber alleged that her husband operated a brewery at 2922 Southport avenue, a gambling house and a speakeasy next door, and a roadhouse on Irving Park boulevard. She listed among his possessions an 800 acre estate at Mercer, Wis.; a yacht, two speedboats, one Rolls-Royce automobile, one Minerva automobile, five Lincoln automobiles, and several other cars. She charged him with misconduct with several women, naming a Miss Emma Sprague.

The Webers Make Up.

Immediately after the suit was filed Weber asked government agents and police to inspect the premises. They found no evidence of violations of the law, and Weber telephoned his wife and asked her to permit him to see her. At this meeting he explained that he had not taken Miss Sprague on a European tour or made expensive presents to women friends, as she charged in her bill.

She accepted his offer and returned to their old home at 2924 Southport avenue, at the same time instructing her attorney, Sarsfield Collins, to withdraw her divorce bill.

She'll Stump for Him.

"It was all a misunderstanding," Mrs. Weber said. "I am very sorry it all happened. I am going to make up for it by going out and helping my husband to be elected county commissioner and anything else he wants to be."

The Webers were married on April 4, 1925, at Waukegan and separated on Dec. 31, 1928. Weber was co-author of the Weber-O'Grady bill for a referendum on repeal of the state prohibition law which passed the house but was defeated in the senate.

CERMAK MOVES TO SEEK UNITY OF GOVERNMENTS

Favors Plan as Means of Reducing Waste.

A definite step toward unification of the governments of Cook county, the city of Chicago, the sanitary district, and the various park boards was taken yesterday when President Cermak of the county board announced that he would call a meeting of a subcommittee of the Democratic county committee to start action toward calling a charter convention to effect the consolidation of local governmental agencies.

President Cermak and representatives of other governing bodies of the county saw in the proposal for their consolidation a solution to the many financial and allied problems which now confront them. Leaders of both parties are in sympathy with the project as the only means of eliminating duplication of effort in the county and its attendant waste of public funds.

Cermak Gives Opinion.

"Two-thirds of the tax troubles of the county are due to overlapping jurisdictions and duplications of service," Mr. Cermak said. "In the first place it is bad management to have three large park districts, with two of their boards appointed by the governor and the other by the Circuit judges, and twenty-one other park districts in the city with elective boards. On top of that, we have the small parks and playgrounds under city control.

"Then there are twenty-one other park districts in the county beside the forest preserve district. In all there are 205 elected park commissioners, besides fifteen forest preserve commissioners. One board should be able to handle all park, playground, and forest preserve business.

"Certainly the county board should take over the job of administering the sanitary district. The district is in Cook county, but it does not include all the county.

"Whether the city should take over the county or the county take over the city is a proper matter for discussion. As a Democrat, I'm not interested in adding Republican territory to a Democratic city, but that could be worked out.

Matter for Legislation.

"The proposition should be brought to the attention of the legislature. I believe constitutional amendments would be necessary before there could be unification of the various governing bodies. Committees should be appointed to make a study of the idea and prepare a workable program."

H. W. Elmore, president of the sanitary district, gave views which were in accord with those of Mr. Cermak and expressed a willingness to work toward bringing about a consolidation of the governing bodies.

"I am in favor of any consolidation of the local governing bodies that will assist in operating the government satisfactorily with a saving to the taxpayers," Mr. Elmore said. "By centralizing the government and making one administration do the work of several, much of the tax burden would be lifted."

Bundesen Favors Plan.

Coroner Bundesen saw in the proposal for consolidation a method of increasing governmental efficiency by doing away with unnecessary duplication of work.

"The time is here when all industries and business are finding that amalgamations bring about more efficient service at less cost of operation," Dr. Bundesen said. "Wherever more than one governing body is doing the same thing there is a needless waste of the public money. Under the present system, the city and the county are constantly duplicating their work in inspections, for one instance. Under one government, only one inspection would be necessary, in any branch of the government. I'm heartily in favor of any movement for consolidation that will save the public's money."

John Bain, south park commissioner, said he believed that a consolidation, properly administered, would reduce governmental expense by making the work of levying, collecting, and distributing taxes much easier and more efficient than at present. The details of unification would have to be considered carefully, he pointed out, to prevent any favoritism for any particular section of the county, through over representation on the governing board.

Would Necessitate Annexation.

The unification plan is that of making the city coextensive with the county limits, necessitating the annexation of all cities and villages in the county to Chicago. The Circuit, Superior, County and Probate courts would not be affected by a such a change, and such officials as the coroner, sheriff, county treasurer, assessors, reviewers, state's attorney and county clerk would continue to perform their same functions. Executive authorities might be vested in a mayor and board of aldermen, or a president and a board of commissioners, combining the duties of the executive branches of the county and the municipal government. Police magistrates, justices of the peace and Municipal courts would become part of one judicial system.

Chicago now has an area of 210 square miles and the county 933 square miles. For 1930 operation and payment of debts the city has appropriated $55,282,657, the school board, $101,786,408; the county, $46,177,729, and the sanitary district, approximately $46,000,000. All of this would be pooled by unification.

Chicago Girl on Way to Stardom

Picked for Role

Irene Delroy, blue eyed blonde, who once attended Hyde Park High school and later danced in the Chicago Civic Opera company and Broadway revues, stopped in the home town between trains yesterday, en route from New York to Hollywood, to play in Warner Brothers pictures. She is five feet two inches talls, weighs 113 pounds, and told the photographers she was "awfully intellectual." In her first picture, "See Naples and Die," she will play opposite Charles King.

Policeman Saves Farmer, About to End Life in Lake

990 Auto Drivers Get Tickets as Drive Opens

Traffic policemen handed out 990 tickets for violations of the motor laws in the central business district yesterday, the first day of the new drive to make motorists observe traffic regulations. Failure to halt when the red signal showed brought tickets to 115 drivers, and 20 others received tickets for not stopping at through streets. The remainder were tagged for running through safety zones, parking in restricted areas, for not having license plates, and for other violations.

TAFT, SLIGHTLY IMPROVED, MAY LIVE SOME DAYS

Life Span, However, Held Very Uncertain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—The condition of William Howard Taft continued slightly improved today and it is possible that the former President and chief justice will linger on for several days.

Following their evening call, the attending physicians said that Mr. Taft was still holding his own and that unless he had a sudden relapse his span of life for the present is indeterminate.

Asked to amplify this statement, the two physicians simply stated that it was impossible to say how long the patient would live. It might be several days, they said, or he might die in a few hours.

Robert A. Taft, son of the former chief justice, took advantage of the slight gain showed by his father over the week-end to leave this evening for Cincinnati where he expects to remain for the next two or three days.

Son Sees Improvement.

"There has been a marked improvement in my father's condition since I arrived Friday," the young man said, when he emerged from the red brick Taft residence at 6 o'clock this evening. "Unless an unexpected relapse develops he may live for some time."

Dr. Thomas A. Claytor and Dr. Francis R. Hagner, the Taft physicians, spent half an hour with the distinguished jurist tonight and later issued an official bulletin stating that there had been no change in the condition of the former chief justice since this morning.

"Mr. Taft is still holding on to the improvement noted Saturday," Dr. Hagner said, when asked for further details. "That is all we can say. He recognized members of the family and smiled a greeting when Dr. Claytor and I arrived this evening."

Unable to Speak Today.

That Mr. Taft is still in a critical condition was shown by the admission of the physicians that he had not spoken today. Before the improvement made by the patient Saturday the distinguished jurist had been unable to talk to members of his family. On Saturday, however, he not only recognized Mrs. Taft and their son, Robert, but spoke to the physicians.

All attempts to persuade either Dr. Claytor or Dr. Hagner to predict how long Mr. Taft might be able to last were evaded by the two physicians.

GREEN PAJAMAS OF GOVERNOR BRING A CRISIS

New Orleans, La., March 3.—[Special.]—Attaches of the German Republic took umbrage here yesterday at a pair of green gubernatorial pajamas, demanded an apology, got it, and then fired a salute of twenty-one guns in honor of Gov. Long of Louisiana. The apology came after twenty-four hours of diplomatic strain.

Sunday morning the governor received Commander Lothar Von Arnauld of the German cruiser Emden here for the Mardi Gras carnival, and Rolf L. Jaeger, German consul in New Orleans. The governor wore green silk pajamas, a red and blue dressing gown, and blue bedroom slippers. They chatted and left. But the consul informed a colonel on the governor's staff that an apology was due.

"The governor's raiment was an insult," he said.

Anxious to avoid any unpleasantness, the governor agreed to pay a visit to the cruiser and apologize to the commander and the consul. The governor was in formal morning attire, most of the accessories of which he borrowed from friends. One friend who promised to bring a silk hat failed to show up, so the governor took his own gray fedora and carried it in his hand.

SHIP WITH 38 ABOARD FLASHES S O S FOR HELP

Seattle, Wash., March 3.—(AP)—An S O S call and a brief message that shifting cargo had caused her to list flashed today from the freighter Bellingham, south of the Aleutian islands, followed by several hours silence as radio stations here awaited further word tonight.

A crew of 38, including 32 white men and six Chinese, was aboard the Tacoma-Orient Steamship company freighter, which left Tacoma Feb. 14 with lumber and other cargo for Yokohama and Manila. Capt. W. R. Brust is master.

Leaps from Third Floor of Hospital; Only Hurt

Leaping from a third story window of the Illinois Masonic hospital last evening, Herbert Lirzen, 31 years old, a railway clerk of 4452 Drake avenue, escaped with a bruised shoulder and lacerated cheek when he landed in a plot of grass. Litzen was under treatment for a nervous disorder.

HOOVER'S HEALTH SAID TO BE BETTER THAN WHEN HE TOOK OFFICE

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(AP)—As his first year in the White House comes to a close tomorrow, friends of President Hoover find him in better health than when on last March 4 he assumed office.

The chief executive's close personal associates remark the vigor with which he attacks alike the multitudinous tasks of office and the morning medicine ball exercise.

Throughout the year President Hoover has maintained a rigorously regular working schedule. He is at his office at 9 o'clock in the morning. He takes off an hour for lunch, returns to his office and remains until 6 or 6:30 p. m.

The medicine ball game, one the President and his friends have invented, is played with a four pound ball, somewhat on the order of volley ball.

With the returning spring, the President is looking forward to resumption of his week-end trips to the summer camp in the Blue Ridge mountains.

BUILDERS DENY WAGE INCREASE TO IRON WORKERS

Declaring that wage scales for Chicago building trades mechanics have reached the peak, E. M. Craig, executive secretary of the Building Construction Employers' association, announced last night that Chicago builders had rejected demands presented yesterday by the bridge and structural iron workers' union for a wage increase from $1.62½ to $1.75 an hour.

"Builders throughout the nation are striving to revive construction, as it is recognized as the barometer of national prosperity," said Mr. Craig.

"The tendency of today is to reduce labor costs in building. Further wage increases will curtail building, benefit the small minority now employed, and automatically add to the number of men on the unemployment bench. The standard of living costs and the economic structure of the present time absolutely warrant no increase."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 3.—The sudden rise of the river Agout was reported tonight to have taken a toll of twenty lives in the town of Casters, near Toulouse.

At 8 o'clock tonight the flood waters came down on the village, overflowed the quay, and spread into the streets. Several were swept to death on bridges when the water mounted three feet in less than twenty minutes. Others who sought refuge on the upper floors of old houses near the river bank were lost when the buildings collapsed. The rest of the town was in a panic, with most of the people rushing for the hills.

Damage Reported Huge.

The floods of the rivers Tarn, Aude, Hersult, Orb, Correze, Aveyron, Garonne, and Loire subjected central and southwestern France to the worst menace since 1875. Aside from the disaster at Castres, eight were reported dead and millions of francs' damage to property, live stock, and vineyards.

In Lacaze only the spire of the old Romanesque church is visible. At Lavaur a hundred old houses crumbled into the flood waters as cathedral bells warned the rest to take to the hills.

Four Others Drown.

A boarding school for girls at Saint Antonin was completely isolated by the Aveyron. Headquarters of the gendarmerie near by was also cut off. Soldiers constructed rafts and rescued a score of beleaguered girls. Two soldiers were drowned. Two of three occupants of an automobile were drowned.

NAVAL PARLEY REOPENS TODAY; IGNORES FRANCE

Envoys Disgusted with Tactics of Tardieu.

demand for 70 per cent of the big cruiser strength of the United States.

It transpires that the subject of the conversation at the meeting last night between Senator David A. Reed and Tsuneo Matsudaira was a proposition formulated by Senator Reed that the United States restrict its eight inch gun cruisers during the next five years to fifteen in consideration of Japan receding on her contention for the restriction in the size of six inch gun cruisers to 6,000 or 7,000 tons.

Await Reply from Tokio.

Mr. Matsudaira cabled this proposal to Tokio and an answer is expected by tomorrow. The United States has two eight inch gun 10,000 ton cruisers already completed, is building ten others and has provided for the consumation of eleven others, making 23 in all.

In Mr. Stimson's proposal to Great Britain America was to have 18 eight inch gun cruisers and Great Britain 15, with the proviso that Great Britain could go to 18 if she reduced her small cruiser tonnage, and America could increase her small cruiser allowance if she went down to 15 eight inch gun ships.

Japan Proposes Alternative.

Japan, which now has 12 eight inch gun cruisers, aggregating 108,000 tons, either built or building, has demanded 14 such ships, aggregating 126,000 tons, if America is to have 18 ships, totaling 180,000 tons. This would give Japan 70 per cent of the tonnage of the United States in this class of ships.

Alternatively, Japan has proposed to retain her present big cruiser tonnage, without adding to it, if America would exercise her option of restricting her eight inch gun cruisers to 15, which would give Japan 72 per cent. It is this alternative proposal that Senator Reed has acceded to conditionally for the five year period of the treaty.

It is understood that this arrangement would not preclude America building up to 18 ships after the expiration of the agreement. It would preclude, however, the attainment in the next five years of even such an approximate to parity between America and Great Britain in cruiser fleets as contemplated in the Stimson proposals.

Cause of Geneva Fiasco.

President Hoover originally held out for a cruiser parity arrangement, based on 21 eight inch guns for America to 15 for Great Britain, on the ground that an American preponderance of six eight inch gun ships of wide cruising radius is necessary to offset America's lack of outlying naval bases, such as enable Great Britain to rely on small cruisers with short radius of action.

If Japan accepts the Reed proposal, America will be called upon to surrender, for the period of the treaty, eight of the eight inch gun cruisers provided for by the last congress, and accept the precise terms of the British proposal at the Geneva conference of 1927. These terms were to limit America and Great Britain to 15 eight inch gun ships each. It was the refusal of former President Coolidge to accept these terms that caused the failure of that conference.

Would Raise Japan's Ratio.

The Reed proposition also establishes the precedent of allowing Japan 70 per cent of the American naval strength instead of the 60 per cent which Japan accepted at the Washington conference in consideration of America foregoing the development of naval bases in the western Pacific.

The condition in the Reed proposition represents the attacks by the American delegation on the position of both Japan and Great Britain who are contending for the restriction of the size of six inch gun cruisers to 6,000 or 7,000 tons. The object of this proposal is to circumvent the building by the United States of six inch gun cruisers up to 10,000 tons, thereby providing such ships with far wider steaming radius than Great Britain's and Japan's small cruisers.

U. S. Envoy Bears Message from Briand to Navy Meet

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 3.—After a long talk with Foreign Minister Briand, American Ambassador Edge left tonight for London to confer with American Secretary of State Stimson.

Neither the ambassador nor the French foreign minister was willing to indicate what was discussed, but it is reported from French sources that the security pact which the French are demanding got considerable attention. It is evident that if Mr. Edge had any momentous communication to make he undoubtedly would have talked to Premier Tardieu.

Tardieu to Visit MacDonald.

Premier Tardieu announced tonight that he is going to London Saturday and will spend the week-end with Prime Minister MacDonald at Chequers. He will return here Monday. He is confident that Sunday he and Mr. MacDonald will succeed in getting the negotiations of the French and English past the dead center, where they seem to be now. Count Réné de Massigli flew over from London today to prepare for the conversation at Chequers.

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared it is evident that unless the new ministry makes some terrible blunder or is betrayed by some of the left members it could conceivably last until the 1932 elections, assuming that Raymond Poincare would not want to take it over in the meantime.

Concentrates on Budget.

But Premier Tardieu made it clear today that until the budget is voted he will not leave Paris again lest there be a mutiny in the ranks. It is apparent that he intends to accept the finance commission's amendment to his budget providing for a number of important reductions in taxes and that the left will collaborate by sending it to the senate by March 15. Then Premier Tardieu will be free to go back to London. He figures things ought to be about ripe then, anyway.

That the new government will get a 40 vote majority Wednesday in the chamber was the prediction of Paul Painleve in the chamber corridors today, and M. Painleve is one of the pillars of the left opposition.

HOOVER ANXIOUS

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 3. — Ambassador Edge arrived in London at 11 o'clock tonight. Tomorrow he will confer with Secretary of State Stimson and the other members of the United States naval delegation.

Mr. Edge declined to discuss his conversation today with M. Briand. I am reliably informed, however, that his visit here has been prompted by President Hoover's anxiety that the naval conference reach some result so that the administration will have something to show in the foreign field, and is the result of conversations at Washington between the White House and the French embassy. It is understood that the President, in these conversations, urged the French envoy to stress the importance to the Paris government of the necessity for making every effort to reach a successful conclusion to the present naval negotiations.

HAULS PEST DIRT TO FORD PLANT, RAILROAD FINED

Trenton, N. J., March 3.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad company was fined $1,400 today in the United States District court for transporting seven carloads of "soil dirt" without the proper certification they did not contain infection from the Asiatic and Japanese beetles.

The dirt was shipped recently from the site of the old Edison laboratories, Menlo Park, to the Henry Ford plant in Detroit in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of the invention by Thomas A. Edison of the incandescent lamp.

R. W. Sherman, United States department of agriculture agent, charged that many larvæ and grubs of the pests were discovered in the soil and that the case was one of the "most serious" ever brought to the attention of the Camden office.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, March 3. —(AP)—The prince of Wales is making good recovery in his bout with subtertian malaria. He is in bed in the government house here attended by physicians and nurses who have specialized in this curse of equatorial Africa.

His fever developed while the royal hunting party was in a train between Kiu and Voi Friday night, and it wasn't until early Sunday morning that the party arrived at Nairobi.

6 OUT OF 7 CITY ELECTIONS WON BY MAINE G. O. P.

Portland, Me., March 3.—(AP)—Marked by a sweeping victory in the city of Lewiston, long the Democratic stronghold in Maine, Republicans today placed their candidates in office in six of the seven Maine cities holding municipal elections.

The lone Democratic victory was indicated by returns from Waterville, which gave Mayor F. Harold Dubord a majority of 1,322 voces over his Republican opponent, A. Raymond Rogers.

Lewiston, Bath, Eastport, Saco, Ellsworth, and South Portland elected Republican mayors and governments. The tickets were uncontested in the last three cities.

In Lewiston, where the state Democratic convention will be held this month, Harold N. Skelton, Republican, defeated former Mayor Charles P. Lemaire in the largest vote ever cast in the city. Skelton polled 4,970; Lemaire, 3,759.

No other refrigerator costs as little to use as Electrolux

Why is Electrolux the only automatic refrigerator that is absolutely silent?

The explanation is simple. Electrolux is the only one that has no machinery, no moving parts at all. Machinery requires power. Where you have machinery you're bound to have some wear, some noise, and considerable expense for power to turn the machinery.

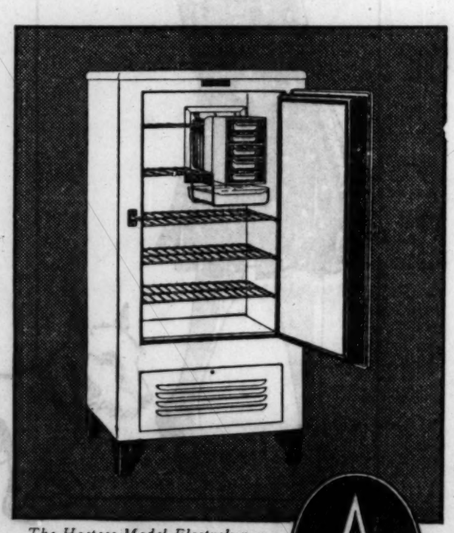
In Electrolux a tiny gas flame and a trickle of water do all the work. Gas and water are relatively inexpensive, and very little of each is required. That is why the operating cost is only a few cents a day! Perfect Automatic Refrigeration with Electrolux is cheaper than ice—costs less than carfare.

The way this refrigerator works is as simple to understand as the boiling of water in a tea kettle. The tiny gas flame vaporizes the liquid refrigerant. The trickle of water condenses the refrigerant back into liquid form again. This natural, endless cycle keeps your refrigerator cold, freezes ice cubes and desserts. The low temperature in Electrolux is constant because Electrolux doesn't have to stop and start. It works all the time.

Because no moving parts are necessary in Electrolux, it is absolutely silent in operation. You can't hear any machinery even if you press your ear close against this refrigerator. There isn't any to hear.

There's nothing to need your attention, to grow noisy as time goes on, to ever wear out. The liquid refrigerant is sealed inside a rigid one-piece steel unit. It never needs renewal. Even the little gas flame is guarded every minute by an automatic shut-off. No gas can flow unless the flame is lighted.

See this modern marvel at our display rooms before you buy any other form of automatic refrigeration. Prices no higher, size for size, than those of other automatic refrigerators. $195 to $490, according to model needed. Purchase terms are very liberal. Complete illustrated information sent if you will return coupon below.



The Hostess Model Electrolux, a roomy refrigerator for average families, $265 installed. Five cubic feet of food space; makes 45 large ice cubes.

QUICK FACTS!

1. Permanently noiseless.
2. Absolutely safe.
3. Only a few cents a day to operate.
4. Lasts indefinitely.
5. No mechanism to wear, to vibrate, to need oil.
6. Free from trouble.
7. Perpetual, steady cold.
8. Plenty of pure ice cubes.

DECISION CLEARS GRANDMOTHER SEX AUTHORESS

U. S. Court Reverses Fine and Sentence.

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett, the Brooklyn grandmother who wrote a pamphlet called "The Sex Side of Life" for the instruction of her children and who was fined and sentenced to prison for sending it through the mails, was exonerated today by the federal Court of Appeals.

In a decision written by Judge Augustus N. Hand and concurred in unanimously by his two colleagues, Mrs. Dennett's conviction was reversed. No retrial was ordered.

Informed of this, Mrs. Dennett said she would begin mailing her booklet as soon as she had received officially the notification of the court's decision.

Decision Is Surprise.

"I certainly didn't expect this decision," Mrs. Dennett said. "I rather thought the higher court would send the case back to the lower courts to be retried. It's a relief to be able to attend to your own affairs again after more than a year of governmental blunders."

In the decision Judge Hand wrote: "No case was made for submission to the jury, and the judgment must therefore be reversed." That was in comment upon the action of Judge Warren W. Burrows, who presided at the trial of Mrs. Dennett ten months ago.

Mrs. Dennett's fine of $300 and her sentence of a year are automatically voided by the decision. The specific offense charged against her was the sending of a copy of "The Sex Side of Life" to Mrs. C. A. Miles in Grottoes, Va. At the time of her trial a great furore was made for and against her by women's societies, liberal organizations, and others.

Used by Y. W. C. A.

The pamphlet has been sent out by the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Epworth league, and such bodies.

In discussing the introduction to the pamphlet, Judge Hand pointed out the author explained sex life in detail, both physiologically and emotionally.

"It negatives the idea sex impulse in itself is a base passion and treats it as normal and its satisfaction as a great and justifiable joy when accompanied by love between two human beings."

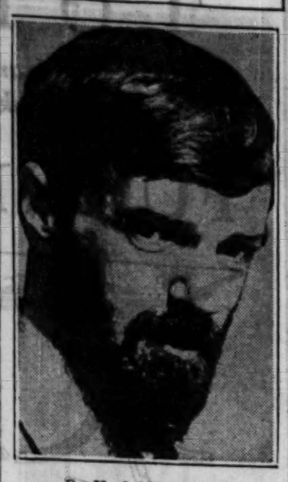
AUTHOR DIES



D. H. LAWRENCE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NICE, France, March 3.—David Herbert Lawrence, English novelist and poet, died at the Maison Blanche, a private sanitarium at Vence, a suburb of Nice, early this morning of tuberculosis. He will be buried in Venice tomorrow. Mr. Lawrence, who rose into prominence in literary circles shortly before the war, was a poet and painter as well as a novelist of some distinction.

At nearly every turn of his career Mr. Lawrence was confronted with opposition from various societies for the suppression of vice, who made militant efforts to keep his books from distribution. Among the better known of his works are "Women in Love," "Sons and Lovers," "The Prussian Officer," "Essays in American Literature," and "Lady Chatterly's Lover." The latter book was privately printed in 1928 and was a literary sensation for some time.

Mr. Lawrence was born Sept. 11, 1885, at Eastwood, Nottingham, England. He attended Nottingham university. In 1914 he married Frieda Von Richthofen. They had no children.

PLANE WRECK MAY BE THAT OF LOST LINER

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—[Special.]—Wreckage which foot searchers partially identified, through glasses, as that of a Western Air Express trimotored passenger plane, overdue from Kingman, Ariz., since Feb. 23, was found today, against the sides of a box canyon in the San Bernardino mountains 20 miles from Lake Arrowhead.

Horseback parties left for the scene to learn the fate of the crew of three. Pilot James Doles, co-pilot Albert Bieber, and Steward John Slaton were aboard the twelve passenger Fokker monoplane when it flew into a blinding blizzard late on Sunday night, Feb. 23.

According to a report made by J. T. Barber, rancher in the Arrowhead section, he located the ship by field glasses and saw that the wreckage was burned, but Barber said he was unable to penetrate the wild section.

THREE LAWYERS INDICTED AS JUROR BRIBERS

Said to Have Paid $300 to Defeat Verdict.

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Three prominent members of the New York bar, Arthur Sager, Joseph Shalleck and Edward Reynolds, were indicted by the federal grand jury today on charges of bribery, conspiracy and obstructing justice following a two weeks' investigation of the Utah Lead mail fraud trial in which the three attorneys named were of counsel for the defense.

The indictment handed up to Judge Warren Burrows contained eight counts against the three defendants, and named John Cruz, the juror who held out for acquittal alone for twenty-seven hours, and Murray Wechsler, a court bailiff in attendance at the trial, as material and necessary witnesses.

Say Juror Confessed.

Briefly the indictment charges that Sager, Shalleck and Reynolds gave John Cruz over $300 and promised him other reward "with intent to influence the action, vote, opinion and decision of Cruz" as a juror in the mail trial, and with "intent to cause him to determine therein unfavorably to the United States questions and matters which would come before him for determination as such juror."

"After this trial," said United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, "we questioned Cruz and he speedily made a confession to the judge and myself. He has been out of work for months, and had been evicted, and had become destitute and unable to support himself and his family. During the trial he accepted over $300 to 'hang the jury.' Most of this money he still had at home in a trunk and that money is now in my safe.

Couldn't Speak English.

Cruz, it developed during the inquiry, could not speak English. One of the features of the grand jury investigation was an anonymous letter from a woman who said she had been one of several law clerks and stenographers who had been entertained in a night club by the employé of a law office who had told them of the details of the "fixing of the Utah Lead jury."

The defendants were accused of operating a nation-wide stock swindle through the medium of a financial publication. A remark by Cruz that he "didn't know what it was all about" led to an investigation of the hung jury, and the discovery that Cruz had taken $300 to hold out for acquittal.

Russia Masses 100,000,000 for State-Controlled Farms

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., March 3.—(AP)—"Uncle Mike," better known to the outside world as Michael Ivanovitch Kalinin, president of the central executive committee of soviet Russia, took the peasants of Voronesh familiarly into his confidence today and told them all about the government's decision to convert Russia into a vast area of state-controlled collective farms.

His speech was a remarkable one. President of the highest official body in the soviet union, and himself a sturdy son of the soil, he straightforwardly declared to his peasant hearers "We have begun to remake man." In doing this, he declared, the government could no longer allow the peasants to labor unproductively on their farms, or to waste their time in useless pursuits.

"Best for the Masses."

Therefore, communist authorities had decided to mobilize the bulk of the country's 100,000,000 farmers on more productive collective farms, where labor and its fruits would be allotted equally to all toilers.

"If we succeed in attaining our goal of collectivization, no power on earth will be able to undermine or destroy us," he asserted.

Kalinin is the intimate medium of contact between the peasantry and the government, and his address, following upon the warning Joseph Stalin made yesterday against too hasty progress toward collectivism, shows with what earnestness the communists are directing their agrarian campaign.

"In this process of collectivizing our farms and suppressing the kulaks (peasant proprietors) we should be considered to have no human feelings, if we said such a drastic transformation carried with it no individual sufferings and misfortunes. But we know that this move is best for the masses. Therefore, we cannot allow individual sufferings to influence us.

Must Exterminate Kulaks.

"However harsh and painful the extermination of the kulaks may seem, it is absolutely necessary, because it insures the healthy development of the collective farm organism, and fortifies us against great expenditure of human lives in the future.

"If the peasants on these collective farms work out and carry into effect a good production and financial plan, each of them will receive his quarter of a pound of meat daily, but if they fail in this, then God help them to get their bread.

"Until we have attained complete communism there can be no real equality. We have not yet reached that stage of development when each worker receives for his equal share of labor and equal share of products. Under real communism each man will work conscientiously and loyally. Not to work will be considered as abnormal as for a man to go into the street naked."

Sees Peasant Destroying Rule.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, March 3.—The mystical inert Russian peasant is still deeply religious, and the time is approaching when peasantry will revolt and destroy bolshevism, according to Archbishop John Pommers, head of the Orthodox church of Latvia.

The archbishop thinks the present Union of Soviet Socialist Republics will revolve into a United States of Russia, predicting that the Communist régime will leave just as few effects upon Russians as the two centuries under the Tartar yoke, which failed to convert a single Russian to Mohammedism.

"Denials of the soviet government that Christianity is being persecuted in Russia is pure bluff," said Msgr. John. "Persecution for the last 13 years in Russia has been more terrible than the stories handed down to us about the early Christian martyrs. Through attempting to destroy religion, communism is destroying itself."

Chaplain Defies British Order.

LONDON, March 3.—(AP)—At least one army chaplain will defy the government order issued Friday against praying on behalf of the Russians who are being persecuted because of their religion. He is Dr. John Carlile, former president of the Baptist union. Carlile disavows any political hostility to the government, but he thinks the anti-prayer order "a colossal blunder and an offense to free churches."

He is determined to offer prayers March 16 for the Russian people.

Two bishops of the Church of England, while complying with the Archbishop of York's request that special reference should be made to the alleged persecution of Christians in Russia, yesterday stressed the danger of arousing nationalistic feeling. They were the Rt. Rev. H. H. Henson, bishop of Durham, and the Rt. Rev. Dr. Henry Williams, bishop of Carlisle.

Try Rabbi on Wheat Charge.

MOSCOW, March 3.—[Jewish Telegraphic Agency.]—The Kharvok newspaper Shtern said today that the Jewish rabbi of Nevzlatopol would go on trial soon on charges of hiding wheat in his house. Another group of workers in the Vinnitza region reported they had discovered more than 100 gold rings hidden in the synagogues, and many silver articles, which they had taken because they belonged to private Jews who hid them to avoid paying debts. Seventeen more synagogues were closed this week in Ukrainian towns, including Belotzerkov, Balta, Heisin, and Olevsk.

This famous treatment

With both hands make a rich lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Work this tenderly into the skin, till you can actually feel it releasing the hidden accumulations.

Then rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Allow the rinse water to cool to icy temperature in the morning. This acts as a refreshing astringent.

Now—you are ready for creams, powder, make-up!

Consult your expert

Today, the beauty specialist has achieved professional standing. She knows what is best for you individually. She has studied and practiced the art of cosmetics. Take her your beauty problems. And listen to her advice: Use Palmolive for bath as well as face. The results will more than delight you.

DENEEN CALLS WORLD COURT A G. O. P. POLICY

Defends His Vote for It in First Speech.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lawrenceville, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—Senator Charles S. Deneen opened his campaign today with seven speeches on the world court issue in seven Wabash valley counties.

"Party regularity" was the underlying note of the senator's defense of the court for which he cast a vote in the senate in 1926. The stage now seems set to develop the Illinois Republican primaries April 8 into one of the leading battles over the question of adherence, which President Hoover has declared he will submit to the senate at the present session or the next.

Ruth Hanna McCormick, Mr. Deneen's leading opponent for the Republican nomination, has been stressing opposition to the world court as a sort of back porch of the league of nations.

Rates Court Issue Second.

Ex-Senator James Hamilton Lewis, a candidate for the Democratic nomination, already is making the court one of his chief issues, rating it second only to the question of Volsteadism and declaring it is an effort by Europe to drag America into the European war scheme.

The same issue raised against the late Senator William B. McKinley, who voted for the court, was held most largely responsible for his defeat in 1926 by Frank L. Smith.

In devoting his opening day to the theme of the court Senator Deneen declared that Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt, Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover have favored a world court and it has been indorsed in the national platforms of the Republican party in 1912, 1916, 1924, and 1928.

"I am a Republican," said Senator Deneen. "These were Republican policies and declarations of the national Republican party.

"Some reproach me with party regularity. I've been accused of being a standpatter, a mossback, and a conservative. I believe in being a Republican if elected as a Republican. I support Hoover because he is a Republican. I supported the Coolidge policies because he is a Republican. In the senate we have 55 Republicans, but only 34 of them support the President. The others are in coalition with the Democrats. I believe in parties and in party responsibility."

82 Counties Up on Deneen.

Senator Deneen opened his campaign this morning at Marshall in a region usually counted as Deneen, but which voted for Smith against McKinley four years ago. He spoke at Greenup, Effingham, and Newton, where he taught school forty-eight years ago after being graduated from McKendree college. Addresses at Robinson, Lawrenceville, and Olney followed, and the senator then called it a day. He plans to finish forty counties this week and to appear in each of the 101 downstate counties in the next two and a half weeks, after which he will swing into his Cook county campaign.

Mrs. McCormick has been campaigning since Jan. 12, and has almost completed her downstate tour. She now is eighty-two counties up on Mr. Deneen.

Meanwhile, Newton Jenkins is campaigning downstate as a contender in the Republican primaries. Six years ago he rolled up 115,000 votes, carried three counties, and ran second in eight others. Mr. Lewis likewise is expected to be ranging the state shortly in his campaign for the Democratic nomination.

Senator Deneen advanced the argument that the league of nations is not an issue.

Mrs. McCormick in her speeches, he said, "has asserted that the world court is an annex to the league of nations, and then has proceeded to devote considerable attention to the league of nations. The league of nations is not an issue in this campaign. The Republican majority in congress has expressed its views of the party in that regard. I am against the United States entering the league of nations, so that issue cannot be injected into this campaign."

Point Out Contradiction.

Observers pointed out an apparent contradiction when Senator Deneen in dwelling upon how the world court judges are elected indicated the contact with the league of nations, which does the electing.

"The judges of the permanent court of international justice," he said, "are elected from jurists nominated by the national groups in the court of arbitration, established at The Hague in 1899. The council and the assembly of the league of nations vote independently upon the candidates presented. To elect a judge it is necessary that he receive a majority in the council and in the assembly.

"Should the United States become a member of the world court it would, for the purpose of the election of the judges, have a vote in the council and in the assembly of the league."

Senator Quotes Letter.

Senator Deneen read a letter at his meetings purported to have been written by Mrs. McCormick to Rudolph Witte of Mendota two years ago when she was running for congressman at large. The letter speaks of Mrs. McCormick's opposition to a court with league attachments.

The Deneen argument on the world court issue contains historical phases, citations, and it is somewhat in the form of a brief. It has been printed for distribution. After citing the provision that the league of nations is to elect the judges of the world court the address argues that the decisions of the court are advisory in nature with no agency of enforcement.

WETS TAKE BIG LEAD OVER DRYS IN POSTAL VOTE

First returns from the postal referendum being taken by James C. Moreland, candidate for the Republican nomination for congress from the Seventh district, were received yesterday and showed an overwhelming wet sentiment.

Out of 232 votes cast there were only 17 for the present prohibition law. There were 117 for modification permitting the sale of light wine and beer by the government and there were 148—more than a majority—for the repeal of the present law. The woman vote was only a little drier than that of the men.

There were three political headquarters openings yesterday. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick opened her Cook county offices at 12 East Monroe street, and the Deneen sanitary district aspirants opened their headquarters at 105 West Madison with Col. Noble Brandon Judah in charge. A Cook county business men's committee opened headquarters in the Hotel La Salle for George Edmund Foss, Republican candidate for congressman at large.

At Mrs. McCormick's headquarters Alphonse Burdis, a doorman who served Mark Hanna, Mrs. McCormick's father, was again in service.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

HAITIANS BRAND U. S. HIGH CHIEF AS A DICTATOR

Demand Gen. Russell Be Recalled.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, March 3.—(AP)—Two prominent Haitian leaders, representing groups with a total membership of 500,000, in testifying before President Hoover's investigation commission today, urged the immediate recall of Brig. Gen. John H. Russell, American high commissioner, and accused him of being virtually dictator of the island republic.

They likewise asked for the dismissal of the council of state, and warned the commissioners that if the council should attempt to elect a president on April 14, without permitting popular election, a "massacre" was unavoidable.

Antoine Rigal, president of a group of seven liberal organizations, accused Gen. Russell of being virtually a dictator, and declared that President Borno was holding office illegally, the president's father being French and the constitution requiring a native born Haitian for the office.

Calls Borno Mere "Puppet."

He denounced Borno as a mere "puppet" in the hands of High Commissioner Russell and demanded the general's recall.

"We refuse to obey this dictator, who is not of our people, any longer," he said. "All officials from the president down, even judges, are nominated and put in office by executive power, which is the high commissioner. If the council of state dares to elect a president on April 14 instead of permitting a popular election, United States machine guns will sink all Haitians in blood."

Seymour Pradel, chairman of the National League for Constitutional Action, representing 150,000 Haitians, also warned the commissioners that if Haitians could not elect their own president they would not hesitate to shed their blood in protest, with "the responsibility resting on the United States."

White Kisses Negress' Hand.

He accused President Borno of having made a secret pact with Gen. Russell, which placed "American bayonets at the disposal of Borno in exchange for dictatorial powers."

William Allen White, newspaper publisher of Emporia, Kas., and member of the commission, kissed the hand of an aged Negress, who during last night's parade stopped and begged him: "Please deliver us." The crowd broke into cheers.

Arden Brooks, 18 years old, 2322 Morse avenue, Carl Hartzell, 21 years old, 1314 Devon avenue, and his brother, Gunner, 19 years old, 6744 North Maplewood avenue, were held to the grand jury yesterday under $20,000 bonds by Judge Howard Hayes in the Boy's court. They were charged with trying to extort money from Erik Boys' court. They were charged with tor. The three youths are accused of sending letters to Borg threatening to kidnap his daughter, Beatrice, 17 years old, unless he paid them $1,000.

POLICE SHOOT 2 BANDITS DEAD IN DETROIT THEATER

Reflection of Gunman's Weapon Is Target.

Detroit, Mich., March 3.—[Special.]—In the pitch blackness of the Harper theater attic a sergeant and a patrolman "shot it out" with two cracksmen at 3 o'clock this morning and killed both. Their only target was the glint of reflected light on the nickeled revolver carried by one of the thugs.

Those slain were Philip Toomey, 30, and Leo Gurbada, alias Keish, 26, both of them the possessors of long police records. They fell before the fire of Sergt. Isaac Farley and Patrolman Donald Bondy of the Chene street station.

Find Nitro-Glycerine.

Toomey and Gurbada dropped out of the ventilating shaft in which they had taken refuge and fell 15 feet through a maze of electric wiring, shot fatally.

Toomey fell on his left side. Had he fallen on his right, or had one of the police bullets struck the nitro-glycerine capsules, they would have exploded, according to explosive expert in the police department, with sufficient force to have wrecked the entire theater building, and killed or maimed every one in the structure.

In a gun battle between the officers and Gurbada, the latter fired three shots, one coming so close that Bondy's face was burned by powder.

Into Ventilating Shaft.

While Bondy was awaiting aid, Toomey and Gurbada fled from the office and climbed above the dome of the theater and into the ventilating shaft. The space between the dome and the roof resembles an attic room.

When Toomey and Gurbada were shot, they tumbled from the ventilating shaft, 15 feet above, and landed on the beams. Because of the construction of the dome, it was impossible to take the men down the stairway leading to the top of the dome.

Fire apparatus was called to cut a hole in the roof of the theater and lower tackle to pull the men out of the building. Gurbada was killed instantly and Toomey died in a hospital, 45 minutes after the shooting.

Mrs. Price Ill; Gets Delay in Trial for Fake Holdup

Mrs. Laura B. Price, charged with conspiring to defraud an insurance company in a fake jewel "holdup," was granted a continuance until April 7 by Judge Harry B. Barnett and Max Krakow, indicted with Mrs. Price and two others, were convicted Friday in Judge Miller's court.

She Is Making Her Mother Happy

"A big change came over Edna from the time I started giving her ACIDINE regularly for her sour stomach," says Mrs. Hagan of 463 First St., Brooklyn. "She likes to take ACIDINE because it tastes just like peppermint. Therefore I can give it to her regularly enough to help her. Since she's so much brighter and happier now, I want every mother, who has the same trouble as I had, to know how she can get it off her mind."

Too much acid makes grown folks suffer from biliousness and indigestion. You can imagine then, why it keeps a child's delicate little stomach so upset she has no appetite and gets puny, pale and drowsy. More than two million people are using ACIDINE regularly because it actually sweetens a sour stomach so quickly, tastes so good and costs so little. Get ACIDINE at any drug store.

...WERFUL TUG SHOWS SOLUTION OF BRIDGE EVIL

New Boat Can Tow Big Load, Duck Spans.

Cooperating with efforts to solve the open bridge problem, a local navigation firm yesterday announced the purchase of a steam tug low enough to clear the spans easily, even during the high water season. The boat has been altered in height without loss of power, seaworthiness or visibility, officials said.

The Material Service corporation, 33 North La Salle street, the owners of the tug, the Sol R. Crown, reconditioned for use here after doing duty in the Niagara river. The boat measures only 13 feet and 6 inches from the water line to the topmost part of the pilot house and is 2 feet lower than those owned by the Great Lakes Towing company of Cleveland, which caused most of the bridge openings in the closed periods last summer.

Height Is Reduced.

Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein, special assistant corporation counsel, termed the announcement "the first constructive result of the present agitation against the bridge evil."

After purchase, Harry Crown, president of the corporation, announced a foot was cut from the height of the boat at a nominal expense. The company cut one foot off the height of the pilot house, jointed the smoke stack, removed the masts, and lowered the lifeboat davits to reduce clearance. The tug has an engine of approximately 1,000 horse power, which is above the average of most of the tugs operated by Chicago companies.

The Crown is the second "bridge ducking" craft, the Material Service corporation has had built to escape adding to the bridge nuisance. Several months ago it put into service the motorship Material Service, which, with 2,500 tons of gravel aboard, can slip under the spans. The tug will be used to tow gravel barges from Lockport through the drainage canal to Chicago.

Visibility Not Affected.

When it developed that three tugs owned by the Great Lakes Towing company of Cleveland were almost the sole offenders in opening the bridges during closed hours during the high water season, the company was asked if it would replace these high boats. The company announced it would not, saying the four mile current in the Chicago river necessitated larger boats, not smaller.

Speaking of his tug, however, Mr. Crown said that it had negotiated the Niagara river, which has a current much swifter than the Chicago, with ease, could weather lake storms and had been lowered without affecting the pilothouse visibility.

IRON FIST BRINGS RESULTS; UNREST IN SPAIN SUBSIDES

MADRID, March 3.—(AP)—The government's preparations to suppress disturbances apparently had the desired effect today, for Spain was quiet. Gen. Enrique Marzo, who, as minister of the interior, is responsible for domestic welfare, asserted the whole country was tranquil.

The general strike threatened at Valencia in sympathy with Sagunto metal workers was not attempted after the authorities had taken precautions to handle any situation that might develop.

Madrid students appeared composed after receiving assurance from Gen. Marzo that students were not being singled out for police action. He told them, however, that any riotous groups parading the streets with subversive cries would be arrested, regardless of who they were.

Report De Rivera's Son in Duel.

PARIS, March 3.—(AP)—Havas dispatches from Pamplona, near the Franco-Spanish border, state that Miguel Primo de Rivera, son of the former Spanish dictator, had a duel with Capt. Rexach of the Spanish army after a violent altercation. Both were slightly wounded and separated without a reconciliation, it was reported.

COST OF TARIFF ORATORY ENTERS SENATE DEBATE

$150,000 in 7 Months, Says Federal Printer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Special.]—California and southwestern states cotton growers won a victory in the senate today, when long staple cotton—cotton of fibers over one and one-eighth inches in length—was placed on the dutiable list in the pending tariff bill at a rate of 7 cents a pound.

The amendment proposed by Senator Shortridge [Rep., Cal.] to take long staple cotton from the free list was adopted by a vote of 49 to 32.

The proposal was vigorously fought by Senator Hebert [Rep., R. I.] and other New England senators who warned that imposition of duties on long staple cotton, imported principally from Egypt and Peru, would inevitably result in a sharp increase in the price to the consumer of the finished products, and would force the senate to reopen the entire cotton schedule.

Senator Harrison [Dem., Miss.] pointed out that long staple cotton was used principally in the manufacture of automobile tire fabric.

Smoot Springs Oratory Cost.

During the afternoon Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the finance committee, made public an analysis of the Congressional Record between Sept. 9, 1929, when the tariff bill was reported to the senate, and Feb. 25, disclosing that the seven months' squabbling had cost the taxpayers $150,000.

A total of 2,638 pages of the Record between the two dates is devoted to senatorial debate on the tariff, and at the rate of $50 a page, without considering the cost of inserting countless tabulations, graphs, charts and maps, the printing alone cost the treasury $131,900. Officials at the government printing office estimate the cost of printing the Record at $50 a page, where no tables or maps are included, and from $55 to $65 a page where such material is inserted in a senator's remarks.

Summary of Orator Marathon.

Democratic senators, according to Smoot's analysis, filled 1,108 of the 2,638 pages; regular Republicans, 791½ pages, and radical Republicans, 738½ pages. Based on estimates by the official reporters of debate that each page in the Record represents approximately twelve minutes of debate, the tariff bill has occupied a total of 527 hours of the senate's time in the last seven months, with Democratic senators consuming 221 hours, or 42 per cent of the total; regular Republicans, 158 hours, or 30 per cent, and radical Republicans, 148 hours, or 28 per cent.

CENSORS MEET, HEAR CRITICISM OF CENSORSHIP

Yarrow Supporters Told It Is Dangerous.

The censors of the wares sold by Chicago booksellers found themselves censured in their own meeting of the Illinois Vigilance association yesterday. They had gathered at the Hotel La Salle for their 22d annual conference. The occasion also served to vindicate their leader, the Rev. Philip Yarrow, who was recently discharged by Judge Immenhausen on a citation for contempt of court. The Rev. Mr. Yarrow has caused the arrest of several book dealers for the sale of alleged obscene literature.

Dr. Louis L. Mann of Sinai temple, initial speaker of a three hour program, attacked narrow censorship as "historically the arch enemy of art, science, and morality." He said that the middle ages were not creative because of severe censorship, and called the "history of censorship a history of stupidity."

Prefers None to Rigid Rule.

"If I had to choose," Dr. Mann declared, "between the two extremes—a rigid censorship on the one hand and no censorship on the other—I would unhesitatingly choose no censorship.

"Too much censorship plays into the hands of the fanatics, even as no censorship plays into the hands of the libertine. Censorship presents a conflict between two principles, the one social control and the other personal liberty.

"Social control is necessary and we must realize the importance of creating the proper environment and the necessity of something parallel to the pure food law for healthy mindedness and the effect of salacious and obscene literature on the young. On the other hand, censorship carries with it grave dangers. It advertises and popularizes unfortunate books and thereby frequently defeats its purpose."

Says Classics Were Censored.

Dr. Mann then asked if people are wise enough to select wise censors, even if such could be found. He answered his own question by declaring that "many of the great classics were censored in their own day, and but for liberty and tolerance might have been lost."

Judge Harry Olson declared an organization of the type of the Vigilance association must be well led, especially in court. The court often has to deal with misguided reformers who would intimidate the court or attempt to influence it, he said.

Yarrow Gives Report.

The Rev. Mr. Yarrow gave his annual report as superintendent, telling of 99 lectures given to an attendance of 20,000 at the association's meetings. He praised the cooperation of Commissioner of Police Russell in closing vice resorts and declared Chicago to be one of the cleanest big cities in the world, as far as commercialized vice is concerned. He said "Chicago's problem of crime could be solved by the state's attorney and the police if the dirty hand of politics was put out of the way.

"Obscene literature," he declared, "is a problem in America such as we have not had in a generation."

"I was 'unfrocked' and called a racketeer, and I found I spoke out of my turn in court," he said, in describing his recent court experiences. "Our budget was $15,726. Of that sum $50 came from the Municipal court, half of a fine—the only fine we got in 1929. For taking $50 I was called a racketeer."

Kfardebian is a small town about 30 miles northeast of Beirut, the main port of the new republic of Lebanon, a part of the French mandate of Syria. The famous cedars of Lebanon mentioned in the Old Testament are only 40 miles to the northwest. The inhabitants of Kfardebian are descendants of the Phoenicians as are most of the people along this part of the Mediterranean coast from Aka to Tripolis. The main industry of the town is the culture of silk worms. The preparation of the cocoons into yarn. Remains of the Roman occupation are shown in the ruins of Fakra, an old fort. Kfardebian has a population of about 3,000.

MARY T. NORTON TO TAKE STUMP FOR DRY REPEAL

Lawmaker Plans to Cover Wide Territory.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(AP)—Asserting her hope for unification and crystallization of the entire woman's anti-prohibition movement, Representative Mary T. Norton [Dem., N. J.] today announced her intention of making her personal campaign for repeal of the eighteenth amendment as nearly nation-wide as possible.

When congress adjourns, Mrs. Norton said, she will cover as much country as her physical condition will permit, arguing against prohibition.

"The furore of discussion aroused by the appearance of our group of women wets at the general prohibition hearings before the house judiciary committee resulted in many invitations to carry the campaign to the country at large," said Mrs. Norton. "The time is ripe for a comprehensive, businesslike organization on the greatest moral issue before the women of the country since slavery—the repeal of prohibition."

Mrs. Norton added that she wanted some woman dry leader to meet her in a prohibition debate over a nation-wide radio hookup.

Both Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general, and Mrs. Ella Boole, national president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, were tendered formal invitations to meet her in debate, but refused, Mrs. Norton said. She added that she hoped to visit the midwest during the recess.

CLUB ALGIERS IS CLOSED BY DRY PADLOCK

Following a year in which David "Cockeyed Mulligan" Ablin's Club Algiers, 657 St. Clair street, has flourished under a temporary injunction and owners of the building housing the night club have dodged court summons, the north side oasis was padlocked yesterday under a permanent injunction issued by Federal Judge Wilkerson. The writ was secured by default on evidence gathered by dry raiders in February, 1929.

Twenty-four temporary injunctions were also issued by Judge Wilkerson on evidence of dry law violation presented by Assistant United States Attorney LaVerne Norris. Heading the list of places named were the Garden of Italy restaurant, 10 South Clark street, the Viking club, 157 East Ohio street and the Lone Tree Tavern in Niles. The latter place, operated by Robert Friebus, has been raided three times within the last few months.

All but three of the saloons, delicatessens, drug stores, restaurants and malt and hop shops hit by the restraining orders are in Chicago. A saloon in Harvey and one in Cicero were also named.

$5,000 RESTAURANT OF $500.

Two bandits entered the restaurant of Nicholas Drasion, 5605 Lake street, yesterday and after threatening the owner and two employés with guns, looted the safe, which they forced Drassion to open, and the cash register of $500. They also took the cafe's radio.

ORDERS DRIVE ON RUM, GAMBLING IN SCHOOL ZONES

An order to all police districts to start an immediate investigation of any violation of the prohibition law and the operation of slot machines and punch boards and other gambling apparatus in stores patronized by pupils near schools was sent out last night by Police Commissioner Russell. Policemen were ordered to take "drastic action" to close any stores in which violations were being committed, and to see that they remained closed. Reports should be sent in so that licenses of their proprietors might be revoked, Commissioner Russell said.

3 BOAT CAPTAINS NAMED AS LAKE RUM SMUGGLERS

Buffalo, N. Y., March 3.—(AP)—Three barge captains were arraigned in federal court today on charges of conspiracy to smuggle liquor into this country from Canada, in what federal officials charged has been a scheme of widespread scope for the importation of contraband liquor on the great lakes.

The three arraigned today, Arthur Barth, Alphonso Peters and Engval Monson, all pleaded not guilty, and were remanded to jail where they have been held the last two months. They were indicted by a special grand jury last week.

Edward J. Downing of Buffalo, who has a private trucking company, also has been indicted. Five men from Cleveland, also named, were as follows:

Moe Davis, Sammy Tucker, Anthony J. O'Boyle, Morris Kleinman, and Marty O'Boyle.

Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards of Waukegan unexpectedly submitted his resignation to Gov. Emmerson yesterday. In a letter to the governor he explained he was entering private law practice because he had found it impossible to properly provide for his wife and three children on his judicial salary of $8,000 a year. The resignation is effective tomorrow. Judge Edward D. Shurtleff of Winnebago county will preside in Lake county Circuit court.

SUPREME COURT TO ACT ON GUILT OF RUM BUYERS

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(AP)—A decision to pass upon a highly disputed point of prohibition enforcement came from the Supreme court today while the wets were determining who would have the final word before the house judiciary committee in behalf of repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The case upon which the Supreme court decided today to act involves whether the purchaser of bootleg liquor may be prosecuted for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act when he orders liquor, knowing illegal transportation will be necessary. Recognizing a speedy decision was needed, the court advanced the case for hearing on April 14.

The case came from the Pennsylvania courts.

When Alfred E. Norris, a New York banker, obtained frequent supplies of illicit liquor from Joel D. Kerper of Philadelphia, shipped on Norris' order, the government indicted the two men, charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws.

The federal court in Pennsylvania decided against the government, holding the purchase of liquor was not an offense under the prohibition law and a sale did not constitute a conspiracy, even though it contemplated the delivery of the liquor. The Circuit Court of Appeals also held transportation necessary to effect delivery to the purchaser "does not subject the purchaser and seller to an indictment for conspiracy to transport."

The government regards the outcome as of the highest importance in the shaping of measures to make prohibition enforcement more effective.

DUCHESS' SHARE OF $400,000 NECKLACE $7,270

Says Colonel Kept $52,730 for Self.

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—The 73 year old Archduchess Maria Theresa of Austria, former owner of the diamond necklace which Napoleon Bonaparte gave his second wife, the Empress Marie Louisa, in 1811, on the birth of their son king of Rome received only $7,270 for the historic piece of jewelry, it was revealed today at the office of District Attorney Crain.

The necklace, with its forty-seven large diamonds and antique silver setting, valued by the archduchess at more than $400,000, was sold to a local jeweler for $60,000 about two weeks ago.

The story of the sale of the necklace to D. M. Michel, jeweler, by Charles L. Townsend, with the Archduke Leopold, a grandnephew of the archduchess, figuring in the deal, was told today to Assistant District Attorney Hastings. The archduke, now living here, is scheduled to appear tomorrow at the office of Hastings.

Tells Efforts to Sell.

Previous attempts to sell the necklace here and elsewhere were described by Laurence Steinhardt, lawyer. With him were the Baroness Annie Eisenmenger of Mount Vernon, who, it is said, had a power of attorney from the archduchess superseding the one held by Townsend, under which the sale was made; Dr. Georg Schmidt, the Austrian consul here, and Edward T. McLaughlin, a lawyer associated in the case with Steinhardt.

Steinhardt said he had received a cablegram from the Vienna police that they had been informed by the archduchess she had received a letter from Townsend, dated Chicago, Feb. 13, inclosing a check for $7,270. The letter, it was said, added that the balance of $52,730 had been retained to cover the expense incurred in the sale of the necklace.

Steinhardt said that on Jan. 14 Townsend, who lived at the Montclair hotel here, and had the power of attorney to sell the necklace, was advised from Vienna that an offer of $175,000, which he said he could receive for the necklace, was not acceptable because it was too low. Mr. Steinhardt also declared Townsend was advised the owner of the necklace would not accept offers of less than $375,000.

Revokes Power of Attorney.

Later Townsend wrote the archduchess, according to Steinhardt, that he still was negotiating to sell the necklace for $175,000 and that he might be able to push the offer to $225,000.

Hastings was told by Steinhardt that on Jan. 20 the power of attorney given Townsend was revoked. He said Townsend also was notified the baroness would arrive Feb. 10, and Steinhardt contended that on Feb. 11 Townsend sold the necklace for approximately one-fourth the value he had placed on it.

Steinhardt said that he still is looking for Townsend, whom he traced from the Montclair hotel to Palm Beach, Fla., and who left the latter place Feb. 17 without any forwarding address.

UNION ELECTRICIANS REFUSE PAY INCREASE TO PREVENT STRIKE

Cleveland, O., March 3.—(AP)—A refusal of a wage increase by the Cleveland local of the Electrical Workers' union was accredited today with having averted a threatened tieup of the city's building program.

The electrical union turned down higher salaries because of unemployment and a possible "wrong psychological effect on other trades negotiating agreements."

The electrical workers' action was believed to have influenced the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union to table its vote to strike if not granted an increase from $12 to $14 a day.

SENATORS SEEK WAY TO REDUCE UNEMPLOYMENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—Tariff revision was sidetracked in the senate for more than two hours today while senators vied with one another to offer solutions for the unemployment problem.

The oratory, much of it attacks on the administration, was inspired by the demand of Senator R. F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.] for the passage of one of several pending bills to authorize the collection of accurate unemployment statistics as the basis for a relief program. Wagner's demand was echoed by Senator R. M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.], who denounced the current "Red scare" as a well planned attempt to divert attention from "the real issue of unemployment."

Then Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] asserting he had information that no less than 3,100,000 men are jobless, proposed the payment of cash bonuses to world war veterans; Senator Arthur Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] added the suggestion that prompt passage of the pending public buildings bill contemplating millions of dollars in new construction throughout the country might be helpful, and Senator Hugo Black [Dem., Ala.] declared immediate and drastic restriction of Canadian and Mexican immigration would be an important step in any relief program.

"This problem cannot be solved by hysterics and 'red' alarms," declared La Follette, asserting that in spite of statements by Attorney General Mitchell and other department of justice officials scouting reports of a "red" uprising next Thursday, Chicago police continue to raid "alleged communist headquarters."

NEW FEMININE FIGURES MAKE WOMEN FIGURE

Turn to Nature to Get the Proper Symmetry.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Sculptors' studios are to be rivaled in the art of figure molding, with the beauty shop as the impending competitor. But feminine beauty must look to nature rather than art. That was gleaned yesterday from the sixth annual convention of the Illinois Cosmeticians and Beauty Culturists association at the Hotel Sherman. There the passing of the boyish figure proved a topic of much moment.

Mrs. Jessie M. Banghart of Chicago, state president, discussed the problem of feminine figures. Fashion, she said, is forcing women to consider the least admirable points of their individual silhouettes, especially since the advent of the closely clinging gowns which are flattering only to the healthy, svelt feminine outline.

Reducing Is of Little Help.

"Reducing can help very little in obtaining the effect one must have now to be in style," she explained. "It's a question now of breaking down flesh on one part of the body and of building it up somewhere else until the normal figure and the normal weight achieve the proper foundation for today's gowns.

"With the return of sleeveless frocks the woman with the heavy upper arms is going to have to get rid of surplus flesh there by proper exercise if she wants to continue to present a well groomed appearance.

"But one woman's avoirdupois may be caused by a hearty appetite and too little exercise, while another woman may be fat because of the way her glands function. Therefore, to be safe, they must start their correction of figure faults with a diagnosis, not only of the cause of the trouble but also of the amount of diet and exercise that is suited to each. Figure molding will only be possible by scientifically trained operators, but it will give women health as well as chic."

EXPLORERS FOLLOW DEAD RIVER COURSE TO CAVE OF "GEMS"

Carlsbad, N. M., March 3.—(AP)—Between the sheer rock walls of an underground canyon through which a river tumbled some time in the dim past, Frank Earnest Nicholson, New York explorer, has found his way to a section of the Carlsbad cavern entirely different from the known portions.

Using a fifty foot rope, Nicholson, Geron Mendenhall, his photographer, and Douglas Oliver, a Boy Scout with the expedition, lowered themselves into a room below the Devil's Den, at a point about midway along the normal morning tourist trip.

"We found ourselves standing in what apparently was the bed of some former stream," Nicholson said.

For four miles the three explorers walked over the old river bed on beach like sand, and reached a mass of balanced rock on one side of the canyon. A short walk revealed a ragged little hole about three feet wide.

"It was narrow and crooked," Nicholson added, "and we went down quite a distance. It led us into a wonderfully interesting room which we called the jewel room, with calcite beads that shone like diamonds, and hundreds of thousands of cave pearls, studded into the rock.

"In the jewel room we found some bones, but were unable to determine what form of life they represented."

Finds Her Shot in Front of His Home.

Madison, Ind., March 3.—[Special.]—The question of whether it was a murder or suicide perplexed authorities here tonight working on the mystery death of a young woman identified as Miss Alice Lola Lee, 20, daughter of Bruce Lee of Mitchell.

Miss Lee was dead when a physican arrived at the home of Nathan Mayfield here. Mayfield said he had found her in front of his house unconscious with a bullet wound in her head. The bullet entered above the right ear and lodged behind the right eye. A revolver was found nearby.

Carried Her Into House.

Mayfield said he carried her into his house, but did not explain further his knowledge of the woman until the county prosecutor and coroner began an investigation. They learned the girl had just engaged a room here, and on examining her luggage found letters, photographs and a diary which named Mayfield. She showed signs of approaching motherhood, the authorities say. She also is said to have been the mother of a 2 year old child living with relatives at Bedford, Ind.

Planned to Meet Her.

Confronted with this information, Mayfield, who is married and has two children, admitted he had carried on a love affair with the girl for two years. She formerly worked at North Vernon, he said, but he had brought her in his automobile from Mishawaka to Madison. He had an appointment to meet her in front of his home and was keeping it when he found her unconscious, he said. Police have learned that Mayfield and Alice Lee had registered at the Mishawaka hotel on Feb. 11 as husband and wife.

A taxi driver said when Miss Lee saw Mayfield's automobile in front of his house she said, "That is the place; let me out." She wore a Franklin college pin and a Versailles, Ind., High school ring. Her luggage contained $440 in insurance policies.

CHINA'S BUDGET SLOWLY GETTING OUT OF THE RED

Martial Burden Is Chief Nationalist Worry.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 3.—China's national revenue for the last fiscal year amounted to $138,880,000, of which approximately $65,400,000 went for military expenditure, according to the official report of T. V. Soong, minister of finance, which was issued today.

While admitting that the Nationalist government has not yet been able to extend fiscal control throughout the country, only actually controlling five provinces, the report declared that the past year showed "noteworthy improvement." The report also declared that for the first time in twenty years the Chinese government had been "nearly able to balance the budget," obviating the necessity of borrowing for current expenditures.

Mr. Soong stated his belief that with the establishment of peace and order the Chinese government revenues would increase by leaps and bounds, enabling the government to balance the budget and bring about the re-establishment of the nation's domestic and foreign credit.

In reference to the tariff Mr. Soong said that the customs autonomy has greatly increased the revenue, but that it has resulted in wholesale smuggling. Smuggling now constitutes a major problem for the government. It is alleged that the chief smuggling activity is centered about the British colony in Hongkong, where Chinese junks have built up a lucrative clandestine trade, using the British free port as a base.

While absolving the British colonial officials from the responsibility Mr. Soong declared that is is necessary for the Chinese government to reach an understanding with the British in order to prevent the smuggling junks from using British territorial waters.

Military Costs Chief Worry.

Mr. Soong declared that the Nationalist government is not loading the people down with new taxes, but is trying to regularize the existing imposts. He said, however, that the government is near embarrassment, since every time it begins to get on its feet some general or group of generals start a new war.

According to Mr. Soong the new government central bank, with assets and liabilities of $32,640,000, has improved the credit prestige of the Chinese government. He declared that the Nationalist government's chief problem is the restriction of military expenditures to enable the budget to balance.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

"And O'er His Heart A SHADOW FELL,"

[Edgar Allan Poe, 1809-1849]

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper form, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

THE RISING TIDE.

The clip sheet of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals resorts to familiar prohibitionist tactics to discredit the hearings given to opponents of prohibition before the house judiciary committee. This protest is called "support of crime," "rebellious obstruction," and "war against prosperity."

We think these tactics are less effective than in the earlier stages of the noble experiment and are getting progressively less effective as time goes on. The effort to bully protest into silence is failing and the weight of the protest is steadily growing. The high character of the opposition to prohibition has been illustrated at the hearings. The dry partisan charge that this opposition is directed by the "liquor interests" and confined to self-indulgent and low-minded individuals with an insatiable thirst was never worthy of any intelligent American's respect, but the house hearings have exploded it finally. They have made it clear that the opposition to prohibition is led by men and organizations of unimpeachable character, and is inspired by principles and considerations which no responsible citizen can afford to ignore.

But this distinguished leadership does not represent merely a few enlightened men and women. It represents a body of protest as deep and as broad as the nation. The very best witness to its power is the attitude of the Anti-Saloon league toward a referendum on prohibition. The congressmen and legislators still under the league's lash resist the referendum idea wherever prohibition sentiment does not habitually dominate, and these districts are growing fewer. In the nation sentiment against the régime of dry bigotry which has controlled legislation and enforcement since the 18th amendment was adopted has spread and intensified until dry leadership dares not face it. The reason given by the Rev. Mr. Wilson's clip sheet is rich in unconscious humor. A referendum, it seems, is "simply a scheme to abolish state lines, abandon the American form of government, and force a decision by political methods well known to the wets for generations." The devotion of the prohibitionist to the preservation of state lines is almost notorious, also to the American form of government, and as for "forcing a decision by political methods well known to the wets for generations," does this by any chance suggest the methods of the Anti-Saloon league?

SHERLOCK HOLMES AND THE NEW HOODS.

William Gillette's revival of his play of "Sherlock Holmes" is a renewal of youth for some of the older folk. The play also seems to stand the test of young eyes, and that would prove fundamental soundness which probably would be found also in Gillette's other great melodrama, "Secret Service." There can be regrets that the curtain is not to rise again on that first act in which the Richmond ladies are discovered war weary and silent, sewing, with the sound of the cannon in the distance.

Gillette's use of the Conan Doyle material was produced over thirty years ago when metropolitan crime was in its infancy. America had a lively brand of manslaughter out on the mining, gambling, cattle and hell raising frontier, but it was a casual and unorganized thing in the cities. A citizen might shoot another ex tempore or for personal reasons. Life was not without its excitements as when E. S. Stokes decided that Admiral Jim Fiske had lived too long, but Holmes and Gillette were breaking new ground when they undertook to produce a schematized terror of society with a master who caused his opponents, whether in the law or among the lawless, to disappear mysteriously.

Since the first production of the play and this revival of it reality has been improving on romance and now Sherlock Holmes has competition to meet, and if it were not good drama it would be regarded as old fashioned burlesque. Its master criminal mind and his hoods are quite comic against the immediate background of Dion O'Bannion, Lombardo, Tim Murphy, the Gennas, the Moran outfit, Al Capone, Frank McErlane, etc.

If Conan Doyle were writing Sherlock Holmes today he would come over here and seek plausibility in Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Boston, or New York. The product may seem a little riper in Chicago, but that's merely because the Chicago hoods have more energy and imagination. The other cities provide a fairly reliable article. Mr. Doyle and Mr. Gillette explored romance successfully to find the greatest of all detectives. When, then, they looked about them for gorillas and hoods there was nothing to be found but some stuffed shirts, and it was a work of art to make them live and be credible in a time and place where the St. Valentine's massacre remains as a legally impenetrable reality, where machine gun bullets have clipped inscriptions off the stone work of churches, where hoods follow a victim into the hospital, to close the record and wipe him off the books, and where a feudatory chief or henchman may start home for dinner, and be found later in a ditch.

Moriarty, the Doyle-Gillette master mind, was given a stronghold for his headquarters, but Dion O'Bannion was shot in his flower shop, Tim Murphy on his doorstep, Tony Lombardo on a crowded downtown street, Hymie Weiss and Patrick Murray in the afternoon in front of the Cathedral of the Holy Name, others in their cars or the cars of their murderers or in their own dining rooms.

The toughness of Sherlock Holmes' gangland enemies is mostly architectural and mechanical. When they want to put a man out of the way he shows up later with a bump on his head or his coat torn, but quite active, and the three gorillas who have Holmes trapped in the gas chamber are about as deadly as three bales of cotton. Reality has done some embarrassing things to the old classic of melodrama, but its great merit is that as a hansom cab it is good in an automobile age.

A CHANGE IN FARM BOARD POLICY.

The farm board has announced that it will no longer buy wheat at $1.18 a bushel in Chicago as has been its practice since October. The price was set in the hope of halting a decline in the wheat market which has nevertheless continued with a few interruptions. The effect of the policy has been to load the government agency with a great quantity of wheat taken at a price well above the present market for present and future deliveries. The probability is therefore great that the government marketing agency will sustain a considerable loss on the wheat it holds.

The president of the farm board, Mr. Legge, announces that, though the purchase of wheat in the terminal markets is to be discontinued, the board will continue to make loans to coöperatives against grain in their possession until the new crop appears in July, when, presumably, a new loan basis will be fixed more nearly in line with the market at the time. This measure can be justified on the theory that the farm board cannot succeed in raising the income of farmers unless it can limit production, and it cannot control production except as it may exert its influence through the coöperative associations. In effect, farmers are being offered a cash inducement to join coöperatives. As an emergency measure this policy has much to commend it, though it assumes, of course, that the solution of the farm problem lies in the organization of marketing associations, a theory that has yet to be tested, and against which serious objections have been raised.

Meanwhile the farm board must anticipate bitter attacks in and out of congress. The board will be accused of weakness, surrender, and indifference to the fate of the farmers whose interests it was set up to protect. These charges will be made by politicians who profess to speak for the farmers, but in reality are only currying favor for their own purposes.

The underlying reality in the situation is this: The farm board has a revolving fund of $500,000,000. If it seeks to peg the prices of wheat and cotton above the prices at which these commodities can move into consumption, the half billion dollars will not last long. Production, of course, will increase despite all efforts to control it, and thereby add to the price depressing crop surpluses. When the half billion is exhausted it is more than doubtful if any further subsidies can be obtained in congress; the probability is overwhelming that the urban taxpayers will call a halt. Reduced earnings from industry and urban real estate will make the cities far more reluctant to subsidize agriculture than they were at the peak of urban prosperity when the farm board act was passed.

Farmers owe it to themselves, then, to pay scant attention to those of their self-styled leaders who pretend that there is no limit to the amount of money which the treasury will throw into the commodity markets in the effort to maintain agricultural prices. When the farm board acts to limit its losses it is acting in the interest of the farmers.

Editorial of the Day

ILLINOIS' MEAL TICKET.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Chicago's financial plight has reached down to Springfield. The state of Illinois finds itself embarrassed. It has bonds coming due without funds to meet them. So Gov. Emmerson has made his pilgrimage to Canossa. But he does not appear as a penitent to stand barefoot in the snow. On the contrary, the executive, as reported by the Associated Press, has "cracked the whip of authority" over the defaulting city. Before Illinois repudiates her bonds, the governor is quoted, "I'll call a special session of the legislature which will have as its sole and only purpose the protection of the state from such a catastrophe."

There will be sympathy for the governor's official distress and approval of his resolution to maintain the state's credit, but public sentiment generally will hold that Illinois' humiliation in the premises is thoroughly deserved.

Illinois' unfair, indecent, and lawless treatment of Chicago is a classic exhibition of the "tyranny of the minority." More than half the population of Illinois lives in Chicago or Cook county. From Chicago comes more than half of the state's revenue. But Chicago is denied her proportionate voice in the state's government. Of the state's 51 senators Chicago has but 19. There are 154 members of the house of representatives, of whom Chicago has 57. Chicago has 10 of the state's 25 representatives in congress.

Chicago has pleaded, begged, and stormed against this disfranchisement, but to no avail. "Downstate" Illinois controls the legislature by a usurping majority and refuses to relinquish that control. Disfranchisement, taxation without representation, deliberate flouting of the constitution—that is Chicago's case against Illinois. Illinois listens to it unmoved. Chicago furnishes the money and must take what an artificial and illegal political majority chooses to give.

Chicago ought to furnish the greater part of Illinois' revenue. She has the property and the people. But, by that token, she ought to have the majority of the legislature. The point is not debatable. It is a constitutional fact and a self-evident truth.

Chicago's status is not unique. It differs from that of many other cities in other states only in degree. So acute is Chicago's grievance, however, that secession has been at times discussed and the setting up of a city-state. Such rebellion may not be imminent, yet competent students of events are convinced that evolution points to a city-state unless factors of development not now discoverable intervene.

In any event the present situation emphasizes Chicago's indispensability to Illinois and directs attention to a condition which, because of its essential lawlessness and unfairness, is intolerable.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

HOLD EVERYTHING! WAIT 'TIL THE DRYS TUNE IN.

The wets are about all through telling their story to the house judiciary committee at Washington. Then come the drys. They may open tomorrow, and perhaps not until Thursday. The drys say they're going to give a lot better show than the wets. We hope they put it on the radio. The wets overlooked that bet and the drys are liable to grab it. And if they do broadcast the thing it ought to sound something like this:

"Hello, folks, you are about to listen to the testimony of the dry witnesses in Washington before the committee of the house. They're not quite ready yet, but they soon will be. Now, the doorkeepers are shooing the wets out and opening the window. The drys say they want the air changed before they have to take their seats in that room. There come the men with the fumigators. There comes a dry in. Now he's sniffing around. He says it smells like Old Crow and Belle of Bourbon yet. Now here come the drys. They're singing 'Little Drops of Water, Little Grains of Sand.' Now the drys are bringing in their biggest gun. Get this, folks, it's good. I said the drys are bringing in their biggest gun.

"Yessir, folks, that's what I said. And now you want to know who is their biggest gun? Lissen, careful now, this is going to be good. Why, the biggest gun of the drys is Bishop Cannon Jr. Get that? I said the biggest gun of the drys was Bishop Cannon Jr. Ha, ha, ha! That certainly ought to give you a laugh.

"Well, here come the members of congress who are on the committee. Wonder if the Man in the Green Hat has been around lately? You know, folks, the Man in the Green Hat is the boy the newspapers say is the official bootlegger to congress. Bet if the Man in the Green Hat was to poke his head in the door right now with all them drys sitting there the congressmen would grab their chairs and beat him to death.

"Well, folks, the sight of all these drys in here has made me so thirsty I can't go on. I know a little speakeasy not so far away and I'm going over there. You may get a little dry listening to the testimony of the drys, but you're in your own home and you can do as you please, but, for heaven's sake, draw the curtains and don't get too noisy. Well, here comes the first dry witness, so I'll dry up. Ha, ha; that's pretty good, too. Goo'-by!"

WOMEN CRY . . .

There is a coldness
Where you heart may be
When winds bring the scent
Of spring on the sea.

There is a terror
Which stiffens your lips
When you hear men talk
Of the sailing-ships.

But all that is past,
And you may forget
The sea's a lover
Whose cool lips are wet.

A man grows lonely
When the tall black spars
Thrust through the low clouds
Beneath the low stars.

A man grows lonely,
And his heart stands still
For the curve at dusk
Of an inland hill.

The sea's a mistress
With seductive ways . . .
But I want harbor
The rest of my days!

DON FARRAN.

OF COURSE, THOUGH WE HOPE IT ENDS HAPPILY.

And the Princess Poof Poof says she read our ecstatic story about Charley and Mary Beard's "Rise of American Civilization" and says languidly that we can rave all we please, she won't read it unless we tell her whether or not all the murders are done by the sweet, gentle little mother of the detective who ferrets out the dastardly crime. "I've read all those idiotic crime stories," says the Princess Poof Poof, "and that's the only ending left they haven't done, and that would carry something like a real kick." No, Princess Poof Poof, you've got the "Rise of American Civilization" all wrong. It's nothing like that, and we haven't got anywhere within a thousand miles of the end. NO, don't tell us how it comes out! We want to find out for ourself.

SPEAKING OF Secretary Adams (or maybe we mean Secretary Adams speaking) reminds us of a little story we've been meaning for some time to relay from our favorite humor magazine, The Congressional Record. Secretary Adams had made a hot speech down east, scoring the senate radicals from hell to breakfast. One of the said senate radicals read a newspaper account of the speech on the senate floor and asked:

"Didn't Secretary Adams use to be a distinguished radical representative in the Massachusetts legislature?"

"No," amended Senator Borah wearily, "Secretary Adams used to be a radical representative in the Massachusetts legislature."

LAGNIAPPE.

"WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE Kisses Haitian Negress' Hand," headlined the Chi. Eve. Post yesterday in telling of the landing at Port-Au-Prince of the investigating commission. And we sat up until after 12 last night waiting to see whether South Carolina and Mississippi would merely go out of the Union or march an army against Kansas.

FLORIDA reports with just and proper pride that it has either killed or driven every single Mediterranean fruit fly out of the state. Reports from our merry citizens frolicking at Miami and other gay and festive resorts force us to the conclusion that Florida has more luck with the Mediterranean fruit fly than she has had with bootleggers.

WHILE A MAN was doing an eight year stretch in a New York prison his wife took hold of the little business he left behind and ran it up to over two million dollars. Which shows what a woman can do if she doesn't have to sit around and worry about what time her husband will come home.

SNUFF LEAD POISONING.

THE danger of lead poisoning from the use of snuff has been known to physicians for a century and a half, but few people outside of the medical profession ever heard of it. It arises from three possible sources.

Insects like to chew tobacco and spraying is a necessity in successful tobacco growing, at least in certain sections. The sprays contain arsenite of lead. In consequence, unless removed, they may be responsible for either lead or arsenic poisoning or both. Some foil is generally used in the container, as a wrapper for the stopper or elsewhere. This foil is apt to contain lead. In the third place, salts of lead are sometimes incorporated in snuff fillers.

Dr. R. J. Rutzel, who reports studies of a number of cases of lead poisoning caused by dipping snuff, says neither the federal nor the state food and drug laws cover this danger. The customer, therefore, is protected only by his own shrewdness and intelligence, and the intelligence and sense of right of the manufacturer; the government does not lend a hand.

In the process or preparation for snuff tobacco is put through two sets of fermentation. This fermentation process decreases the nicotine content two-thirds and removes the malic and citric acids, but it also tends to increase the lead content by making the product a better solvent. After being fermented various flavors are added. It sometimes happens that lead salts get in at that time.

Which of the three possible sources of lead in snuff is the more important is not certain. In the old days when more than one-third the snuffs contained lead I suspect that the fillers were the chief source of danger. Today I suspect it is the insect sprays.

NO TROUBLE FORESEEN.

ADOPTING A BABY.

L. R. S. writes:

We are looking forward to adopting a baby.

1. Please tell some of the things we must consider in so doing.

2. What are the chances of illegitimacy cropping up again, in taking an illegitimate baby?

3. Does it make any difference when adoption papers are taken out?

REPLY.

1. a. Have a report on the baby's health and physical condition. This generally includes a Kahn test. b. Have a report on the child's parents. Were they idiots or even feebleminded? Did they have psychopathic personalities? Were they insane? Get this for each parent.

2. It does not follow. However, the children of parents who have disobeyed the social laws will be a little more than average in their tendencies toward disregard of social law.

3. Everything is gained by hesitation until the facts are in hand. After that nothing is gained by it.

ABOUT THREAD WORMS.

S. W. writes:

Tell me your opinion of the cause of worms in children. I have been taught in the past that it was caused by candy, sugar, etc. But my 5 year old boy has never had anything but honey for a sweet, and all the cooking is done with honey exclusively; yet he has thread worms.

REPLY.

Children swallow worm eggs and these hatch into worms. They get these eggs on vegetables, fruit, and other foods. They get them from soiled hands, floors, contacts with animals. Eating sweets is supposed to lend a hand by promoting the secretion of mucus and thus setting the stage. As a rule it is not difficult to rid a child of worms. Thread worm infestation is treated by injections of infusion of quassi, or salt solution.

CALORIES FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

COMPENSATION FOR HERNIA.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I was ruptured while working for a Chicago firm in December, 1929. Can I make the firm pay for my operation and time lost?

C. H. R.

If the hernia is the result of an accidental injury, the employer is liable to furnish necessary medical, surgical and hospital services, including a surgical operation. Compensation is payable during the period of temporary total incapacity for work, which means the time the injured man was required to be away from work on account of the injury.

The ordinary hernia operation, without complications, requires the man to be about two weeks in the hospital and thereafter about four weeks at home before returning to work. The weekly compensation rate in this case would be $15 per week.

SHERMAN'S MOVEMENTS.—The statements of the rebel press concerning Gen. Sherman's whereabouts are conflicting. By one authority he has formed a junction with Schofield at Goldsboro, N. C., thus cutting off Johnston's forces from Hood's and Hardee's, leaving the latter in his rear. He is also reported to be moving on Raleigh. Other advices report him within 40 miles of Charlotte, to which place the Union prisoners were removed from Columbia, and on the direct route to Salisbury, one of the largest prison pens of the south. The rebel papers confirm the report that a large part of Columbia has been burned.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Gov. Oglesby issued an order to the ordnance department of the state to fire a national salute at noon in honor of the inauguration of President Lincoln and Vice President Johnson.

WASHINGTON. — The Richmond Whig says that Gen. Grant's forces are heavily massed on his left in readiness for an advance at the earliest practical moment. It continues: "The public need not be surprised to hear of the commencement of a battle at any moment." The Enquirer has a long article on preparations for battle. It admits the situation is critical, but thinks it is equally so for the federal armies. It says: "Should Grant lose any one of the three armies now converging on Richmond his whole plan would be broken up" and the rebels would have a chance to fill up their armies and prepare for a new campaign.

MARCH 4, 1900.

NEW YORK.—President McKinley was the honor guest at the 14th annual banquet of the Ohio Society of New York in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria. More than 400, including prominent statesmen, attended the banquet. Mrs. McKinley and her party sat in a private box. The President's speech was a defense of his insular policy and declared that the stars of the flag "are only those of radiant hope to the remote peoples over whom it floats."

MANILA.—Reports reach Manila of continued activity among the insurgents, who are endeavoring to keep alive armed opposition to the United States and are planning to continue the insurrection with guerrilla warfare when the rainy season begins.

CHICAGO.—The Princeton club of Chicago gave its annual dinner at the University club. John Maynard Harlan, president of the club, introduced President Francis L. Patton of the university, who told the guests that the school needs $1,000,000. Among other guests were Arthur Poe, present football idol of the institution; Robert J. Carey, representing Harvard, and Frank H. Jones, representing Yale.

LONDON.—Miss Isadora Duncan, a young American girl, has caused a great stir at private entertainments by her new style of dancing. She is getting $250 for each performance.

LONDON.—It is evident that a strict censorship is being exercised over Boer war news, as the night has not added anything to scanty dispatches of the day, which related mostly to events preceding the relief of Ladysmith.

REVAL.—Soviet Russia is ready to trade with the world and to pay gold for all purchases until transport is reorganized. Gukovsky, commercial representative of the Russian coöperatives of the soviet, has available a billion [$500,000,000] rubles in gold to buy what the nation most needs until transport permits exportation of their products in exchange for the manufactured article.

MINDEN, Nev.—"My plans for the future are my own," was Mary Pickford's angry reply to a reporter who drove 40 miles to ask her whether she intends to marry Douglas Fairbanks now that her divorce from Owen Moore has been granted. The divorce was granted on March 2. Bailiff George Henry said of the hearing: "The lady just said her name was Gladys Moore and that she was the wife of Owen Moore, and that he had plumb deserted her when she was a dutiful and loving wife."

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—The news that Mary Pickford had divorced Owen Moore at Minden, Nev., on the grounds of desertion created a sensation here.

DUBLIN.—The military and police raided Liberty hall, the headquarters of Larkin's transport workers, the Gaelic league offices, the rooms of Leinster college of Irish and numerous private houses, and jailed Sinn Fein leaders.

CHICAGO.—The engagement is announced of Miss Kathleen Gaggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carter Gaggs, 563 Green Bay road, Glencoe, to Arthur Leonard Grasett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Darley Grasett of Glencoe.

CHICAGO.—Four girls, led by Margaret Seithamier, 17 years old, who last summer shot and killed Attorney Benjamin Burr, beat a nun and stabbed a guard in an attempt to escape from the House of the Good Shepherd. The girls stationed on stairs held the nuns at bay for more than two hours until the police arrived.

CONSTRUCTIVE ECONOMY.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—R. H. L., in "A Line o' Type or Two" of Feb. 26, ably comments upon President Hoover's supposed "embarrassing moment" when, after having urged increased appropriations to relieve business depression a few weeks previously, he recently warned the country against appropriations proposed in bills introduced in congress.

It is this writer's opinion, for whatever it may be worth, that President Hoover's sudden swing to "constructive economy" was not inspired either by treasury reports, appropriation bills, or personal inconsistency, but by the swing 'round the circle of ex-President Calvin Coolidge, who was fishing in California at the time that President Hoover threw overboard his expanding program and grasped at the old reliable constructive economy issue that served Coolidge so well in the past and threatens to serve him again in the future.

Coolidge was grabbing the headlines. Somebody had sent Calvin threats—or so the papers said. The White House secretariat had to do something at once—and again—to restore the headlines to Hoover. The secretariat did it. The only trouble is that it was done badly and crudely, leaving wide openings for criticism in congress and elsewhere of the straw man at which Hoover grasped, the sophomoric compilation of the aggregate proposed appropriations in hundreds of bills introduced that nobody, including the authors, ever expects to pass this congress.

In my judgment it was Calvin in California, and Calvin in the headlines, and nothing else but, that gave President Hoover his most embarrassing moment. This is only a theory, of course. But can you or R. H. L. think of a simpler one to explain the President's strange performance?

OLD TIMER.

EIGHT HEARTS DOUBLED.

South Bend, Ind., March 2.—We are always reading about some one or other holding thirteen of a suit and bidding seven no trump. The latest report had to do with a divorce suit which followed. I don't believe a word of it myself, but I should like to report a somewhat different situation.

Last night two whole suit hands were held in the same game. The man with thirteen hearts started at four hearts and his opponent with all the spades went at once to four spades. The bidding proceeded to seven spades. The player with the heart hand calmly bid eight hearts. He argued that he was entitled to make the bid if he wanted to. He said that in a long career of bridge playing he had seen many bids which were no more absurd and he argued further that he could be doubled and still come out even. The argument grew so hot that the hand never was played. Incidentally, to put your readers' minds at rest, I am satisfied, though I can't prove it, that the hands were dealt from a cold deck. It was a friendly game.

WOMEN IN TERROR.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—If the police of Chicago would travel the beats assigned to them, instead of hiding near some through street waiting for some one to fail to come to a dead stop, I believe the people of Auburn Park would be only too glad to pay their taxes, knowing they went to the good of the community.

Last night, Feb. 27, on 84th street, between Racine and Ada street, my mother and two sisters were walking home from the street car when they noticed a machine running very slow, and when it came even with them it stopped and the fellow in the car started to open the door, and they ran. The same thing happened three times before they reached the safety of home. I would hate to think what would happen to them if one of them were out alone.

When they came in and told me about it I went out, but there was nothing on the street at the time. The chances are he went looking for some one else.

How long can this go on? But why, in God's name, won't the police at least try to protect the women.

JOHN J. CONNOLLY.

PACIFIST AIMS.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—We have on the front page of today's TRIBUNE an article entitled "Kellogg Pact Orders Army, Churches Told," with the quotation by Dr. John Nevin Sayre, New York pacifist, who asked that the churches authorize a statement which asserts that the "conscientious objector shall no longer be regarded unpatriotic."

Assuming that our army were abolished to satisfy the pacifist element and our country were confronted with internal strife; suppose there appeared an enemy against our organized government similar to the Red communists who have been encouraged and protected in their organizing, have gained a great following, especially through the industrial centers, due to our unprepared defensive position. Then the communists, if successful, would not stop to overthrow our present form of republican government and the capitalistic system, but the churches would also have their share of wreck and ruin, as has already been so ruthlessly demonstrated by the organized minority power of a large nation the majority of which were formerly considered decent Christians.

Dr. Sayre further says, "We must also extend the principle to include the young men in college, high schools and universities who conscientiously object to compulsory military training in the R. O. T. C. Dr. Sayre's work may tickle the vanity of the revolutionary elements against organized government, but it is hoped that it will be considered seriously by only those persons who unfortunately were born with a pacifist streak.

So long as our country continues to breed red blooded patriots in sufficient numbers of the type that made and helped to maintain it and support it with proper facilities for preparedness shall we continue our freedom and protect it against internal as well as external foes such as the world in its turn is surely to bring forth. Dreamers of peace on this earth should acquaint themselves with today's conditions in Russia and the orient.

NOTHING BUT CONTEMPT.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—"All that America now wants them to get," says the TRIBUNE, referring to the American representatives at the armaments conference, "is their passage home." It would be interesting to learn from a competent psychiatrist just what species of paranoiac arrogance THE TRIBUNE suffers from. There are right here in Chicago thousands of Americans for whom the TRIBUNE can make no pretense to speak. Americans who are just as patriotic as THE TRIBUNE conceives itself to be and at least no greater fools than its fermented writers. THE TRIBUNE'S desperate campaign of kidding American representatives and spewing its copperhead venom over the President deserves nothing but contempt.

A SUGGESTION.

Elmhurst, Ill., Feb. 26.—Wouldn't you like to give the public something new, interesting, useful, and unique?

Then give us a reissue of the "10 Year Ago" paper.

Haven't you a type face that will do? Well, get one, then, and make the effort to reproduce the ads, etc.

You will surely make one hit, and you surely ought to make a big bulge in circulation for that Sunday. Also, with the new rag paper edition you would add wonderfully to historical preservation for future generations. Why not give us the first one in April, say Lee's surrender or Lincoln's assassination?

ENCOURAGING GUERRILLAS.

Blue Island, Ill., Feb. 26.—I cannot understand why you favor repeal of the Volstead law. My father, a G. A. R. man, was a TRIBUNE reader but he also voted for the Wilson bill and certainly despised guerrilla warfare, which you have encouraged by your attitude. This may sound harsh, but my people bled, toiled for this country for three generations. I am no interloper.

SECRETS OF HUGE DIAMOND TRUST BARED IN TRIAL

Gem Syndicate Accused of Fraud.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 3.—Members of one of the wealthiest jewel syndicates in the world went on trial today charged with conspiracy and fraud when S. B. Joel, Jack Barnato Joel, Barnato Bros., Walter Dunkels, Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, Louis Oppenheimer, Henry Claridge, A. A. Dunkerbilfer & Co., Otto Oppenheimer, Alber Edward Tilley, and Reuben Cohen Holmark faced action initiated by the United Diamond Fields of British Guiana. The defendants practically control the world's diamond supply.

Inside secrets of the operation of the diamond trade were revealed as Sir Patrick Hastings, counsel for the plaintiffs, unfolded the story of the situation that led up to the case.

Reduce Sales to Boost Price.

The defendants entered agreements with practically all the world's diamond producers to buy the entire output and keep up prices by limiting the number of stones offered for sale, he said. When the plaintiff company was formed for the purpose of exploiting British Guiana diamond fields the diamond syndicate made a similar agreement with it, insisting that Otto Oppenheimer serve with the plaintiffs as an expert, while Mr. Oppenheimer's private accountant, Mr. Tilley, became chairman of the company, the lawyer alleges.

Immediately after the founding of the British Guiana company in 1926 a large alluvial diamond field in South Africa was discovered. The syndicate was obliged to absorb these diamonds, not for sale, but for the purpose of maintaining the prices, it is said.

Changed Assorting Methods.

According to the plaintiffs, the syndicate's resources were strained by the tremendous expenditures for buying the output of the new gem fields, so they changed the method of assortment of diamonds in such a way that the amount which would be paid the plaintiff company was reduced. This is the accusation which the plaintiff's counsel will try to prove in the next few days.

Negroes Among Candidates for U. S. Naval Academy

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—Representative Joseph S. Gavagan [Dem., N. Y.] said today that he had designated William Chisholm, Negro, for appointment to the Naval academy at Annapolis and had named Daniel R. Piper, also a Negro, as an alternate.

"These boys took the examination in a regular open competitive examination and they finished exactly in the place to which I have designated them," declared Mr. Gavan. "I had four places to fill. I named four boys for appointment and four for alternates. William Chisholm came out in the examination in fourth place and got one of the places. Piper came sixth."

FOUND GUILTY

MRS. MAY BLACKBURN.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—(AP)—Attorneys for May Otis Blackburn, leader of a mystic religious cult convicted of the theft of $40,000 from a follower, today were preparing petitions for a new trial.

The middle aged high priestess of the Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Eleven will be sentenced Wednesday on eight counts of theft.

Clifford Dabney, wealthy oil operator, who testified Mrs. Blackburn promised to disclose to him the hidden mineral and oil wealth of the earth, has filed a civil suit against her to recover $40,000.

A colony of followers in the cult lived in a remote spot in the mountains north of Los Angeles. After their operations became known, through Dabney's complaint last October, officials uncovered the body of a young priestess of the cult buried beneath the home of her foster parents.

New Face Powder Now the Fashion

"Wouldn't you, too, like a face powder that will keep shine away—stay on longer—spread smoothly—not clog the pores—and always be so pure and fine?" asks Gene Brady, charming stage beauty. She found this kind of face powder in MELLO-GLO, made by a new French Process that brings the youthful bloom—will not irritate the skin or cause that pasty, flaky look. It is surely a wonderful face powder.

FACE PARKING PROBLEMS ON RADIAL ROADS

Narrow Town Streets May Bring Rerouting.

BY HAL FOUST.

Villages and towns of the metropolitan area may have to adopt city parking restrictions to assure success for Gov. Emmerson's road program to widen highways radiating from Chicago. The project calls for work this year and in 1931.

Director Cleveland of the state department of public works is asking for a hundred feet for rights of way for four lane pavements. County Highway Superintendent Quinlan reports that in some of the smaller Cook county municipalities there are large buildings that would have to be destroyed or moved to obtain the hundred feet.

Will Not Build Parking Space.

Some of the building lines on village streets carrying state highways are so close together that little more than forty feet of roadway could be obtained by moving the curbs back and narrowing the sidewalks to a minimum.

The state has adopted a policy that all of the pavement built with gasoline tax revenue must be laid to serve traffic. None of the money is to be spent for parking spaces.

Small towns with state highways on the main streets and these streets too narrow to accommodate parking as well as four lanes of traffic will be asked to ban parking on the thoroughfare so the state will agree to lay forty feet of concrete.

May Reroute Highways.

A plan preferred by both the county and the state is for the municipalities to pay for the extra sixteen feet for parking and build a fifty-six foot pavement. Even with perfect policing to restrict parking, motorists would halt a lane of traffic in a forty foot street to load and to discharge passengers.

This policy of the state is seen as a boon to through traffic, although there will be some strong opposition from the small town merchants. It is not unlikely that the highway department's ruling will encourage municipalities to reroute the thoroughfares off business streets.

Elmer Praises Boy Soprano's Welsh Songs

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

For the second time radio's evening audience had the opportunity last night of hearing the Welsh boy soprano, William Mathias, over W-G-N on the 9 to 9:30 program. Master William is the only boy soprano whose singing has pleased my ear. And if this soloist continues to present the old Welsh song, "The Dove," one need not be surprised if other singers add it to their offerings. "Adieu to Cambria," another old Welsh song, is a fitting companion.

The station's symphony and dance orchestras were both heard in attractive selections during the half hour.

There were bits of music, diversity, and comedy in a "Voices from Filmland" program originating partly at KHJ, Los Angeles, and broadcast here through WMAQ, 6:30 to 7. The incidental music didn't amount to much; Vilma Banky, film star, had too bad a case of microphone fright to transmit her radio talk successfully, but W. S. Van Dyke, a movie director, gave an excellent dissertation on "Africa." The talks by two African natives in their own tongue were amusing.

The Gypsies orchestra and singing birds gave another of the fine Monday night programs from New York, through W-G-N, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Herr Louie, the Weazel, and the Hungry Five band, broadcasting W-G-N from 10:10 to 10:20 o'clock continue their varied and amusing careers.

W. H. SAMPSON, RETIRED HEAD OF SILK FIRM, DIES

William Hubbard Sampson of Riverside, retired president of the Corticelli Silk company, died yesterday of heart disease in Tidewater, Fla. He was 72 years old.

Mr. Sampson traced his ancestry to Capt. Miles Standish of colonial fame. He was a member of the Chicago Association of Commerce, the New England Society of Chicago, the Chicago Art sintitute, and the Union League club. Mrs. Elizabeth Walcott Sampson, his widow, and his son, Benedict H. Sampson, were at the bedside when death came. The body will be brought to this city.

Melissa J. Raser, Chicago Resident 65 Years, Dead

Mrs. Melissa J. Raser, 87 years old, a Chicago resident for 65 years, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Kelley of Benton Harbor, with whom she had lived the last year. After services this morning at the First Baptist church of Benton Harbor, of which Mrs. Kelley's husband is pastor, the body will be brought to the home of her son, W. S. Raser, 9436 South Winchester avenue, Chicago.

Watchman, Cleaning Gun, Shoots and Kills Himself

While cleaning his revolver last night, John Perdue, 51 years old, 22 West Chicago avenue, a watchman for the Guardian National bank, shot and killed himself in the lobby of the bank at 105 South Dearborn street. Perdue was unfamiliar with the mechanism of the revolver and last evening asked Patrolman Arthur Smith to show him how to reassemble the weapon. Smith did so, then left. A moment later as the guard fumbled with the gun it discharged, the bullet piercing his cheek.

Three North Side Women Held Up After Theater Trip

Mrs. Elsie Steenbock, 1263 Pratt boulevard, and her passengers, Mrs. Carl Metterhausen, 701 Buena avenue, and Miss Kathleen Healy, 1054 Sheridan road, were held up in Mrs. Steenbock's car in front of Miss Healy's apartment early this morning upon their return from the theater. Three men leaped from another car, jerked a $300 solitaire ring from Mrs. Steenbock's finger, searched the purses of the other two, who wore no jewelry, and escaped with the ring and a small sum of currency.

BODY ORDERED EXHUMED IN LIFE POLICY DISPUTE

Circuit Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski yesterday ordered the exhumation of the body of Charles Howard Harris, proprietor of a gasoline filling station, on the petition of his widow, Mrs. Julia C. Harris, 550 East 49th street. The exhumation is to determine the cause of his death in her effort to obtain an additional $10,000 in insurance.

Harris, who was 32 years old, died last April, 1929. A coroner's jury found that he died from the effects of alcohol and of bichloride of mercury taken accidentally. A clause in his insurance policy provided that his wife should receive $10,000 at his death and another $10,000 if he died accidentally. She declared that the insurance company paid only $10,000 on the ground that the death was not proved accidental.

20 CARDINALS ATTEND BURIAL OF MERRY DEL VAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 3.—Rafael Cardinal Merry del Val, former secretary of state for Pope Pius X, and brother of the Spanish ambassador to London, was buried this morning in the Vatican crypt beneath St. Peter's basilica, in front of the tomb of the Cardinal Duke of York, last scion of the Stuarts. Twenty fellow cardinals were present.

The coffin was carried from Cardinal Merry del Val's dwelling in Santa Martha to the place adjoining the basilica, by humble workmen from across the Tiber.

In his will, in which the cardinal bequeathed several hundred thousand dollars to the congregation for the propagation of the faith and the magnificent pectoral cross to the reigning pontiff, Cardinal Merry del Val requested to be buried by the side of Pope Pius X. This desire was impossible to satisfy entirely, since the present pope, Pius XI., declared he had already expressed the order in his own will to be laid by the side of the war stricken pontiff.

HAFFA IS DENIED REVIEW; MUST GO TO U. S. PRISON

Titus A. Haffa, former alderman, convicted of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, must serve a two year sentence at Leavenworth penitentiary, passed more than a year ago by Federal Judge Wilkerson. He also must pay an $11,000 fine. Haffa's last chance of escaping the penalty was removed yesterday when the United States Supreme court refused to review his case. He will start serving the sentence in about a week. Haffa appealed to the Supreme court recently after the sentence was affirmed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The former alderman's petition charged that instructions given to the jury by Federal Judge Lindley were incomplete in that they did not state that the previous record of the defendant could be considered in returning a verdict.

IT requires the same foresight to build a home that it does to invest a fortune. Before you start construction, look ahead. Outstanding bankers, among them Mr. House, advise you to build your home for permanency—with materials that do not deteriorate.
Brass or Copper pipe, Copper flashings, gutters and downspouts and solid Brass or Bronze hardware and lighting fixtures are proof against time and the elements. They cannot rust. They serve in home or skyscraper without deterioration or maintenance cost.
Although genuine rust-proof construction costs somewhat more in the beginning, it is invariably an economy in the long run. It adds appreciably to both the present and future value of your property.

KEEP MONROE DOCTRINE, SAYS LEGAL EXPERT

Letter Written in 1928 Clarifies Policy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—"Agitation for the abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine is not justified, and it should be retained as a part of American foreign policy," J. Reuben Clark, undersecretary of state during the Coolidge administration, states in an official government document made public today.

The Clark memorandum, prepared at the direction of former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg for submission to the senate foreign relations committee, contains a complete analysis of the famous doctrine, together with a personal interpretation by the author. Mr. Clark, a former solicitor of the state department, is an international lawyer and at present is in Mexico City as legal adviser to Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow.

The review and interpretation of the doctrine "which acts as a shield between Europe and the Americans to protect the Latin-Americas from the political and territorial thrusts of Europe," was written in 1928, at a time when the Nicaraguan revolution had occupied much attention in the senate.

Came Up in Senate.

It was submitted to the senate when the foreign relations committee was considering the advisability of attaching a Monroe Doctrine reservation, making certain this doctrine would not be affected, to the Kellogg anti-war treaty. It was long held confidential, but now is being published by the government printing office.

"So far as Latin-America is concerned," Mr. Clark said, "the doctrine is now and always has been, not an instrument of violence and oppression, but an unbought, freely bestowed and wholly effective guaranty of their freedom, independence, and territorial integrity against the imperialistic designs of Europe.

Bars Certain Intervention.

Mr. Clark takes the view the Monroe Doctrine carries with it no authority for the United States to intervene in financial quarrels between weak Latin American countries and European nations on the ground that unless this country took action the European nations might occupy territory in this hemisphere.

The Monroe Doctrine, Mr. Clark asserted, has self-preservation for the United States as its underlying principle, while behind it stands the policy of "the complete political separation of Europe and the Americas."

GRAND JURORS MEET; TO HEAR CANAL CHARGES

The March grand jury was impaneled yesterday by Chief Justice Dennis J. Normoyle of the Criminal court, who returned to his duties after a two weeks trip for his health. Harry F. Thompson, 2922 North Keating avenue, a credit manager, was appointed the foreman.

The March jury is expected to be called on to hear the new evidence in the sanitary district cases as well as the so-called tax fixing cases. First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup, who has charge of the sanitary investigation, was present to watch the selection of the jury.

Records of the U. S. A. company, electrical contractors, are expected to be submitted within the next two weeks. They were formally submitted to the last jury in order to comply with the duces tecum subpoena, but that jury did not have time to investigate charges of a $1,000,000 bribery fund made by Northup.

CANADIAN HOUSE GETS DEMAND FOR SEAWAY ACTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 3.—Characterizing the St. Lawrence seaway development as "the greatest economic question facing North America today," Thomas L. Church, Toronto Conservative, in the house of commons, moved a resolution demanding that the Canadian government institute treaty negotiations with the United States for the immediate development of the St. Lawrence for power and navigation purposes.

Mr. Church, who moved similar resolutions last year and the year previous, accused the two major Canadian political parties of "running away" from the issue. He added the opinion that Canadians were sick and tired of official "pussyfooting" on the subject.

He directed a left handed slam at his own party leaders when he charged that nobody appeared to be looking after the interests of Ontario, which desired seaway development and could not get assistance either from its own conservative premier, Ferguson, or the dominion Conservative leader, Richard B. Bennett.

Mr. Church abruptly adjourned the debate on his own resolution when it was pointed out to him that Premier Mackenzie King, who has been conducting conversations with the United States, was absent from the house. Upon subsequent resumption of seaway discussions, Premier King is expected to make an important pronouncement.

Legislation to prohibit the export of liquor from Canada to the United States will be introduced into the house of commons Tuesday by Premier Mackenzie King.

It will prohibit the export of liquor to America by air, land, and water, and its verbiage places the onus directly upon the Canadian distilleries and breweries.

A Statement About Small Loans by Household Finance Corporation
WE MAKE LOANS OF $100 TO $300 AT 2½% A MONTH ON UNPAID PRINCIPAL
There are classes of loans which require the rate of 3½% per month
THE Household Finance Corporation wishes to emphasize the fact that any licensed loan company making loans of less than $100, and a certain class of loans of larger amounts is, in our opinion, justified in charging the maximum rate of 3½% per month. "Household" could not afford to make loans of less than $100 at less than 3½% a month.
L. C. HARBISON, President

An OPEN BOOK on small loans $100 to $300

Here are the facts on how much you should pay when you borrow $100 to $300—2½% on unpaid principal—no more.

"How much interest should I pay when I borrow $100 to $300?" Borrowers everywhere have come to "Household" offices asking this question.

Our answer to them is the same as to you—2½% a month on the unpaid principal on loans of $100 to $300. And here are the reasons in plain words—facts which hundreds of thousands now know and appreciate—facts which are bringing hosts of borrowers to the Household Finance Corporation for amounts from $100 to $300 at 2½% interest per month:

So many people now know about the better loan service the Household Finance Corporation offers that "Household" can afford to limit its loans to those of the higher class—from $100 to $300. As a result "Household" has been able to reduce its interest rate to 2½% per month, thus passing on to its customers a saving of nearly one-third which this policy makes possible.

At the same time, "Household" is aware that loans of less than $100 and certain classes of loans up to $300 require a rate of 3½%. But why should you, if you need a loan of $100 to $300, help pay the greater cost of making poorer classes of loans by borrowing at 3½% when "Household" offers you its service at 2½% per month?

WHAT YOU PAY

Amount of loan	Time	Total Cost
$100	4 months	$ 6.25
200	4 months	12.50
300	4 months	18.75

Borrow from "Household" and save 1% a month

Here's the "Household" Plan
No Outside Signers—No Fees—No Deductions

The "Household" Plan enables you to get the money you need—$100 to $300—without delay. When you borrow $100 you get $100. All loans are made on the basis of repayment in twenty months.

But you may repay any time before that, and interest is charged only on the unpaid principal.

For instance, under the "Household" Plan, you can borrow $200 for thirty days at a total cost of $5.00.

Before You Borrow See Household

When you need extra money, come in, write or phone and let us explain the "Household" Plan.

Suffered 12 Years from Sinus Trouble and Head Colds

Friend Suggested NOZOL and Prompt Results Came

"No more dangerous head colds or sinus trouble for me," said Miss Gretchan R. Reinhour of Lascar Ave., Pittsburgh. "Now at the first sign of a sniffle or head cold I use a few drops of Nozol and miraculous results follow." "My doctor urges the use of this new discovery to help drain the sinuses, to keep the nasal passages open and thus avoid serious trouble. Only a liquid can do this. My 12 years of suffering are now past."

"Never neglect a cold in the head or say treating sinus trouble," is the doctor's advice. Get a bottle of NO-Z-O-L at your druggist and start treatment today. A generous size bottle costs but little and for those who want a 30-day complete treatment there is the family economical size at One Dollar. Beware of sinus trouble and head colds.

A Friend of The Motorist

Living in your community is a business man who can qualify to that high title, "friend of the motorist." He is the Chicago Motor Club district branch manager.

This man knows the needs of motorists because of his daily association with them, and because his experience is extensive he can give friendly advice and help. When his voice is lifted in defense of the rights of motorists, he is listened to with respect, for he is the representative of organized motordom. If you have some motoring problem, bring it to the branch manager. He will put it before specialists at headquarters, who devote their entire time to the service of motorists.

We are proud of the accomplishments of these men. In DuPage county recently, a speed trap ring was making it unpleasant for motorists; our DuPage county manager instituted an investigation that put a stop to the activities of the speed trappers. Rockford motorists at another time sought help in a serious traffic problem, and they asked our Winnebago county manager for help. He got it and the traffic survey at Rockford, when finished, no doubt, will bring much relief to that city.

In Cook County our managers are recognized as the leaders of movements benefiting motorists. Many communities have honored our managers with high offices in civic bodies. These men handle districts and are known as district managers. Thirty district managers serve Cook county. Downstate, thirty branch managers serve the motorists in sixty-one counties in Illinois and northern Indiana.

The branch manager will tell you about the services the club offers to members, which are: Mechanical first aid and towing service, home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed; accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and by fostering schoolboy patrols; travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions; and bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases, where a bond not in excess of one hundred dollars is demanded.

Another benefit available only to members is the insurance service, which gives you a valued form policy, insures accessories without additional cost, and which last year returned cash savings to subscribers amounting to $711,332.11. You receive a check for your share of the savings to do with as you please. Write or call for further information.

U. S. TRADES WITH NEW ZEALANDERS ON 2 FOR 1 BASIS

Sells $40,000,000, Buys Only $20,000,000 Back

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, N. Z., March 3.—New Zealand is a two-for-one proposition so far as trade with the United States is concerned, for this British dominion nearest the south pole buys from us an average of $40,000,000 a year, chiefly in manufactured products, and our imports therefrom are about $20,000,000 annually. It is a very profitable business, therefore, as one may readily see.

Even the additional tariff of one per cent on butter, if passed by the United States congress, will make very little difference in the American total, but will cut down the American selling power in New Zealand by just that much. Wool and mutton and frozen meats and dairy products are our chief imports from New Zealand. Another important item is the kauri gum, used in the higher grade varnishes.

Tariff Wall Lower than U. S.

Strange as it may seem, the New Zealand tariff on imported butter is higher than the present American tariff. On the whole, the New Zealand tariff is lower than the United States, but it is high enough to suit most of the people. The chief imports from America are motor cars and trucks, gasoline and petroleum, and certain types of agricultural and other machinery.

The differential in New Zealand in favor of British products is from 10 to 20 per cent against foreign countries. Aside from the British empire, America is the best supplier of manufactured goods to New Zealand, with Germany a fast increasing second, although many millions behind America. The line in which Germany is gaining is in certain machinery and hardware and in dental and other scientific equipment.

While our direct importations of New Zealand wool are very heavy, America also buys in the London wool market, to which New Zealand ships direct. New Zealand has lost a considerable part of her meat trade with Great Britain itself owing to Britain fixing the price of chilled beef at one cent a pound less than that of fresh killed beef.

Use Mostly U. S. Cars.

The motor requirements of New Zealand are increasing at an amazing rate, but in the same order as the development of the islands, covering about 105,000 square miles. Seldom is other than an American car seen. Into these small islands, with a population of but 1,400,000, there were imported last year 20,000 American motor cars and trucks. General Motors has established an assembling plant at Petone, where 400 men are already employed. The Ford company also has several assembling plants.

New Zealand, of course, grows more wool than she can use and, having wonderful water power, is developing hydro electric energy, and it in turn is leading to spinning mills, so clothing is fairly cheap. The cost of living is lower than in the United States, while food is still cheaper.

New Zealand is a white man's country. The native Maori is reduced to 50,000 out of the total of 1,400,000. Chinese, Hindus, and other Asiatics are around 4,000. Ninety-eight per cent of the population is of British nationality.

Plan Wood Pulp Trade.

The government is actively engaged in afforestation and plantations are to be seen throughout the two main islands. New Zealand is looking forward to the day when it will be an exporter of wood pulp to the United States—and to many countries to which the United States now exports this commodity—although this is a long ways off. Owing to the preferential tariff, most of the importations of soft wood, about 300,000 tons, come from Canada. About 50 per cent of all importations are of British origin, about 20 per cent from America, 8 per cent are Australian, and more than 7 per cent Canadian. American and German importations are increasing steadily. Exports are around $225,000,000 annually, almost entirely of dairy products, wool, meat, timber, and gold.

BANDITS EAT THEIR LOOT.

Burglars who robbed the grocery of C. J. Schuett, 1027 Sherman avenue, Evanston, of 60 pennies early yesterday, made up for the smallness of the loot by making a midnight lunch off a sausage, two bottles of pop, a loaf of bread, and several boxes of crackerjack and candy.

FIVE GOLDMANS ARE INDICTED ON FRAUD CHARGES

CRIMINAL COURT.

Harold Diamond and John Dunne, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years each in Pontiac reformatory; Gottfried Toman, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary, by Judge Otto Kerner.

Joseph Krusinki, assault to rape, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Finnegan.

The grand jury yesterday voted true bills against Hyman Goldman and his four sons, William, Max, Samuel, and Jacob, partners and officials of the Goldman Bond and Mortgage company, 3222 West Roosevelt road. The true bills charge operating a confidence game, according to Assistant State's Attorneys William M. Mercer and Edwin J. Spiro.

The cases on which the true bills were voted yesterday result from the complaints of Max Simon, 1346 South Kolin avenue, and George Castle, 3340 Walnut street. Simon paid the Goldman's $10,700 for a mortgage which later, he charges, proved to be fictitious. Castle charges he was defrauded out of approximately $4,700 in two similar transactions.

Prosecutor Mercer said that complaints against the Goldman firm, which was closed some weeks ago, total nearly $150,000.

Wife's Suit Charges Mate Attempted to Hang Her

Mrs. Kathryn Du Plessis, 2327 Lunt avenue, yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Circuit court against Wilfred Du Plessis, an electrician. Mrs. Du Plessis alleges that her husband tried to hang her in a clothes closet in their home last Feb. 27. She asks for allmony and the custody of four sons, John, 16 years old; Wilfred Jr., 14; Robert, 13, and Richard, 7. She won a divorce on charges of cruelty in 1924 and remarried her husband the following year for the sake of their children, she avers.

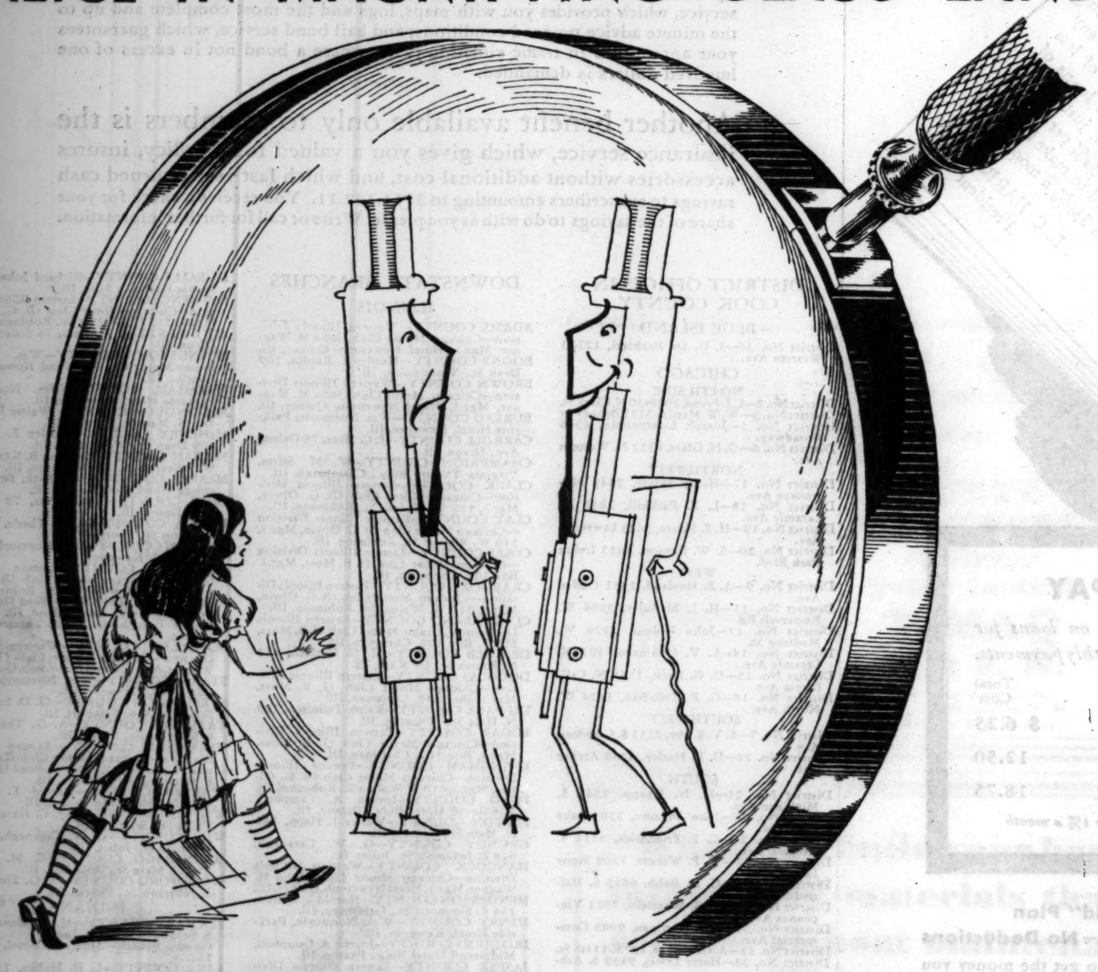
ALICE IN MAGNIFYING-GLASS LAND



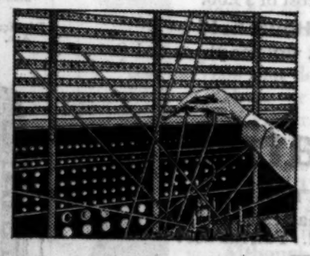
The Switchboard Jack that lost by a hair . . .

AT the Western Electric telephone workshop the magnifying glass showed Alice things that were much too small to see without its help.

Little distances like one one-thousandth of an inch became immensely big and important. Here was a switchboard jack discarded because it failed to measure up to requirements by the thickness of a hair!

Producing 110,000 different kinds of parts and assembling millions of them into the telephone apparatus for the Bell System is probably the most intricate job in all industry.

The faithful service that all this equipment gives depends upon the pains taken by Hawthorne workers in making, inspecting and testing every part—no matter how tiny.



The switchboard jack, into which the operator plugs, must be made exactly right and must pass the magnifying glass inspection.

PURDUE WINS BIG 10 TITLE; BEATS MICHIGAN, 44-28

HARMESON AND MURPHY LEAD BOILERMAKERS

Truskowski, Lovell Star for Losers.

McCracken by Point

BRANCH M'CRACKEN, captain of the Indiana quintet, last night virtually assured himself of high scoring honors in the western conference. The Indiana center counted 17 points in the Minnesota game with four field goals and nine free throws to lead Stretch Murphy of Purdue by a point.

Before last night's games the Hoosier stars had been tied with 112 points each. Murphy registered six field goals and four free throws at Ann Arbor for a total of 128.

Since Indiana is playing a twelve game schedule and has two contests remaining and Purdue has a single game left on its ten game schedule, McCracken seems certain of 1930 scoring honors.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 3.—[Special.] — Purdue's brilliant riveters clinched the Western conference basketball title tonight when Michigan failed utterly to stem the tide from the Wabash.

A crowd of more than ten thousand watched Co-Capts. Stretch Murphy and Glen Harmeson run rough shod over the Wolverines, 44 to 28. The victory tonight gave Purdue its second straight major championship, a new record for the Boilermakers.

The fact that Michigan tallied the greatest number of points a conference team has scored against the Boilermakers and held them even the second half did not matter. Coach Ward Lambert's machine won the game and championship in the first 15 minutes of play.

Tonight's defeat was the worst a Michigan basketball five has suffered since the 1927-'28 season and the score one of the three or four highest recorded in five years.

Harmeson Purdue Star.

Glenn Harmeson roused himself into stardom tonight.

Murphy and Harmeson each sank six baskets, but Stretch had four free throws to his mate's one and led the scoring with 16 points.

Michigan was behind from the very outset, flashy little Johnny Wooden starting the title bound Purdue five on its way with a basket a second after the opening whistle.

Lead 27 to 12 at Half.

A free throw by Murphy and a basket by Boots followed, but Joe Truskowski kept the Wolverines in the swim for the moment with a free throw and a basket. From then on, however, the perfectly oiled Lambert five swept on irresistibly until it was 27 to 12 at the half.

In the first half Harmeson gave Capt. Bob Chapman plenty of work. The Purdue forward counted four of his six baskets before the intermission.

In the second half the Michigan defense, which has not cracked in two years as it did tonight, functioned again. Harmeson opened with a field goal. Michigan then came through in her most determined scoring effort of the game. Capt. Chapman crashed through the Boilermaker defense for two baskets in a row. Lovell followed suit with another.

INDIANA WINS, 31-25

Bloomington, Ind., March 3.—[Special.]—In one of the best games played here this year Indiana turned back Minnesota five, 31 to 25.

Capt. Branch McCracken, after being fouled time after time by the Minnesota guards, came back each time to boost the Indiana scoring column.

The game was rough throughout with Minnesota committing 16 fouls to 9 for Indiana. Veller, Crimson guard, and Loose, Gopher forward, went out on personal fouls. The score was tied seven times during the contest at 5-5, 13-13, 17-17, 18-18, 20-20, 21-21, and 23-23. The lineup:

De Paul Freshmen Win C. A. A. U. Cage Tourney

De Paul university freshmen defeated the Briggs Realty company quintet for the Central A. A. U. basketball title last night on the former's floor. The score was 24 to 15. Heinie Coan featured for the victors, scoring five baskets. The Golan Athletic club won third place.

THE GUMPS—SUNSHINE AND SHADOW

OH, ANDY— I JUST WANT YOU TO LOOK— HE'S GETTING SO CUTE I'M AFRAID TO PICK HIM UP— FOR FEAR I'LL HUG HIM TO DEATH— I LOVE HIM SO— HE SAYS "DADDY" AS PLAIN NOW— AND ANOTHER TOOTH COMING— JUST LOOK AT THAT CUTE LITTLE DIMPLE—
THERE'S A BOY— MORE LIKE HIS DAD EVERY DAY—
I WOULDN'T TAKE A MILLION DOLLARS FOR MY LITTLE BROTHER
POOR UNCLE BIM— POOR, OLD, LONESOME, UNCLE BIM— THIS SCENE OF LOVE— DEVOTION— AND AFFECTION— THIS SIMPLE LITTLE GROUP— SO HAPPILY UNITED BY FAMILY TIES HAS COMPLETELY UPSET HIM—HOME SWEET HOME— SOMETHING I NEVER KNEW—
WHY— ARE SOME FAVORED WITH SO MUCH HAPPINESS? AND WHY AM I SO HOMELESS AND ALONE? WHY ARE SOME BLESSED WITH A GOOD WIFE AND DON'T APPRECIATE THEM AND SEEK DIVORCE? AND WHY— ARE SOME THAT CANNOT PROVIDE PROPERLY— BLESSED WITH A LARGE FAMILY WHILE I HUNGER AND STARVE— FOR THE VERY THOUGHTS OF A GOOD HOME— WIFE AND CHILDREN?

HOCKEY TONIGHT.
New York Rangers at Chicago.
Les Canadiens at Boston.
Montreal at Ottawa.
New York Americans at Toronto.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Nearing the end of a race for second place which has been neck and neck since the hockey season opened last November, the Chicago Blackhawks and New York Rangers play their final and probably deciding game at the Stadium tonight. They enter tonight's engagement tied, each with 40 points, and, inasmuch as the Rangers have only four more games to play and the Hawks five, the contest may decide the final ranking. Sunday night the Hawks defeated the Pirates, 3 to 0.

If the earlier games are any criterion, the game should be bitterly fought, with both teams trying to beat the other into submission by heavy body checks, as well as goals. The last game between the two teams in Chicago was marked by three fist fights.

The Hawks won that game, 2 to 1, and in the last contest at Madison Square Garden they tied, 1 to 1, but the Rangers hold a seasonal advantage over the Chicagoans. The New Yorkers have won three and tied one of the five games played against the Hawks, opening the season with two victories.

Hawks Return March 13.

The game will be the Hawks' last home contest until March 13, as immediately after the game they leave on an eastern jaunt, on which they will play Pittsburgh, the New York Americans, and Boston, returning to finish the season at the Stadium against Boston and Toronto. After tonight's game the Rangers have yet to play Boston, Pittsburgh, and two games against Les Canadiens.

In Frank Boucher, center, and Bill and Bun Cook, the Rangers have the smoothest working and fastest scoring first line in hockey, but it is the second line of Murray Murdoch, Butch Keeling, and Thompson who have been doing the most damage in the later games. The Rangers have a slight handicap, however, in the loss of Ching Johnson, the big defense star, whose jaw bone was broken a few weeks ago.

Hawks in Good Shape.

Except for Vic Ripley and Marvin Wentworth, who aren't really ill, but just "under the weather," the Hawks are in good condition. Probably Stewart Adams will be the Hawk given a rest tonight, but the others will be on the ice determined to put themselves solidly into second place.

Tilden Shows Europe He's Not Slipping

MONTE CARLO, March 3.—(AP)—Bill Tilden, although 37 years of age, is still good enough to take on two of the greatest players in the world in successive days and beat them in straight sets.

In the final of the Monte Carlo singles championship today he trimmed Henry Austin of England, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1, demonstrating his superiority as decisively as he did in eliminating the Italian star, Baron H. L. De Morpurgo, yesterday.

Service Powerful Weapon.

The American champion's service again was a powerful weapon against Austin, the top ranking English star being unable to break through for a single game. The veteran also proved better able to adapt his game to the peculiar weather conditions. Throughout the match the courts were swept by a terrific wind which affected Tilden's fierce drives little, but blew Austin's gentler returns yards outside.

Tilden was never in the slightest danger of losing the match, and the nine games that Austin was able to win were scattered. The Englishman managed to take one more game than De Morpurgo did yesterday, however.

Tilden Surprises Fans.

Tennis followers who saw Tilden deal successfully with the puzzling styles of De Morpurgo, who is ranked ninth among the world's great players, and Austin, No. 7 in the same list, declared Tilden never has played better in Europe in recent years. Last season, it was recalled, De Morpurgo forced him to five sets.

In subduing the Italian and English Davis cup aces, Tilden has beaten the two best European players now competing on the courts of the continent except the French and justified his own present world ranking of third behind Cochet and Lacoste just when most critics thought he was slipping.

Athletics Brings Loyalty, Says New Head of School

"Athletics is a part, and not always an unworthy part, of the work a university has to do," Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president elect of the University of California, informed alumni of the Chicago chapter, in an address last night at the Allerton house. "It is as true as it is commonplace," he added, "to say that loyalty depends as much upon athletics and especially football, as it does upon proceedings in university classrooms. At Berkeley we have been unusually fortunate with football teams. They have spread our name and fame."

McCarthy to Send Rookie Hurler Against Los Angeles

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Axelon, Calif., March 3.—Training for the Cubs today was confined to such thrilling practices as bridge, pinochle, plain fibbing, and a bit of throwing from which all except the battery men were excluded. This program was made necessary by a rainy, raw atmosphere which reminded everybody in the party that a pounding radiator in southern California in March is every bit as comforting as one in Chicago.

CLIFF HEATHCOTE

So long as the pitchers are well along in their preparatory problems McCarthy could have dispensed with practice, but his is a nature which revolts at the thought of loafing, so he put the boys to work so that he himself would not suffer from an afternoon of ennui. He probably would have included the outfielders and infielders in the drill if he hadn't known that Hornsby, Bell, English, and the sundodging Wilson would have been subjected to unnecessary pain and risk if ordered to try out their sore feet on a slippery field.

McCarthy plans to let his choicest pitching recruit, Lynn Birchard Nelson, show his stuff in one of the exhibitions scheduled for Saturday and Sunday with the Angels at Los Angeles. All this attention is being showered upon Nelson because he continues to be the one candidate among the new hurlers who appears to be worthy a job as a regular starter during the coming season. McCarthy wants to give the fellow all the opportunity possible.

It is an easy matter to explain just why the manager has taken a particular fancy to the rookie from Kansas City. A year ago when the Cubs were doing their customary four day show in that town Nelson pitched against them in one game, and pitched so well that nobody present would have suspected he was facing the best hitting team in the National league. He simply threw the ball where their bats weren't swinging and right then and there McCarthy laid plans for purchasing the young man. The Cub boss figured that any pitcher able to make his hitters bury the bats should be good enough to provoke the same activity among other teams in the circuit.

Nelson is a fellow erected on the same stocky lines of Charley Root. He bears further resemblance to the star veteran in the way of delivery. The newcomer has a motion that is half way between overhand and side arm. His principal stock in trade is a fast ball, but he mixes it with a change of pace. With these he has control, at least he had it in the American association, which is only about two steps below a major league. His record at Kansas City last year was 15 wins and 6 defeats. He has been pitching only about five years, but seems to be one of those guys able to learn quickly.

Aside from having to weed out a few unripe pitchers McCarthy will not be called upon to do much ax swinging. In the outfield he has only his three regulars with Heathcote and Dan Taylor for reserve. For the infield he will keep Blair and Beck as utility men. This means Tolson is sure to go which is not news, and that the only other infield candidate, Herman Jones, from the Greenville, N. C., team, will be farmed out. Jones can play first base, a position now vacant on William Wrigley's Los Angeles team. That is where the young man may land.

JOCKEYS HURT IN TWO ACCIDENTS AT HIALEAH PARK

Twin Spills Send Five to Hospital.

Miami, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Robert Leishman, youthful contract rider for W. J. Salmon, was seriously injured and Jockey George Fields received a broken leg today, when three horses fell in the first race at Hialeah Park. Jockey F. Halbert escaped with minor bruises.

FLOYD HALBERT

Get Goin', with Halbert in the saddle, and Jane, Felds up, were the first of the trio of juvenile thoroughbreds to fall. Leishman, who was following close behind at the first furlong pole on Gen. Keeps, attempted to clear the fallen horses but failed. He was tossed from his mount as Gen. Keeps fell on top of the heap, rolling directly in front of another horse.

All three boys were knocked unconscious but Halbert quickly recovered Leishman was rushed to a hospital, where an examination showed he had been injured seriously.

Another spill occurred in the running of the third race but the two jockeys involved, S. Renick and J. McCoy, escaped with only minor injuries. The accident took place when Baby Blimp, Renick up, stepped in a hole just before turning into the stretch. The horse went down and Theolex, with McCoy aboard, fell over him. Both boys were rushed to the emergency hospital in the paddock.

CARNERA TAKES SIX ROUNDS FOR ANOTHER K. O.

The unofficial attendance figures were 10,000 and receipts about $35,000. Carnera's share, it was said, would be between $10,000 and $12,000.

Carnera scored his knockout in the sixth after he had floored Clark in the fourth for counts of nine and eight. Up to the finish the battle had been comparatively even.

In the fifth Clark bounced two hard rights off Primo's left eye, and it was tightly closed and swollen to the size of an egg when they resumed hostilities in the sixth.

TO FIGHT WIGGINS.

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, giant Italian boxer, will meet Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis at the Arena here March 17.

Winning Rider in Race for $80,000 Gold Brick Dies

Denver, Col., March 3.—(AP)—Eugene H. Teats, who in 1861 rode Chief, a horse that beat Border Ruffian for a gold brick worth $80,000, died today.

Pioneer, miner, and traveler through the old west, Teats was born in Mount Clemens, Mich., in 1847.

He was 14 when he piloted Chief to victory. Followers of both horses pooled two $40,000 sacks of gold dust and had them molded into an $80,000 gold brick which was hung over the finish line.

150 Horses Are Nominated for American Derby

BY FRENCH LANE.

If you own a 3 year old thoroughbred horse and forgot to nominate him yesterday for the $50,000 added American Derby, your silks will be missing when the old turf fixture is renewed at Washington Park next June.

Entries for the American Derby closed last midnight along with the entries for seven other stakes, the total value of which will be $90,000 in added money. It was reported at the Washington Park Jockey club offices the entry list will go beyond 150, but if Whichone and Boojum, Harry Payne Whitney's great pair, were made eligible their entry had not been forwarded to the Chicago offices.

C. W. Hay, general manager of the Washington Park course, and Martin Nathanson, one of the stewards, have been receiving the Derby nominations, the former being at Miami and the latter at New Orleans.

The winter track sensation, High Foot, Fred A. Burton's Dedicate, J. N. Camden's Sydney, the Agua Caliente Derby winner, Greyola; Pat Joyce's Dick O'Hara, the Audley Farm stable's Gallant Knight, and the fleet Silly Galaday are reported to be among the leading western 3 year olds nominated. C. W. Hay, on a swing through the east, is reported to have lined up most of the leading eastern 3 year olds.

Gifford A. Cochran, New York sportsman and owner of the fashionable 3 year old, Flying Heels, will arrive in Chicago today for a short stay. Before departing he will make arrangements to race his horses at Arlington Park in July, and he may make plans to race his extensive string in Chicago most of the season. Besides Flying Heels, Mr. Cochran has another outstanding 3 year old in The Beasel. His horses are trained by the veteran, Henry McDaniels, and Bill Kelsay is the stable rider.

Chicagoans who like to take a little flyer in the Kentucky Derby future book are searching in vain for a layer who will handle their wagers. There isn't a future book operating here.

3 Bike Teams Tied for Lead in N. Y. Grind

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—The six day bicycle race continued tonight at Madison Square Garden, where the fifteen teams engaged in the week long grind whirled along at a merry pace for the second night of their grind.

Letourner and Brocardo fought their way into a tie for first place with McNamara and Winter after a bitter jamming spree. The Red Devils were shaken off soon afterward when the Iron Man and his partner started a wild session that produced a lap for them, enabling them to take the lead once more.

The French Devils persisted in their attempts on the lead and again succeeded in gaining a share of the lead position when they advanced together with Belloni-Debaets into a triple tie for the lead at midnight.

SHIRES, JOLLEY, KAMM, METZLER FAIL TO REPORT

Officials Advance No Explanation.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., March 3.—It cannot be said that there is much time spent here predicting a pennant for the White Sox of 1930. But life in Mr. Comiskey's camp is far from monotonous. Take tonight for instance:

WILLIE KAMM.

1 The Great Shires, who cost $22,500 on the hoof and claims an increment on himself of at least a million dollars, is in town and has visited every hotel in the metropolitan area except the one housing his erstwhile teammates.

2 Smead Carnera Jolley, $50,000 outfielder, counted upon to give the Sox some batting punch, reported for a week to be traveling overland to San Antonio, is lost some place in the cactus country. It is feared he tried to make the trip on a bicycle and may be dying of thirst this minute.

3 Willie Kamm, representing an original investment of $100,000, and for six years leading third baseman of the American league, and recently deposed as captain, may have fallen off a ferry on the way from San Francisco to Oakland, so far as Sox officials know, according to their naive announcements.

4 Alex Metzler, once deemed a rare bargain at $10,000, cash in hand paid to the Wichita Falls club of the Texas league, but now a little shopworn, may be an amnesia victim for all the Sox know. A posse is reported looking for him in the vineyards near Fresno, Cal.

They Carry Identifications.

Manager Donie Bush advises that these four wandering chattels may be identified by unsigned contracts which they are thought to be carrying around in their pockets. But Donie has been around the camp long enough not to be certain of anything pertaining to the business office, thus proving again that he's a smart feller and knows which side his bread's buttered on.

We'd like to tell you why these several athletes are indignant if they are indignant but every time we ask, we are advised that the public is more interested in the young men who are engrossed in their diamond work than those who are selfishly looking after their purses. This lecture always leaves us flattened and without the power to summon further interrogations.

Of course, three of the aforementioned boys, Shires being the positive exception, may be happy and everything. But there's one thing that is as sure as shootin'—four ball players looked upon as certain regulars, and three of 'em highly important factors in Sox hopes, are three days late.

But that's the ball players' business, and no concern of ours but for the mystery and the whispering of it all.

Now about Shires: He drove into town shortly before 9 o'clock, and, with a heavy bodyguard, went directly to the headquarters of the New York Giants before registering in a suite at the Blue Bonnet hotel, one of the smaller hostelleries here.

Shires Says He's Through.

He sought out Dick Kinsella and Hans Lobert of the Giants' scouting staff, and told them he was through with baseball. They told of the interview and sleuths were immediately on the trail.

Finally Arthur was located in the Blue Bonnet, still surrounded by his bodyguards, who he said were Texas Rangers, though they looked like ball players out of work.

Arthur's poise was perfect—he never was more debonair. He had abandoned his movie director disguise for the makeup so well known to other night club hangers-on in Chicago. You know, the spats, the stick, the yaller gloves, and all.

"There's no use of my going over to the Gunter (Sox headquarters)" Shires said. "Even if I signed they'd be suspending me every week or so and taking away my dough, as they did last year.

"I'm fixing to buy a grapefruit ranch and I expect to make more money than I ever would out of baseball.

Strong for Grapefruit.

"Members of my family have advised me to return to the ring, but I'm not strong for that idea and I'm sold on the grapefruit gag."

Victor Frasier, sturdy right handed pitcher, today won the gratifying distinction of being the first rookie to be officially designated for retention.

"Unless he breaks a leg or something he'll be with us for a long, long time," was the way Bush put it.

Vic will not be simply a bull pen or batting practice pitcher, according to Bush's plans for him. Donie expects him to be winning ball games in the American league by June and maybe sooner.

COLD HANDICAPS CARDS' WORKOUT AT BRADENTON

Frisch Delays Sending In His Contract.

Bradenton, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Manager Gabby Street sent his Cardinals through two workouts today, despite a cold wind, and two sessions daily will be the program throughout the training season except on days when exhibition games are scheduled.

Only eight Red Birds were missing when noses were counted this afternoon. Those absent were Frankie Frisch, Chick Hafey, Taylor Douthit, Flint Rhem, Sylvester Johnson, Carmen Hill, John Martin, and Jess Fowler. President Sam Bredon said Frisch was the only Cardinal player whose signed contract had not been received, but he did not consider him a holdout and expected him to bring in his contract "any day now."

BABE STILL UNSIGNED.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Winter, returning to the lap of spring, today curtailed baseball operations in the Yankee camp. The unexpected cold snap took the edge from the season's debut of Babe Ruth. The big slugger, although not signed to a contract for 1930 play, reported to Manager Bob Shawkey.

The big fellow, wrapped in the generous folds of a sweatshirt, ran around, played first base, threw a few balls and went to bat a dozen times. He carefully guarded his valuable hands, not yet even mildly accustomed to swinging a bat, and made no effort to hit hard.

VANCE TAKES IT EASY.

Clearwater, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, took a weather observation early today and decided that his players could best keep warm by working so he ordered two practice periods.

Arthur Vance, the "dazzler" of the Brooklyn pitching staff, gave a tip to the youngsters on the squad when he ran around the field an even dozen times. The strikeout star exercised his legs instead of his arms and refrained from throwing a baseball at either practice.

COLD AT TAMPA, TOO.

Tampa, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Stanley Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers, told his athletes today to be careful in an effort to avoid falling victim to the sudden change in the weather. The Tigers worked harder than ever, probably for the reason that the only comfortable persons on the field were those in motion.

Robert R. Fothergil, pinch hitter extraordinary, was among the players reporting today. Fothergil, who carried plenty of weight to keep him warm, laughed at the weather.

COLLINS, HALE JOIN BROWNS.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns' practice period was shortened today by cold weather. The squad was increased by the arrival of Rip Collins and Sammy Hale, late of the Athletics. The younger pitchers are about ready to do some bearing down on the mound and when the rest of the squad gets here tomorrow serious batting practice will be taken up.

SCOTT SIGNS WITH GIANTS.

San Antonio, Tex., March 3.—(AP)—While the New York Giants had morning and afternoon workouts here today in efforts to keep warm, Jack Scott, veteran right handed pitcher, took occasion to sign a contract for 1930. Old Jack has been at the camp all along but he couldn't seem to reach an accord with Manager John McGraw on the questions of salary until today.

Freddie Lindstrom was expected to put in an appearance but failed to show up.

PIRATES WATER SOAKED.

Paso Robles, Cal., March 3.—(AP)—Holdouts, charley horses, and other baseball training worries have begun to dim in the mind of Jewel Ens, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, before a greater worry—rain.

Rain cut deeply in today's practice program and the monthly forecast from the observatory at San Diego indicated strong possibility of much rainfall throughout the training period.

REDS GET STARTED.

Orlando, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Thirty players, including eight members of the Peoria club, assembled on Tinker field here today for the first practice of the Cincinnati Reds' training season with the probability that eight more men will report tomorrow. Despite the cold weather the veterans showed a willingness for work equal to that of the recruits.

Dan Howley, new manager, was the first to don his uniform and lead a practice session that lasted more than three hours. Pepper games and trots around the park took up most of the time.

Here's an Indiana Town Lukewarm to Cage Team

Noblesville, Ind., March 3.—[Special.]—Strange as it seems, there is a community in Indiana which is not wild over its basketball. Noblesville High school played seventeen games this season. Fifteen were defeats. The team lost to Windfall, 21-8, in the sectional tournament. Attendance has been so poor all year that the school's athletic treasury is about bankrupt. There is doubt whether a team will be attempted next year.

Peters Defeats Lepper in Chicago 3-Cushion League

Edward Peters took two games from Harry Lepper in the Chicago three cushion billiard league last night at the Southland recreation rooms, and Charles Stolle and Joe Wright divided a pair of games at the Sheridan recreation rooms. Earl Lookabaugh continues to lead the league, with four contestants trailing closely behind.

Sutton Wins First Block of Cue Comeback Match

George Butler Sutton, 69 year old former world 18.2 balkline billiard champion, last night inaugurated his comeback attempt with a 300 to 173 victory over Percy N. Collins in the first block of their 600 point match. Sutton started slowly, but found himself near the close and had an unfinished high run of 55.

OSPREYS' CRIES BREAK SILENCE IN FLORIDA WILDS

Bass Lure Bob to Wilderness Lake.

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Blue Cypress Lake, Fla., March 3.—Pushing through tall dead cypress trees covered with Spanish moss to reach this wilderness bass lake, set in the heart of a desolate swamp, we found the ospreys on the reception committee. And what a greeting, after miles of lonely road through a lonesome land!

This famous bass lake, which is some 25 miles from the little settlement of Fort Drum, is no setup, because that mileage is over a rough sandy road. It's a road that sort of gets you because it keeps taking you deeper and deeper into a wilderness that still belongs to the sandhill cranes, the long nosed storks, wild turkeys, and tall blue herons.

Ospreys' Screams Break Silence.

When you finally wade through the marsh near the lake and shove your boat through the cypress timber which crowds to the water's edge you wouldn't mind hearing the putt-putt of a motor or the honk of an automobile horn, just to relieve the oppressive silence. But there were the ospreys screaming at us when we finally paddled out on the lake.

The ospreys were building a new house. They didn't care about intruders who were going to interrupt their building operations on top of an old cypress stump. They were making a large, bulky nest of sticks.

Bass, Croppies Bite.

Although our time on Blue Cypress lake was limited, there was "enough of fishing to explain her reputation." We found one little bay, protected against the strong northeast wind, where bass and large, richly colored croppies struck artificial lure so fast that Kelly Day, at the oars, was hard pressed to string fish and keep the paddles going. One metal underwater pork strip lure and two varieties of deep traveling wobblers raised havoc with the fish, but at that the small ones got off easy, because they went back to the water unharmed. When you are on Blue Cypress on a normal day you do not keep a bass which weighs less than three or four pounds.

Iowa Sees Chance to Keep Big 10 Indoor Championship

Iowa City, Ia., March 3.—[Special.]—Prospects of a free-for-all scramble for the Big Ten indoor track and field championship at Minneapolis Friday and Saturday increase the University of Iowa's chances of retaining the team title which the Hawkeyes won here last year.

On the basis of early showings, no team looms as a favorite. Though there are few outstanding stars in the ranks of the Hawkeye cindermen, Old Gold supporters are hopeful that Coach George Bresnahan's well balanced team can muster enough second, third, and fourth places to swell the Iowa point total to championship proportions.

Gordon Looms as Winner.

With the broad jump added to the program, Iowa hopes are strengthened. Edward Gordon, Negro broad jumper, who competed on the American Olympic team in 1928 and added a long string of titles to his collection last spring, is regarded as an almost certain winner.

Gordon also is counted upon for points in the high jump, having approached six feet two inches last season and having bettered six feet last Saturday. Snow of Wisconsin, a 6 foot 2 inch performer, probably will be his chief rival.

Despite opposition from Warne of Northwestern, Henry Canby, Iowa pole vaulter, is counted upon as a point winner. Canby holds the conference indoor record of 13 feet 7½ inches with which he won the event last season.

Moulton Hope in Half-mile.

Though Martin, Purdue's great middle-distance runner, is expected to dominate the field in the half-mile, Iowans look to Jack Moulton for points in the event. The Hawkeye 880 man has bettered 1:58 this season.

George Saling will meet stiff competition from Hayden of Chicago, Rodgers of Illinois, and Brandt of Wisconsin, but is likely to pick up points in the high hurdles as he did last year. Roberts in the shot put, Depping and Ferguson in the quarter, and a powerful one mile relay team also are expected to contribute to the Hawkeye total.

TAYLOR TRUNKS TO MEET ACES HERE TOMORROW

The Taylor Trunks will meet the Cleveland Allerton Aces tomorrow and Thursday night at Chicago Stadium for the national girls' championship. The Trunks have been mowing down their opposition with such ease that it has grown monotonous. But Cleveland, national champs before the Trunks, has a team certain to give the local girls plenty of trouble.

The two games will be played as added features to the Chicago Bruins' contests with the Paterson, N. J., professional quintet. The Bruins need a double win from the Crescents to stay in the race.

Tampa, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—The ten round Negro featherweight fight scheduled here tonight between Kid Chocolate of Cuba and Benny Hall of St. Louis has been postponed until Wednesday night because of cold weather.

100 Respond to Kizer's Call for Purdue Grid Men

Lafayette, Ind., March 3.—[Special.]—One hundred members of Purdue's Big Ten championship football squad reported this afternoon for the first of a series of informal meetings that will be conducted prior to the start of spring practice. Noble Kizer, Purdue's energetic new head coach, intends to start the spring drills as soon as the weather breaks and the ground softens up, but while waiting for the weatherman to relent will hold meetings at regular intervals for the purpose of outlining his plans for the 1930 season.

Most of the early work in the spring drills will be concentrated on ends and half backs for all of the regular ends, and Glen Harmeson and Ralph Welch, half backs, will be lost to the squad next season.

ILLINOIS QUINTET INVADES MAROON COURT TONIGHT

Champaign, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—The University of Illinois basketball team will play its final game of the season at Chicago Wednesday without Horse May, 6 foot 4 inch center, who broke a bone in his right hand in the game with Michigan Saturday, and probably without Bur Harper, who has been ill since last week.

The Illini defeated the Maroons by three points earlier in the season, but without May and Harper the outcome of this game is doubtful. Harper has been the hub of the Illinois offense all season, while May's ability to get the tip off has been a potent factor in the success of the team.

Although Coach Ruby refuses to name a lineup, it is probable that he will use Tarwain at center, Bartholomew and Babe Kemp, forwards, and Capt. Doug Mills and Ed Kawal guards. Mills is the only veteran on this team. Although Bur Harper has not been dismissed from the hospital, he will make the trip to the Midway unless he has a relapse.

Bill Morris Lame; Beaten for First Time

New Orleans, La., March 3.—(AP)—Bill Morris, a king in the juvenile turf realm, bowed his head in defeat for the first time in his short racing career as Prince d'Amour created a new three furlong track record in winning the Louisiana Juvenile stakes and $3,425 at the fair grounds today.

But the big brown colt from the stable of Knebelkamp & Morris went down to his initial defeat in five starts with a perfect alibi. After displaying a gameness seldom seen on the turf, the champion pulled up lame.

Even while parading before the grandstand preceding the race, the colt was noticed to be favoring his right hind leg. Upon his return to be unsaddled the youngster appeared to be limping more than ever and judging from the manner in which he returned to his stable, it probably will be some time before he is seen under colors again.

Even with Bill Morris lame, Prince d'Amour ran a great race, clipping one-fifth second off the old track record made by Miss Minerva in 1922. His time was 34 2-5 seconds. As the band of turf babies flashed past the judges' stand the J. Leiter colt was six lengths in front of W. Z. Martin's Lauran Negley with Schooner from the Rancocas stable third.

The winner, coupled with Prince Zeus, was the second choice in the wagering, paying $8.30 for a $2 mutuel ticket. Bill Morris was established such a stoutly supported choice that had he won the payoff would have been made at the rate of 45 cents on the dollar.

Mandell, McLarnin Get $18,541 for Stadium Bout

Jimmy McLarnin yesterday was paid $18,541.89 for whipping Sammy Mandell at Chicago Stadium Saturday night. The lightweight champion drew a check for the same amount. The show grossed $76,080.32.

K. C. STAR CAGE TEAM DEFEATS BRUINS, 27 TO 24

The Knights of Columbus all-star basketball team defeated the Chicago Bruins last night at White City, 27 to 24. Four thousand five hundred, a capacity crowd, watched the game, the proceeds of which go to Joe Gannon, a former member of the Dowling quintet.

Charlie Murphy, Loyola center and a member of Damen council, starred for the K. C. five, scoring three field goals and one free throw. Cunningham and Mahoney also scored twice, each for the All-Stars. Hickey and Holman led the Bruins' attack. The pro team led at the half, 12 to 11.

PICK C. A. A. FOR GOLDEN GLOVES TRAINING CAMP

Work Out Details of Chicago Drill.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

The Chicago Golden Gloves amateur boxing team which will meet New York in an intercity series of bouts at the Chicago Stadium on March 19 will go into training at the Chicago Athletic association on March 12.

Sheldon Clark, chairman of the Cherry Circle athletic committee, yesterday gave his consent to have the boys finish preparation at the club. They will have the use of the gymnasium from 1 to 3 o'clock every afternoon. They will do road work in Grant park or the Stadium in the mornings.

"As chairman of the athletic committee of the C. A. A., I am pleased to offer the equipment of the club," Mr. Clark said yesterday. "We want the Chicago boys to be in the best of condition and one of the ways to put them in shape is to give them the facilities of our club."

Delaporte Builds Ring.

E. C. Delaporte, physical director of the C. A. A., has made arrangements to have a ring erected in one corner of the gymnasium. He will also arrange for special dressing quarters, while expert rubbers will be engaged to handle the boys after their workouts. Special cards will be issued to the boxers and their handlers.

Johnny Behr, physical instructor of the Illinois A. C., S. H. "Doc" Davenport, assistant physical instructor of the C. A. A., and Jabber Young of the Belle Plaine A. C. will see that the Chicago boys go on the road in the mornings and box in the afternoon. The fighters will be instructed to pull the weights for three minutes, skip the rope for the same length of time and box three minute rounds.

New York Here March 14.

Members of the Chicago team have been requested not to engage in bouts before the New York show. Alternates in every class will be chosen this week so that substitutions can be made in case of injuries or sickness to any of the regulars.

The New York team will arrive in Chicago five days before the contests. The eastern squad will be quartered at the Medinah A. C. Plans have been made to take the boxers to Lincoln park for road work.

Tickets for the inter-city series of bouts are on sale at THE TRIBUNE public service office, 1 South Dearborn street.

Gets Four Billion Dollar Rating.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Enter the world's first $4,000,000,000 corporation. It is the American publicly owned Bell system, which is controlled by the American Telephone and Telegraph company. The Bell system stepped into a new class last year when its assets rose to $4,228,430,088, representing an increase of more than $400,000,000 during the year.

The Bell system includes American Telephone and Telegraph and its twenty-four associated operating telephone companies. The assets of American Telephone alone were $2,477,023,550 at the end of 1929. The capital stock of the Bell system outstanding in the hands of the public on Dec. 31, 1929, stood at $1,611,862,252, and its long term debt was $1,148,539,684. These items include American Telephone's $1,222,329,800 capital stock and $531,315,303 bonds and notes. In addition there is $72,155,611 in installments on stock not yet paid for and issued.

The chief assets of the American Telephone company are its investment of $1,589,327,375 in stocks of associated companies and stocks of other companies carried at $138,158,952. Its own plant and equipment are valued at $350,933,218. It also holds $338,282,932 in bonds, notes and advances for its subsidiaries.

Has Record Growth.

Last year was a record period for the American Telephone company, measured by the number of telephones added to the national network, by the amount expended for growth, and in other particulars, according to President Walter S. Gifford, who issued his annual report yesterday. About 900,000 telephones were added, bringing the total to 20,096,854 at the end of the year. Total conversations averaged 64,173,144 a day.

A total of $633,000,000 was expended on new construction last year, and more than $700,000,000 will be spent this year. The system now has 469,801 stockholders and 364,045 employés, not including 90,500 employés of the Western Electric company and Bell Telephone Laboratories. About 90,000 of the employés are stockholders.

Net earnings of American Telephone for 1929 are $166,189,757, equivalent to $12.67 a share on the average capital stock outstanding, which was 13,113,746 shares. This compares with net income of $143,170,491, or $12.11 a share, for 1928. After paying dividends of $9 a share last year, excess earnings of $49,810,986 were added to surplus, which now stands at $370,842,536.

Net Totals $11,928,261.

Strong competition in the automobile industry last year and the slump in business during the latter part of the year are reflected in the annual report of the Studebaker corporation, issued last night. The company sold 107,653 cars for $145,303,833 in 1929, compared with 142,696 cars for $177,128,878 in 1928. During the year Studebaker acquired a controlling interest in the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car company.

Net earnings for 1929 were $11,928,261, equivalent after preferred dividends, etc., to $5.53 a share on 1,961,358 common shares of the Studebaker corporation. This compares with 1928 net earnings of $13,431,718, or $7.16 a share on 1,875,000 common shares.

FARM BOARD FACES U. S. QUIZ; RADICAL IRE NOW AROUSED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Investigation of policies of the federal farm board and charges that the grain trade is conspiring against the board became imminent today. The senate committee on agriculture will meet tomorrow to consider a resolution offered today in the senate by Senator Gerald P. Nye [Rep., N. D.] authorizing the committee to conduct an inquiry. It is expected that the committee will approve the resolution and that the senate also will take favorable action.

The action of a conference of farm board members and others in Chicago on Saturday was the immediate cause of the offering of the resolution. Senator Nye, who, heretofore has been inclined to defend the farm board against attacks of other radicals, told the senate that the confidence of the farmers in the board had "quite vanished" as a result of Saturday's action. The farmers were previously, he said, in harmony with the board's program.

Senator Nye, in commenting later in the day on his resolution, said he believed that various phases of the situation, including published reports that grain operators who have handled transactions for the stabilization corporation have been making large profits, should be inquired into. The entire affair, he said, presents a serious condition.

Under the terms of the Nye resolution the senate committee would seek to determine:

1. Whether the federal farm board has been fairly interpreting the agricultural marketing act and carrying out the purposes thereof.

2. Whether the grain trade has conspired to destroy the purpose and effectiveness of such act and to embarrass the federal farm board in the administration thereof, or has instigated such programs in the grain market of the world as would tend to depress the world market for American agricultural products and to reflect such depression upon the domestic marketing for agricultural products for the purposes or discrediting the farm board.

3. Whether the grain trade has been aided in its activities above referred to by banking or credit institutions or other interests.

The resolution authorizes the expenditure of $25,000 in conducting the inquiry.

WHEAT SLUMPS ON CHANGE OF FEDERAL POLICY

U. S. Grain Leaders to Meet Here.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Wheat prices suffered a reaction yesterday following the announcement that the federal farm board would discontinue all purchases of grain except "at the market." The new wheat slump was followed by an announcement last night that executives of all leading grain exchanges in the country will meet in Chicago tomorrow to discuss the relationship of the grain trade and the farm board.

Chicago Board of Trade officials stated, however, that the grain exchange conference had been arranged prior to the announcement of Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde's parley with the farm board and grain coöperative leaders here Saturday. It was said that the decision announced by Chairman Legge at the close of this meeting, to discontinue buying at an arbitrary price, had in a measure at least answered the objections of the grain trade to price manipulations of the farm board's two subsidiary corporations.

New Policy in Effect.

The change in policy of the farm board, effective yesterday morning, discontinued the purchase of "country run" grain by the Farmers' National Grain corporation or the Grain Stabilization corporation at prices fixed last October by the farm board. These so-called basic prices were set up for each grade of wheat and terminal market as the minimum loan value of the farm board for its loans to farmers' coöperatives. When wheat prices fell the farm board made good its pledge by paying cash for wheat at these fixed prices, despite the fact that at times cash wheat was purchasable 10 or 15 cents under the farm board figures.

Both Chairman Legge and Secretary Hyde declared Saturday that they had discovered "roll top farmers" or private grain traders had been "hijacking the farm board by shipping grain from their country elevators into market and selling to the farm board, at the same time buying cash grain or futures in the exchange on the same day at substantially lower prices.

U. S. Continues to Buy.

Several million more bushels of grain were contracted for yesterday by commission firms presumed to have been favored by the governmental agencies' business in Chicago and several other markets. The offering of these bids served as the means of averting another crash in quotations.

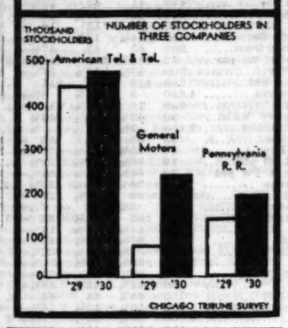
Number of Stockholders Has Increased Sharply in 1930 for These Three Companies



WARNER-QUINLAN CUTS REGULAR DIVIDEND RATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 3.—The Warner-Quinlan company, a leading independent gasoline marketing agency in the New York district, today declared a 25c dividend, instead of the usual 50c dividend previously paid quarterly. The dividend is payable April 3 to stockholders of record March 14. The drop in the dividend rate is one of the first casualties reported in the gasoline price war here.

The Eastern Steamship Lines today declared an initial quarterly dividend of 50c on the common, placing that issue on a $2 annual basis, and the regulation quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the first preferred and 87½c on no par preferred.

Blame Management for Bulk of Business Wastes

BY SCRUTATOR.

How to get rid of waste in industry, estimated to cost at least a half billion dollars in the United States annually, is being discussed this week at the National Management congress at the Stevens hotel. Some 500 engineers and managing executives of large corporations are in attendance.

Management itself, rather than labor or consumer tastes, is responsible for more than half the enormous waste in business, according to one of yesterday's speakers, Virgil Palmer of the Eastman Kodak company.

"For years," he said, "specialized investigators have been striving to drive labor to greater effort. Yet not more than 25 per cent of the wastes can be attributed to labor. More than half is chargeable to managerial inefficiency. In forty concerns surveyed, not one had labor costs higher than the cost of their raw materials."

His point was that the savings to be aimed at now were in the materials rather than in workers' muscle power. This same idea, that the newer science of management does not consist in making a janitor sweep twice as much floor per hour, but in finding ways to handle the by-products of the plants involved, was expressed by several other speakers.

Cites Biggest Problem.

C. B. Auel of the Westinghouse organization declared that the outstanding problem was to convert the wastes into some useful form. He stressed the importance of keeping before the worker the amount that could be saved by efficient use of machinery, and added that manufacturers had begun to find large profits in their old junk piles. A. C. Wilby of the Universal Atlas Cement company spoke along the same lines.

The most serious indictment of management, as contrasted to labor, was given by Henry P. Kendall, president of the Taylor society, the pioneer organization which was founded by the first noted efficiency expert, Frederick W. Taylor, who began by being acclaimed a heretic when he first attacked the established order in industry and ended by being the heroic figure among all battlers against waste.

Need Intelligent Control.

"Increased size of corporate units especially necessitates intelligent control," said Mr. Kendall. "The most insidious evil in business is muddy, unfocused thinking on the part of management. Management must realize that when the principles are right the methods can be adapted to accord with rapid changes in conditions. The speed of events has carried us further during the last twenty-five years than during the preceding 25,000 years."

He averred that while our population was increasing by one-third the value of manufactured products has trebled in the United States and that overhead costs now had a higher percentage of fixed, non-shrinkable items than in other times, and consequently smaller gross profits.

These perhaps are strange words falling on the ears of a public which has long been taught that American prosperity is due to the superiority of the efficiency of its big men. But, as G. C. Dent, chairman of the congress, said, the object is to find ways to make our industries more profitable and there is more room for improvement in the managing end than anywhere else.

A million dollar exhibition of old and new machinery is being held in connection with the congress. One of the interesting showings is an 1899 automobile. The societies participating in the sessions are the Society of Industrial Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Management association, National Association of Cost Accountants and the Taylor society.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 3.—Bear traders played fast and loose with the stock market today. At times they had most of the list on the run. Again, it seemed as if a resumption of last week's remarkable recovery movement was developing.

The end found most of the recognized leaders among the losers, but enough buying was in evidence to give the final price tables a rating of no worse than irregular. Many net gains of from 2 to 5 points appeared.

Utilities again received the bulk of attention, although the tobaccos, some of the rails, and various specialties profited quite handsomely. Oils as a class were strong on the appearance of favorable earning statements for

BUYING IN GAS UTILITIES PEPS UP DULL MARKET

Cities Service Active on Chicago Exchange.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Prospects of favorable developments and reports of possible mergers in the natural gas industry brought buying in a few of the gas utility stocks on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, relieving an otherwise dull and weak market.

United Gas was the most conspicuous issue in the group, although not the most active. Opening more than a point above its previous close the stock maintained a strong tone all day and closed at 37¾, up 3 from Saturday's closing price. Cities Service was more active, with sales exceeding 10,000 shares, selling up to 35 to establish a new high for the year. Missouri Kansas Pipe Line touched 24, but failed to hold its gain and finished down a fraction.

Inland Reports on Income.

Other utility stocks fluctuated within a narrow range. Middle West was firm around 33 and Inland Utilities eased to 25⅞. Inland last night reported earnings before federal taxes for the period from June 20, 1929, the date of consolidation, to Dec. 31, 1929, of $288,352.

Specialties were generally lower at the close. Recent favorites, including Winton Engine and General Theaters Equipment, sold off a point or more.

Motor stocks were uniformly weak. Bendix in early trading sold above Saturday's closing prices, but reacted as the session got under way and closed down a point. Pines Winterfront was off a fraction. Borg crossed 43 during the session but finished unchanged at 42¾.

Grigsby eased a fraction as speculation continued as to what action directors will take on the dividend at the meeting to be held later this week. Atlas Stores improved a point on sales of about 1,200 shares.

Earns $4.77 a Share.

Mapes Consolidated Manufacturing company last night reported net income for the year ended Dec. 31 was $572,422, equivalent to $4.77 a share on the 120,000 shares of no par capital stock outstanding. In 1928 the company made a net profit of $486,613, or $4.05 a share. After payment of the regular dividend and an extra dividend during the year, the sum of $242,442 was transferred to surplus which now stands at $348,328.

Vice President W. H. Mapes stated that volume of business for the year compared favorably with 1928. The directors increased the annual dividend rate from $2 to $3 on Jan. 1.

BARNSDALL CORPORATION

1929 — Eleventh Annual Report — 1929

To the Stockholders:

The Eleventh Annual Report of Barnsdall Corporation and its Subsidiary Companies covering the year ending December 31, 1929 is submitted herewith.

CAPITAL STRUCTURE: There have been no material changes in the capital structure of the Corporation since the last annual report. All of the bonds of Barnsdall Corporation have been retired.

OPERATIONS: Overproduction of petroleum in the industry continued and stocks increased at a rapid rate throughout the year. Conservation efforts encountered serious resistance during the early part of the year. Toward the end of the year, however, production of crude petroleum was approximately balanced with consumption. The Refining Division of the oil industry is in an unsatisfactory condition, prices for refined products at the refineries being generally unfavorable. Because of the conditions existing in the refined oil markets, the Corporation's Refineries were operated during the past year at only about 50% of their capacity.

As a result of unstable conditions, operations of the Corporation have been carried on in harmony with "proration" programs in effect in various fields. As an instance of the Corporation's co-operation in this movement, the Barnsdall-Rio Grande properties at Elwood Terrace, Santa Barbara, California, have an actual flow of 48,000 barrels per day, but under the proration agreement only 20,667 barrels are being produced. Operations in other fields were also reduced to a great extent.

Competent engineers report the proven oil reserves under the properties of the Corporation to be greatly in excess of any heretofore reported.

Realizing the growing importance of retail and wholesale marketing outlets for the refined products of the Corporation, the distributing division facilities have been increased through purchase of an 85% interest in The Brownell Corporation, with headquarters at Sioux Falls, South Dakota. This unit operates twenty-nine bulk stations and thirty-six retail service stations in Iowa and South Dakota and is gradually extending its operations in line with the general policy of the Corporation. The Corporation has also added six bulk stations and twenty-eight service stations to its distributing system in the States in which it has heretofore operated, the total facilities in this department being as follows:

State	Bulk Stations	Service Stations Owned	Service Stations Leased	Total Stations
Arkansas	22	12	23	57
Illinois	9	5	5	19
Kansas	32	17	102	151
Missouri	40	11	120	171
Oklahoma	50	49	31	130
Total (Barnsdall) Stations	153	94	281	528
Brownell Corporation	29	28	8	65
Grand Total	182	122	289	593

The Land and Geological Department has been active in protecting future operations of the Company. Due to expiration of leases, or as a result of drilling having indicated that the area would be unproductive, a total of 56,000 acres was surrendered. Carefully selected leases were purchased through the various prospective fields, aggregating 140,000 acres, with a net increase in unoperated acreage of over 80,000 acres as compared with that at the end of 1928.

During the year, subsidiary companies completed 111 wells, of which 70 were oil wells, 3 were gas wells and 38, unproductive. The daily average net production during the year 1929 was 27,581 barrels, compared with 25,919 barrels in 1928. Of the 1929 production, less than 1% was in the heavy oil class.

A summary of acreage and wells in which the Corporation and its subsidiaries owned interests on December 31, 1929, follows:

	Oil & Gas Wells	ACREAGE Operated	ACREAGE Unoperated
Arkansas			1,020.00
California	124	1,301.26	4,330.49
Indiana	13	172.00
Illinois	22	120.00	80.00
Kansas	136	2,692.00	150,326.37
Louisiana			215.00
New Mexico			29,775.00
Oklahoma	1,790	36,880.10	50,848.22
Ohio	184	3,301.04	826.00
Pennsylvania	291	4,355.50	139.25
Texas	177	4,519.08	91,583.84
	3,053	75,868.91	333,174.41

Natural Gas (M Cu. Ft.)	8,831,810
Crude Oil—Net Barrels	10,067,105
Casinghead Gasoline—Gallons	22,736,652
Refined Petroleum Products—Gallons	122,324,704
Refined Petroleum Products (Coke—Tons)	7,726
Tripoli Sales (Tons)	17,123

Gross sales of all products for the year amounted to $31,285,004.14, an increase of $2,200,172.95. Net Income for the year after all expenses, including interest and taxes, amounted to $14,327,501.91, as compared with $10,717,092.47 in the preceding year. After deducting depreciation, depletion and development charges of $7,123,177.73 and adjusting losses applicable to minority interests, the balance applicable to the outstanding stock of the Corporation was $7,205,161.56, as compared with $4,039,861.00 for the preceding year. The net earnings for 1929 were equivalent to $3.20 per share on 2,247,602 shares (including 31,100 shares purchased by the Corporation during the latter part of the year), as compared with $3.13 per share on an average number of shares outstanding during the preceding year of 1,288,592 shares. All drilling and intangible development costs incurred during the year, amounting to $2,686,704.50, were charged against earnings.

Attention is called to the fact that reserves set aside out of earnings for the year for depletion and depreciation have been more than sufficient to cover all additions to property account during the year. The ratio of net current assets to net current liabilities on December 31, 1929, was 4.36 to 1.

last week and the suspicion that conditions in that industry may not be so bad as they have been painted.

Individual Showings.

Among the noteworthy examples of individual strength were Montgomery Ward, Columbian Carbon, Warren Brothers, Safeway Stores, Commercial Solvents, United Corporation, and Air Reduction. American Telephone, United Aircraft, and some of the steel stocks went well for a while but caved in before the finish. As a rule, most of the leaders of last week's advance were subjected to pretty persistent selling pressure.

Buying in the utilities group, while aggressive at times, was of a highly selective character, and a number of prominent issues of the group which generally move along when there is any activity in this direction were allowed to languish. American and Foreign Power, Standard Gas, and Peoples Gas were among the neglected stalwarts.

The relative weakness in American Foreign Power was ascribed to selling based on the theory that official announcement of contemplated new financing is near at hand. At one time today the stock was down more than 3 points below Saturday's closing figures, but buying appeared in the late dealings and most of the early loss was recovered.

Forge Steadily Ahead.

The tobaccos forged steadily ahead even when at the height of the forenoon selling movement. Their past records for stable earnings during periods of business recession have brought these shares into high bullish favor. Reynolds Tobacco B, Liggett & Myers, and Lorillard climbed into new high ground for the year. American Tobacco was up more than 4 points at the close.

Brisk speculation for the rise developed in Montgomery Ward around midday, bringing that stock to the fore when the general market was showing decided irregularity. The spurt which boosted the price some 3 points, most of which was held, was not accompanied by anything in the way of fresh spot news. On the contrary, the urgent character of buying bore all the earmarks of a well timed drive against an overcrowded short account. The company has not yet issued its report on sales for February, and it was generally believed that the move against the bear element had its basis in the expectation that the figures, when they appear, will show up better than had been anticipated.

Pressed Steel Car.

E. M. C.: Pressed Steel Car company last year earned its preferred dividend requirements for the first time since 1925 and operating profits were the best since 1920. The company's operations appear to have been reestablished on a satisfactory basis in 1929 and it is in a position to benefit by increased buying by railroads.

Operating profit in 1929 was $2,272,721, against $68,532 in 1928. Net profit, available for dividends was $1,729,335, compared with $149,452 in 1928. In 1928 when demand for railroad equipment was low there was a deficit of $247,718, but the company received a tax refund of $397,171 during that year.

Earnings in 1929 were equal to $1.83 per share on 394,685 no par common shares.

Current assets were $13,593,848 and current liabilities were $6,437,355 at the close of 1929. This left a net working capital of $7,156,493, which compares with $7,482,997 a year before.

Dividends are being paid on the preferred, but none have been reported on the common since 1924.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, March 3.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was easier today with prices 1-32c lower today under more liberal offerings of nearby duty frees. Uncertainty over developments in Cuba in connection with the fate of the single selling agency, the more liberal offerings in the spot market, and weaker London market were responsible for lower levels in the future market, where final prices showed net losses of 2@4 points. Approximate sales were only 25,000 tons. Prices follow:

EASY CLOSE IN LARD

A fairly steady opening yesterday, with prices slightly higher, was followed by an easier tone and prices practically unchanged, after a range of 5c. Liverpool was 3d lower. Hog prices, after opening sharply higher, receded and closed easy to 10c lower on grades not wanted by packers. A feature of the trading was early when a round lot of July lard was sold and an equal quantity of July bellies bought. Hog supplies were liberal.

Export clearances of lard for the week were 14,732,000 lbs, a decrease of 2,000,000 lbs from the previous week and compared with 9,250,000 lbs last year. Exports of meats were 7,721,000 lbs against 4,222,000 lbs last year. Prices follow:

Attracts Attention.

General Electric is receiving favorable attention from Wall street traders despite its relatively low yield at current prices. Bulls on the stock base their choice of this issue on its outstanding manufacturing, scientific, and financial achievements of the last twenty years and to a belief that the next twenty year period may offer even more important opportunities in the field.

Correct Property Valuation

Capital structures, unbalanced by excessive depreciation, obsolete costs and charges to expense, can be adjusted to reflect true worth by "Manufacturers" appraisals which show present day costs and actual depreciation based on systematic judgment of mechanical deterioration, obsolescence and lack of utility.

Top yesterday, $11.25; average, $10.40.

Hog prices on both the cash and futures market finished 15@25c lower yesterday. Trading in futures dragged some at the opening, but the volume of business exceeded that of the initial session Saturday. In two days hogs aggregating nearly a half million pounds have been contracted for future delivery as follows: 215,000 lbs for March, 198,000 lbs for April and the remainder for May and September delivery.

Buying of March and April hogs was brisk at the decline near the close. Fully 75 per cent of the day's sales were made during the last two hours of trading. Linght hogs for March delivery brought $11.00@11.10, for April $11.40@11.60, and for May $11.75. Medium grades for April delivery sold at $11.00. Heavy grades for March delivery sold at $9.90@10.00 and for April delivery at $10.00.

Bulge at Opening.

There was a bulge of 10@25c at the opening of the cash trading session when only 45,000 hogs were unloaded at Chicago, the smallest Monday run of the year. Other leading markets reported substantial reductions, the total at all points showing a 30 per cent decrease compared with a week ago. Demand narrowed abruptly following the upturn with closing sales 15@25c under the general selling at the close of last week.

The extreme top soared to $11.40 at the opening, within 20c of the highest cash price since last August, but best at the close were listed at $11.15. The general average remained unchanged at $10.65, slightly better quality helping to hold average cost of droves in line with Saturday's plain quality.

Buyers Reluctant.

It was a "forced" market in the cattle division yesterday. Buyers were reluctant at paying higher prices, but the starvation run of only 12,000 head gave salesmen the upper hand and bulk of sales were strong to 25c higher. Two loads of prime 1,161 lb steers reached $15.40 and 1,400 lb averages were sold at $15.00.

Bulk of sales held at $10.75@13.75, although a fairly large number of plain quality 700@900 lb steers were sold as low as $9.75@10.25. Cows and heifers shared in the recovery, but were hard to dispose of at the higher level of quotations. Strong to higher prices were paid for calves. Stockers and feeders sold steady.

Lambs Reach $11.25.

Good demand for lambs boosted prices 15@25c in spite of liberal supplies yesterday, the peak price going $11.25, which compares with $10.50 at the low point of last week. Larger houses paid upwards to $11.00 for prime 91 lb Colorados and took 101 lb. averages at $10.10 and 107@110 pounders at $9.85@9.90. Aged sheep and yearlings were little changed, top ewes resting at $5.75. Some ewe lambs sold for future breeding at $10.25. Feeding lambs were unchanged.

PRODUCE MARKETS

No change of consequence was made in the price of spot butter and eggs. Live heavy hens advanced ½c and springs, 1c. Receipts 2 cars by freight. Potatoes in better demand and market slightly higher. Receipts 102 cars with 257 cars on team track.

BIG INDUSTRIES ESTABLISH NEW PROFIT RECORD

Corporation Earnings for 1929 Show Gain.

Net profits in 1929 of 794 industrial corporations, which represent a fair cross section of industry, were 18.73 per cent higher than earnings of the same corporations in 1928, setting a new high record for the year as a whole, according to an anlysis announced today by Ernst & Ernst, accountants and auditors. The analysis includes all the leading corporations whose net earnings for 1929 have been announced to date.

For 180 railroads the 1929 net operating income was 6.72 per cent higher than in 1928, and a group of ninety-one financial institutions, including banks, investment trusts and others, showed net earnings in 1929 35.65 per cent higher than in 1928. This latter figure does not take into consideration any shrinkage in market values of securities held by investment trusts included in the tabulation, except for such companies as took such losses into their accounts.

Operating income of ninety-eight telephone companies for the eleven months of 1929 (latest available) was 7.26 per cent higher than in the corresponding months of 1928, and for the same eleven months period ninety-five other public utilities companies showed net earnings 16.56 per cent higher in 1929 than in 1928.

For the entire list of 1,258 corporations, including industrials, utilities, railroads, and financial institutions, average net earnings were 15.28 per cent higher in 1929 than in 1928. The 794 industrials showed total net earnings of $2,496,916,000, as compared with $2,103,057,000 in 1928; the 180 railroads, $1,274,774,000, as compared with $1,194,488,000; the 91 financial institutions, $257,169,000, as compared with $189,576,000.

NEW OFFERINGS IN FEB. EXCEED 600 MILLIONS

"Constructive forces, for the most part, ruled both the stock and bond markets in February, when new public offerings of securities aggregated $600,981,210 in the American market," according to the monthly review of Lawrence Stern & Co., investment bankers. "The fairly substantial reaction in the stock market was followed by a comparatively brisk recovery which carried average prices to a level somewhat higher than that prevailing at the beginning of the month. There appears to be consistent investment buying of the higher grade issues and the outlook seems to be for continued but moderate strength.

"In the bond market there were no substantial changes last month, but the demand for the higher price issues is becoming measurably stronger and there appears to be an undertone of real strength in the market."

New stock offering last month totaled $136,012,907, compared with $16,166,655 in January and $634,697,550 in February, 1929. New bond offerings totaled $464,968,303, compared with $741,457,578 in January and $394,134,614 in February, last year. Total financing of $300,981,210 compared with $757,624,233 in January and $1,028,8432,164 in February, 1929.

Report Northern Roads Ready to Accept Merger

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 3.—The interests behind the proposed merger of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern are prepared to accept the recent decision of the interstate commerce commission which approved the merger with a specification that the Burlington railroad be released from the present joint control exercised by the two roads. The Northern managements believe that release of the Burlington control could be effected in law and in fact by a distribution of Burlington stock to stockholders in the two Northern roads. It was learned today that the Northern roads are prepared to release the Burlington in view of the assurance in the commission's decision that they should be allowed an entrance into Chicago.

OFFER $50,000,000 ISSUE TODAY OF AMER. & FOREIGN POWER CO.

One of the largest power and light issues of the year, $50,000,000 American and Foreign Power company, Inc., 100 year 5 per cent gold debentures, is offered today by a banking group composed of Dillon, Read & Co., Bonbright & Co., Inc., the National City company, Guaranty company of New York, Lee, Higginson & Co., the N. W. Harris company, Chase Securities corporation, Bankers' company of New York, First National Old Colony corporation, White, Weld & Co., Halsey Stuart & Co., Inc., and W. C. Langley & Co. The debentures are offered at a substantial discount, being priced at 90 to yield 5.55 per cent.

The new issue will constitute the only funded debt of the American and Foreign Power company and will have back of it an equity of more than $600,000,000, represented by the indicated market value of the company's preferred and common stocks and option warrants, equivalent to about $12,000 for each debenture. Proceeds of the issue will be used for the retirement of current indebtedness and for other corporate purposes.

Consolidated net earnings of the company and subsidiaries for 1929, after all expenses and taxes but before interest, were $26,101,921, equivalent to more than ten times the annual interest requirements on the funded debt. The company's income from dividends alone, excluding undistributed earnings of subsidiaries applicable to it, exceeded $19,000,000.

The debentures will be redeemable at 107½ up to and including the last day of February, 2010 with successive reductions in the redemption price of one-half of one per cent for each year thereafter to the last of February, 2024 and thereafter prior to maturity at par. Application will be made to list the debentures on the New York Stock exchange.

Foreign Financing in U. S. Was $757,000,000 in 1929

New York, March 3.—(AP)—A review of the amount of foreign government and corporate financing in the United States last year showed that the total aggregated $757,000,000 and was the lowest of any year since 1923. Canada accounted for $375,925,000 of the total, and 28 per cent of the corporate issues offered. Sweden was second with $79,581,339, and Chile third with $77,000,000. Germany, with $42,100,000, was fourth. Following four years of uninterrupted increase and a record high in 1928, the decline in Latin-American government issues to $66,000,000 in 1929 was a noticeable feature of the year.

SILVER PRICES SLUMP LOWER ON CHINA NEWS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 3.—Silver set another new record low price today. Reports that China would impose an import duty on silver were said by bullion dealers here to have caused the new decline. Reports of a tariff policy of this kind in India caused the severe decline last week.

Additional bearish news on silver was the report that the plans of the Indian nationalists for their revolution were being formulated and announced. At London the price of silver fell to 18 15-16d per fine ounce, off 1-16d from Saturday's price.

Another shipment of gold amounting to $6,225,000, the second largest to come from Japan on this movement, has been received in San Francisco, according to the federal reserve bank of San Francisco. This brings the total received from Japan to date over $40,000,000.

For Your Defaulted Bonds

If you have defaulted bonds, or bonds of depreciated market price, here is a way of disposing of them at their par value.

This advertiser, a private property owner, will allow par value or former high market prices for your bonds in trade for remaining lots which he owns in a five-year-old subdivision adjoining a prosperous industrial center in the metropolitan district of Chicago. The lots will be figured at lowest plat prices—the same prices at which a substantial amount of the property has already been sold for cash. The property shows definite promise of early increase in value.

This is a genuine offer made by a responsible individual. Write giving amount of bonds, name of issue and house of issue.

WHEAT SLUMPS ON CHANGE OF FEDERAL POLICY

it was said, since little other buying is evident. Since Chicago May futures prices have been sent to levels above those in other American and world markets, there has been practically no foreign buying of grain here.

One observer pointed out that during the trading yesterday, each time a broker presumed to have buying orders for the farm board's corporations came into the wheat pit, prices started jumping, only to decline as the buying spurt ended.

Chicago cash and May future wheat quotations closed 2¾@4¾c lower than Saturday's final prices yesterday. Dips as low as 5 cents under Saturday's close were frequent, not only in Chicago, but in Minneapolis and Kansas City. March quotations at Chicago closed at $1.08⅝. May at $1.13⅛@1.13⅜, while July prices, representing the new crop, closed at $1.10¼. This new crop quotation, together with the September close, is not only a decline of 1½ cents, as compared with May, but represents new low prices for the season.

Durum Prices Low.

The oncoming wheat crop, due the first of July, was said to be in fine shape in the fields of the southwest and northwest farmers, in spite of seasonal changes during the last week.

Good news for those who consume noodles and macaroni was seen yesterday in the lowered prices of durum wheat at Duluth. Much of this crop, which only two years ago was being sold to Italy and Greece at premiums, is grown in the northwest because it is so hardy. Yesterday it was selling for 98 cents a bushel.

News dispatches from Moscow yesterday indicated that the Russian government was proceeding with its plans to sow a bumper spring wheat acreage shortly. It was announced that nearly 4,000,000 tons of seed have been collected for spring seeding.

The Russian government plans an increase of 25 per cent in its area sown to wheat during the current year, and has sent great numbers of agricultural experts, technical specialists, bookkeepers and other trained workers into the provinces.

Record Wheat Carry-Over.

A record carry-over of cash wheat in the United States into the 1930 crop year is generally expected by the grain trade as a result of government buying which held prices above export parity. Total commercial supplies on March 1 are estimated at 355,000,000 bushels. Winnipeg prices were 3⅜@4c lower yesterday, while Liverpool was 1@1¼d lower. No export business was reported during the day.

Weakness in wheat offset a bullish statistical showing in corn and futures closed 1@1⅛c lower with March 83⅛c and May 87¼c. Total available supplies on March 1 were 998,000,000 bushels, against 1,059,000,000 bushels last year, and are the smallest with one exception since 1919. Eastern demand was slow.

Oats eased in sympathy with other grains and closed ⅛@1¼c lower with March 42⅛@42¼c and May 44c. Available supplies for the balance of the crop year are around 408,000,000 bushels, against 514,000,000 bushels last year, and are the smallest with one exception since 1916.

Liquidation was on in rye during the greater part of the day with the close 1⅞@2⅜c lower, March being 73⅜c and May 73¼c.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Wheat traders regard May wheat in Chicago as relatively the highest of the country, if not of the world, taking all things into consideration. The government's support of May has placed it out of line with other deliveries and spreaders find it hard to buy the May and sell July and September without widening the difference. They say that should the government continue its buying of May it will eventually drive in the shorts and leave the market to the government and those who are carrying the liquidate. This will force the latter to liquidate, if possible, or take in the cash wheat, which they believe would create a most unusual situation, with May probably congested and at a high premium over distant deliveries.

Chairman Legge of the farm board was quoted as saying the government had bought $40,000,000 worth of wheat last week. This would mean around 30,000,000 bu. The total visible supply is 155,550,000 bu, off about 30,000,000 bu for the crop and 32,000,000 bu in excess of last year. There is about 100,000,000 bu held at Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis, and Kansas City.

COTTON LOSES FRIENDS

Failure of the government to support the cotton markets, it is said, has caused a loss of friends among those who would support the market were there anything tangible on which to base operations for a good advance. Early yesterday values were rather steady but gradually receded and closed almost at the low point, with losses in Chicago of 15@21 points and in other markets 11@18 points. Liverpool was 13@15 points net lower with spot sales 4,000 bales.

Spots in New York were 10 points lower at 15c, New Orleans 15 points lower at 14c even. Houston and Galveston had a holiday. Prices follow:

NET INCOME OF BORDEN SHOWS 1929 INCREASE

New York, March 3.—(AP)—The Borden company, which acquired about fifty companies last year, reports 1929 net income of $20,403,724, a gain of $9,049,393 over 1928. This was equal to $5.50 a share on the $25 par value stock outstanding Dec. 31, compared with $4.54 earned in 1928 on stock of corresponding par value.

Gross sales reached the new high record of $828,466,989, an increase of $147,616,994 over 1928. The income statement includes the earnings of acquired companies subsequent to the acquisition dates

In connection with the present dividend policy, President Arthur W. Millburn told the stockholders: "It seems probable that in such years as earnings and conditions warrant, further extra dividends shall be declared at such rates and in such form as then seems justified."

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, March 3.—(AP)—At the new low price basis trade is increased in sheets and pillowcases. The demand for wash fabrics still holds up well. Gray cotton was quiet. Lines of fall suitings in fancies were opened by the American Woolen company. Prices will be announced on Wednesday. Overcoating lines were opened complete. Burlaps were unchanged. Raw silk again declined to new low levels.

JACOB KESNER BUYS PROPERTY IN WEST ADAMS

BY AL CHASE.

Jacob Kesner yesterday purchased the property at 25-31 West Adams street, with a frontage of 70 feet, thus merging the fee and leasehold. He paid $200,000 for the west 25 feet at No. 31. Title was taken from the Chicago Title and Trust company as trustee under the will of James Todd. The adjoining 45 feet on the east at 25 to 29 West Adams was purchased from James Ross Todd of Louisville. William D. Kerfoot & Co. were the only brokers. D'Ancona, Pflaum & Kohlsaat were attorneys.

Yesterday's purchases give Mr. Kesner a total frontage of 120 feet. The property at 33 to 39 West Adams street, improved with the eight story Dexter building, with a frontage of 50 feet, was purchased on May 25, 1929, from the Lehmann estate.

Prospective Site of Club.

At the same time last year he took over the lease on the property at 25-31 from Edward J. Lehmann and others running until July 31, 2008, at an annual rental of $20,000 for the 70 feet. These parcels comprise a site once considered by the Collegiate Club of Chicago for its proposed building.

Adolph J. Koch has transferred the long term leasehold estate on the ground at the northeast corner of Church street and Sherman avenue, Evanston, together with the building to the Hub, Henry C. Lytton & Sons. It is stated that the Hub will improve the ground, 50x95 feet, with a building in three or four years. The lease was originally assigned by Jennie M. and Helen S .Beake to John Stone. It is dated April 14, 1928, and is for 100 years.

Sells 12 Flat Building.

The twelve apartment building at the northeast corner of Marquette and Minerva has been sold by Moses L. Goldman to Myra Soloman for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $49,000. J. C. Ficklin was broker.

Elsie M. Langworthy has leased the six flat building at 4870-72 Winthrop avenue from Agnes B. Monteith for eight years from May 1, 1930. The property will be used as a rooming house.

Lawyers Rent Entire 46th Floor of Loop Skyscraper

Maloney, Wooster & Whiteside, attorneys at 11 South La Salle street, will have offices on Chicago's highest rental floor served by elevators, according to Leo J. Sheridan & Co., who report having leased that firm the entire 46th story of the new One La Salle Street building.

THE HALL MARK OF INSURANCE WORTH

More than six centuries ago, in 1327, the goldsmiths of London banded together to protect the public from fraud. They founded what was known as Goldsmiths' Hall and decreed that its insignia be stamped on articles of gold and silver to prove their worth. Thus came into being the "hall mark" which even today is accepted as evidence of quality.

The name "Continental" on an insurance policy or surety bond is the hall mark of insurance worth. For more than three decades it has been accepted as the guarantee of the Affiliated Continental Companies of Chicago that claims will be adjusted promptly and fairly. The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the injury and pursue him. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into the town after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Harrison Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save him from arrest. Shortly afterward Shear kills Doc Brown who, he claimed, had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes into the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she has come to speak to her brother Steve. Jim guides her to where Steve is sitting in a poker game with Shear, Buck Roe and others. As they reach the table the lights go out and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair dead with Jim's knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She had become separated from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her. In putting out her hand for support she had touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are questioned by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested, but is later released. Jim is determined to find the murderer to clear himself. Ellen arranges a meeting to warn him against Dave Moss and Jim learns that Moss is trying to force her to marry his son Pete. He suggests that she marry him, but she is angry at the manner of his proposal. He realizes his mistake.

INSTALLMENT XXXII.

THE MARRIAGE.

Ellen's affronted eyes met Jim's. "I heard you say that this morning, Mr. Rutledge," she reminded him.

"Yes, but—it's different now, Ellen."

"I wouldn't think of taking advantage of yore pity even if I needed it." He flung his hat toward a chair and stepped forward, holding out his hands. "If you marry Pete Moss I'll be wastin' all my pity on myself," he cried. "I want you, girl. I need you." He spoke in a low voice, rough with emotion.

"That's not the way you talked before," Ellen told him.

"I was a fool. I didn't understand. Do you reckon you could—care for me?"

Pride still struggled with the love that warmed and irradiated her. "If you're being kind to me——"

"I'm being kind to myself. I—love you." He had got the words out at last.

Her heart jumped with joy. "You—mean that?" she murmured.

"I never meant anything so much in my life."

His arms went around her warm and slender body. With a shy, quick, animal grace she nestled close and made her naïve confession.

"I've loved you since the first day I met you."

Presently they came to a practical consideration of the situation. They must be married at once, as quietly as possible, since it would be better to confront Dave Moss with a fact accomplished rather than a plan proposed.

Jim went to make the arrangements. He dropped in at the Trail's End to see Harrison Pendleton.

"No wedding with two-three witnesses. I'll sashay around an' bring every big cattleman in town. The idea is to let Dave Moss know we're all with you, and that he's got a tough combination to buck. The boys will keep it under their hats till after you're hitched up, then it don't matter how quick the news spreads. You gonna have her brother Steve there?"

"Yes. Ellen wants it thataway. She's mighty fond of the boy. She thinks she can talk him into coming."

At the county clerk's office, where Jim got his marriage license, the clerk opened his eyes wide. He started to make a jocose remark about the law against bigamy, but after another look at the Texan he changed his mind.

"I don't aim to be buttin' in or anything, Mr. Rutledge, but there's already been a license taken out today for this young lady, or one of the same name, to be married to another man," he said.

Jim leaned across the counter and murmured in his ear. "If I was in yore place an' didn't want to get into trouble I'd forget about both licenses for a few hours. I knew an old donker once who lived to be more 'n a hundred mindin' his own business."

The clerk was pigeon chested and pimply. He wore slicked down hair plastered across his forehead according to the prevailing barber shop mode. The last thing he wanted was to have any difficulty with either the Moss family or this upstanding Texan.

Jim called on a preacher, then visited a dry goods store and bought a new suit. After which he had a haircut and a shave.

So they were married.

"So you're Jim Rutledge," she said. "You have a nerve, young man, coming here to see me. O, yes, indeed!"

"Why?" he asked disarmingly.

"I'm s'posed to be a friend of those who're not friends of yours. What would you do if Sam Moss showed up now?"

"I'd tell him he was coming to see a mighty pretty girl," Jim said, smiling at her.

He had not overstated the fact. She was a dusky beauty of lithe and sinuous grace. Indeed, she was so dark that Jim suspected Mexican blood mingled with the Irish. Her speech and accent confirmed this.

She laughed. Bubbles were always coming to the surface of those orbs so languorous in repose. It was perhaps this inheritance from two races, Irish esprit superimposed upon Latin banked fire, that gave the girl her extraordinary fascination.

"If you tell me pretty things like that I'll be sorry when you're hanged," she told him.

"The rope isn't woven yet that will hang me," he replied cheerfully.

"No? The señor speaks with confidence." Her tinkling mirth mocked him. "But I have noticed that Dave Moss usually gets what he wants, one way or another. I have heard a story, O, so romantic, about a little friend of yours upon whom your eyes have rested with much kindness, and alas! tomorrow she is to marry. It is a pity. Not so?"

Miss Dugan sat up. "Married? To Pete Moss?"

He took her surprise coolly. "No. To a better man. It seems that Pete was a laggard in love. He waited too long."

"You make fun with me because I am young and trusting," she accused.

"Part of that is so," he admitted. "You're young. I don't know how trusting you are. But I am giving you straight goods."

He bowed. "Congratulate me."

There was admiration in the long look she gave him. "You do not—what is it they say?—let the grass grow beneath your foots."

She spoke English quite well, but at times her tongue became tangled in its intricacies. In general, she used it quaintly.

"I'm a regular young Lochinvar," he assured her.

"I do not think I know the gentleman. But one thing I do know, though it is not my affair, no, not at all. If I was Mr. Jim Rutledge, the so happy groom, I would fly far and fast muy pronto."

"This is a right good climate," he demurred.

"Yesterday for my health I took a walk," she mused aloud. "Past Boot Hill. So many at rest there, all once so strong and so sure, then pouf! one little moment, and no more. It is sad. You think so?"

"I'm much obliged for yore interest."

"Ah! but inside you laugh and say, 'I am not afraid.' So did the others."

"Ah! but inside you laugh and say, 'I am not afraid.' So did the others."

Good Morning!

"Hell's Heroes" is the screenization of "The Three Godfathers," by Peter B. Kyne. It is an interesting and well presented program picture.

The story told is of three western bad men wanted in a town called New Jerusalem for the killing of a bank teller, and who, in the midst of the desert they are crossing to freedom, find themselves custodians of a new born baby and under solemn oath, made to the dying mother, to take the tiny creature to its father—the slain bank teller!

There's only one thing for the three to do under their code and that is, what they have said they would do. The baby's helplessness becomes an irresistible prod when determination wavers. It's a long trail with a rope at the end of it, but Sangster and Gibbons and Kearney take it.

Water! The baby must have water! And there is such a little in the water bag! Two of the three pass out of the picture without trumpets and without bravado. There is only one left now to fulfill the mission. With the precious bundle clasped tightly to him, Bill Sangster stumbles on toward New Jerusalem.

He is within a few miles of the town when his strength fails. Without water he can proceed no farther—and there before him is an unhealthy looking pond over which rears a sign bearings the words, "Arsenic water: Do not use for any purpose" . . .!

Arsenic water, it seems, does not affect the drinker until some time after it has been taken . . .

Well—the brave of the earth don't all go to war or cross the Atlantic in airships. The fighting line known as Everyday Life counts its heroes by the thousands, and not all of them are "good" folks, either.

The acting and sound in this film are consistently pleasing, and the scenes photographed in the Mojave desert are burningly real. The account of the robbery and killing in New Jerusalem is graphically presented—and there's a laugh in the grim tragedy of the occurrence.

So the s. s. goes across the street and robs the bank . . .

The grandeur and beauty of the Canadian northwest have been caught by the camera and, in "Tiger Rose," bring delight to the eyes and soul of you.

Lupe Velez contributes vivid charm to the rôle of the French Canadian girl [played on the stage by Lemore Ulric] who loves a surveyor [now get this—] who is wanted by Northwest mounted policemen, and who is crazy for her. H. B. Warner is excellent as a rather mad doctor whom the surveyor slays in self-defense, while Tully Marshall, Gaston Glass and Rin-Tin-Tin do well with parts that haven't much to offer them. Which is where the bow ends and the kick starts, for Monte Blue is not particularly convincing either as to brogue or action and Grant Withers acts and talks like a precocious little boy in a play on the last day of school. And I couldn't get excited over the story.

But O, that scenery!

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Do you think there is anything to the King Tut curse?

The Answers.

Mrs. H. M. Behan, 6544 Newgard avenue, housewife.—They should have left that tomb alone; there should not be any more desecration of it. Look at the tragedies that have resulted to those connected with the exploration of it. It is taking chances to enter that tomb.

Nicholas Augustine, 315 county building, assistant chief clerk.—One would think there may be something to the curse, though common sense dictates that there is nothing to fear. I doubtless would hesitate, however, to enter that tomb. If I did enter I might be accompanied by that "creepy feeling."

Mrs. C. E. Carlton, 1750 Ainslie street, housewife.—I am not superstitious. Black cats crossing my path, walking under ladders, spooks, or even King Tut tombs create no fear in me. We have been enlightened, so that such fears are relics of a bygone age. I would like the chance to see the King Tut tomb.

Russell Barnett, 5045 West Quincy street, salesman.—There is no logical reason why there should be any more curse connected with that tomb than with anything else. I would like to have been with the King Tut expedition or any other exploration party. We all must leave this world sometime.

Mrs. W. J. Conover, 4332 Drexel secretary.—I am not superstitious, but some people are so much so that they make themselves and everybody near them uncomfortable. They try to interpret everything as having special meaning to them. In following these interpretations they ignore common sense.

Pastors Discuss Ways to Revive Religious Fervor

See Peril in Luxuries and Naval Strength.

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—Preliminary to the formation of a permanent organization to promote a better understanding among all Protestant denominations of the state, a convocation of Illinois ministers met in Springfield today.

Tonight a session of official delegates to the Illinois Council of Churches was held. Other sessions will follow tomorrow, when it is expected that the formal organization will be announced.

Today's sessions were informal. The Rev. Dr. Herbert L. Willett, pastor of the Union church, Kenilworth, presided at the opening session of the convocation, held at the First Methodist church. The initial address was by Dr. Asa J. Ferry, pastor of Edgewater Presbyterian church, Chicago. He sounded the keynote of the gathering.

"America," he declared, "needs a revival of evangelism. The church herself must have it, and the nation needs it. She is forgetting the God of her fathers.

"The crime and corruption of our great cities, the frank paganism of our great newspapers, the sensualism of our stage and pictures, all furnish an idex of our lack of vital religion."

The Rev. Sidney L. Gulick of the federal council of churches of New York, discussed the relation of the churches to international policies. "The alternative before the nations, including the United States," he said, "is either friendships creating effective agencies for the settlement of every dispute by reason, law, and conciliation, or everincreasing battleships, competitive preparations for war, and general destruction."

On the churches, he added, would depend what course would be followed.

Dr. Albert Parker Fitch, pastor of Park Avenue Presbyterian church, New York said:

"The triple challenge of the world to the Christian church, is to re-emphasize the difference between creative, spiritual, living and crowded mechanical, luxurious living; is to address itself with more courage, more understanding and more skill to the penertation of a secular industrial order with the principles of Jesus."

Martinelli Sings for Benefit of Conference on Child Psychology

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It was a rather shrewd opinion of popular tastes that caused Giovanni Martinelli to make his song program at Orchestra hall last night a completely operatic one. There are several reasons why his decision was a stroke of showmanship. One is that nothing coaxes applause out of willing palms like a well sung aria with some effective high notes in it. Another is that Mr. Martinelli is a masterful singer of most of the arias that were ever written for tenor voice.

He was presented under the auspices of the Chicago Association for Child Study and Parent Education, an organization which later this week will conduct a conference dealing with the emotional life of the child. If the conference meetings go as well as the Martinelli concert, all will be well with the association. The main floor of Orchestra hall was crowded last night, the boxes were all thronged, and there were many patrons in the upper floors. This is what it is to be a famous operatic artist appearing for an excellent cause.

So Mr. Martinelli, with able assistance from Mary Duffield, a Chicago soprano of excellent voice and training, also from Giuseppe Bamboschek, a first class accompanist and piano soloist, brought before the audience the high points of many kinds and schools of opera. It may be that he did not include the song concerning the forging of the sword from "Siegfried," but he sang nearly everything else of the present generation's operatic favorites. First and last he must have sung twelve or fifteen arias, all of them well known and well liked, and all of them in that vigorous, virile voice with the thrill at the top that has made him one of the best applauded tenors in America.

Then, to make the tale complete, he and Miss Duffield sang the duet from the last act of "Aida," wherefore the sum total should in all justice be increased by one. Miss Duffield on her own behalf sang "Vissi d'arte," from "Tosca," and "Pace, pace, mio dio," from "La Forza del Destino," also with encores, and Mr. Bamboschek played Chopin's Nocturne in F sharp, but refused a warmly cordial invitation to play more. Altogether it was a triply pleasant affair, for artists, for organization, and for audience.

THE STAGE

"SARI."

THE CAST.

Pali Racz ..... Boyd Marshall
Laczi Racz ..... Allen Raymond
Sari Racz ..... Mitzi
Klari Racz ..... Gloria Frey
Joska Fekete ..... Ray Duane
Juliska Kekete ..... Marybeth Conoly
Count Irini ..... Jack Squires
Cadeaux ..... Arthur Treacher
Count Estragon ..... Duane Nelson
Pierre ..... Pat Clayton

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

SOME of the glamour has worn off "Sari" during the fifteen years of its suspended animation. When Mitzi Hajos won her first vogue in this operetta it was regarded as one of the most brilliant pieces that ever came out of Budapest and Vienna, but now, in revival at the Illinois theater, it seems thin and relatively unimportant. Kalman's rich score swings along as before in swift and graceful gestures of melody, but the rest of it has a low pulse beat. The answer appears to be that "Sari" never had much of a "book."

The romance of the gypsy band leader, the enchanted fiddler who conquers the cabarets of the world with his Magyar folk songs, was always somewhat artificial, even in the pre-war period to which it belonged. Its charm and appeal have vanished; it is merely the dusty relic of an outworn age. And so the story of Pali Racz, which is the libretto of "Sari," seems faded and dull. Perhaps he should have been translated, for the purposes of this revival, into a broken down jazz band leader whose daughter was hostess in a night club. Then we might have been able to get sentimental over him.

But Mitzi is always herself, even though she has developed the shoulders of a channel swimmer. This little singing soubrette has a special qualntness which shows no sign of losing its flavor, and except for a few extra pounds she is just what she used to be in "Sari." She's the playgirl of paprika-land; a sly, gifted hoyden and a natural droll. In the ornate Hungarian peasant costume of the second act she is one of the most fantastic and decorative figures in a generation of operetta heroines.

This revival is not especially strong in the other rôles. Boyd Marshall misses the florid romantic gesture that the character of Pali Racz demands. The other principals, also, are vague of personality, although Marybeth Conoly, as the Juliska, and Allen Raymond, as the Laczi, sing in a way that does a fair amount of justice to Kalman's lovely tunes. "My Faithful Stradivari" is just another number as Mr. Marshall sings it, but there was a time when it belonged to the national repertory of dance and dinner music. "Love Has Wings" had much of its old soaring effect, however, in the voices of Miss Conoly and Mr. Raymond.

In its staging "Sari" is the brightest of the operetta revivals to date. The settings and costumes designed by Willy Pogany have art value, and their bandbox freshness makes the old show seem like a novelty. There is dancing by a ballet of Albertina Rasch girls who need a little more rehearsing.

"Your Uncle Dudley" will end its engagement at the Cort theater next Saturday night. Its successor has not been chosen; there will probably be an interim of darkness at the Cort. . . . And next week will be Jane Cowl's last in "Jenny" at the Selwyn, which also has nothing new to announce. These closings, and this vagueness about attractions to follow, betray the effect of a general slump at the Chicago box offices, which came with the public pay roll troubles.

Bavarian Police Forbid the Movie About "Mad King"

MUNICH, Bavaria, March 3.—(AP)—The police today prohibited showing of the newly completed film entitled "Ludwig II, King of Bavaria," on the ground that public safety would be endangered. Royal relatives of the late king sought an injunction against the production on the ground that not only the king but some of his living relatives were depicted.

[Ludwig II, was known as the "Mad King," and the country for years was ruled by a regent.]

Chicago, at 93, Is Child Among Cities of World

Birthday Recalls Many Early Struggles.

And, although the second city of the United States today is vastly different physically from the village of 1833, which became a city on March 4, 1837, Chicago's finances now are tangled, where 93 years ago they were far from adequate.

Recalling events since that first birthday, Frederick Rex of the Municipal reference library pointed out yesterday that the city came into being with a financial problem on its hands, and met it, as it is doing today, by issuing scrip to raise funds. Mr. Rex described the early financial struggle as follows:

"Immediately following the incorporation of the city, the old village organization, formed in 1833, paid over to the city treasurer the sum of $2,814.22. With many permanent improvements to be accomplished, this was not a particularly brilliant outlook for the young city.

"The streets were in a horrible condition, as but few were even graded. Also there were complaints concerning a small lake on Lake street at the corner of La Salle, which was inhabited by frogs. In addition, two additional fire engines were found absolutely necessary, and drainage demanded attention.

"It was resolved to borrow $23,000, considered a mighty sum at that time. The request for a loan was made to the branch bank of the State of Illinois, but was not accepted. Consequently the city resorted to issuing city scrip in denominations of one, two, and three dollars, bearing interest at one per cent a month and receivable for taxes in sums not exceeding $5,000."

Later in the year 1837, a financial panic occurred, and the city, whose population had been 4,170 in July, 1837, was only 4,000 in 1838. But in 1840 it had reached 4,479.

Chicago's first mayor, William B. Ogden, nursed the city through those critical days. His salary was $500 a year.

The first city clerk was Attorney Isaac Newton Arnold, later active to prevent the state of Illinois from repudiating a debt of $16,000 incurred for "internal improvements."

"From the first Mr. Ogden had great hopes for the future of Chicago, and even the times of depression and gloom could not cause him to lose faith," Mr. Rex said.

"When in 1837 some of the indebted citizens of Chicago looked toward repudiating the city's debt and had called a meeting for that purpose, Mr. Ogden stepped before the excited crowd and exhorted the citizens not to commit the folly of proclaiming their dishonor. 'Above all things, do not tarnish the honor of our infant city,' he exclaimed. His eloquence prevailed and the city's credit was saved."

A "Play Booklet" by Mrs. Bevans for mothers of pre-school children will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Warning signals bestrew the path of parents.

Red lights, red flags, bells ringing at danger points, and red lanterns all filled and shining bedeck the landscape. There are signs painted: Avoid, and Don't, and If You Do, and If You Don't. The woods are just full of them. It's most discouraging.

And now here's another! One of my own special ones. Maybe—to change the metaphor—the shoe won't fit. But if it does, do put it on. It will make you walk much better as a father or a mother.

This warning signal is—One at a Time! That is, when correcting is to be done. Let one person—if possible the one who started it—correct a child without interference from any one else. This is one of the hardest lessons adults have to learn—and also one of the very hardest for the person in authority to put over with the other grownups in a family.

Haven't you seen a child admonished for some slight thing and immediately noticed conversation stop and all eyes become riveted on the poor youngster? This is enough in itself to set up a resistance. Or even worse, in addition to the eyes, haven't you seen one or two or even three people chip in? Often these ways are quite unconscious—but not always. There are some adults who think it the divine right of any grown person to correct any child at any time.

Even between a mother and father I think the one-at-a-time rule should be followed. Let either one do or say what seems best—then drop it. Most of us, if we'll observe ourselves, will find we usually put our word in when it isn't at all necessary and when nothing is gained by it.

And if you find you have the habit in an advanced stage, arrange a signal system. Perhaps you could manage "Hrmm" or what they call in novels "a discreet cough" to keep the other fellow from putting his oar in.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Wickersham of Evanston announce the marriage of their daughter, Madelaine Lloyd, to Eugene Ernest Amory Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Amory of Chicago, which took place on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Amory are both graduates of the University of Chicago. They have gone to Biloxi, Miss., for their wedding trip and are to reside in Boston, Mass., after April 1.

Swedish Sect May Buy Des Moines University

A move to purchase the buildings and campus of Des Moines university, defunct Baptist fundamentalist school by the Swedish Covenant Mission church and the removal of North Park college, Chicago, to that site was announced yesterday by the Rev. Titus Pohl, Des Moines.

The Rev. Mr. Pohl, pastor of the Des Moines Swedish Covenant Mission church, stated that the Des Moines institution, which was closed early in 1929 as a result of dissention between faculty and students, will be sold at auction. According to a statement last night from the office of the president of North Park college, the board of trustees, which meets today, has no knowledge of the proposal.

Tardieu Appoints Expert to Boom Tourists' Interest

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, March 3.—Premier Tardieu's appointment of the first undersecretary to promote tourist interest has been warmly welcomed throughout the nation. It has become known that Americans spent many million dollars less last year than they did in 1928. The 1928 figure is estimated at $200,000,000, and assuming a decrease of 20 per cent last year, the decline would be $40,000,000.

An Announcement
That Concerns Your Figure and Bodily Health

To the Public:

We have imported, direct from Europe to Chicago, the noted Zander's complete institute of 55 different weight-reducing, health-aiding exercisers.

The constantly interesting variety of these wonderful devices makes exercising a genuine pleasure—the gratifying results make it doubly attractive. Ladies who make their homes in hotels, apartments, clubs—who are denied the opportunity for regular exercise—should start now to reduce sanely for the new Spring creations. Beauty authorities advise sane diet—sane exercise.

Now there is no need to leave Chicago for sanitariums which have but a few of these wonderful exercisers. This convenient, scientific way to a lovely figure and better health is available here, in the only gymnasium of its kind in Chicago. Investigate—call at the institute or phone for a demonstration appointment, without obligation.

Miss Mabel Linn to Make Home in Great Britain

BY THALIA

Having lived in England for several years, Miss Mabel Linn has decided to sever her ties with Chicago and is planning to make her permanent residence in London.

She has been in Chicago for the last month or so, having come here at the time of the death of her father, the late William R. Linn, and is now settling her affairs here. She has sold the apartment Mr. Linn occupied at 209 Lake Shore drive to the John Crerars, who now have Mrs. Freeman Hinckley's apartment in the same building.

Miss Linn and her sister, Mrs. Cyrus McCormick Jr. of 900 North Michigan avenue, leave this week for a sojourn in Palm Beach, Fla. After that Miss Linn plans to return to England.

When she departed about three years ago, if I remember the time rightly, she did not anticipate that her stay in England would be as long as it was, and several times since then she has been expected to return, but changed her mind at the last minute. Mrs. McCormick went to Europe shortly before Christmas, thinking that her sister would return with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Eames MacVeagh, Franklin MacVeagh, Frederick T. West, and Arthur T. Aldis are among those who have made reservations for the English Speaking union's luncheon today to hear S. K. Ratcliffe in the red lacquer room of the Palmer house. Mr. Ratcliffe is a London journalist. He has appeared repeatedly before the Institute of Arts and Sciences at Columbia university.

Recent gifts to the Art institute have come from Mrs. Emily Crane Chadbourne, Martin A. Ryerson, and Frank G. Logan. Mrs. Chadbourne has presented the Oriental department with 46 pieces of Chinese, Persian, and Japanese pottery and porcelain; a fragment of Persian tile, 4 Japanese netsuke, a Persian painting, a Japanese lantern, a Japanese bowl, 2 Persian jars, 3 Persian bowls, and Persian astrolabe. Mr. Logan's gift was a page of Cufic [early Arabic] manuscript, and Mr. Ryerson has donated 20 pieces of Fatimid textile fragments, and 10 scrolls reproducing the "Kitano Tenjinengi."

Mr. and Mrs. Silas H. Strawn have moved into their new apartment at 209 Lake Shore drive from their own one at 229 Lake Shore drive.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Clow of Lake Forest are motoring through Florida and other southern states, visiting various resorts and towns. They will be gone for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Frost of Lake Forest and their daughters, Miss Virginia Frost and Mrs. David Dangler are at Santa Monica, Cal., for several weeks. They plan to return the last of this month. Hugh Dangler is accompanying his mother, on the vacation.

Miss Elinor Farwell, the Gardiner Hammonds, and Mrs. Rollin G. Keyes of Evanston are among the latest Chicagoans to arrive in Pasadena, Cal. Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harvey, their daughter, Miss Roberta Harvey, the John B. Drakes and their daughters, Katherine and Elizabeth, are also in Pasadena. Mr. Drake is supposed to be having his first vacation in many years, and one of his first activities after he arrived at the Hotel Huntington was a clay pigeon shooting match with Dr. Arthur D. Bevans. The Drakes plan to motor throughout southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Little of 227 East Delaware place, have been spending several days at Del Monte, Cal.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—The retiring ambassador from Peru, Dr. Hernan Valarde, was given a farewell luncheon today by his colleagues of the diplomatic corps here, at the Pan-American Union building. Dr. Velarde had become dean of the diplomatic corps at the departure of Sir Esme Howard last month. He appeared once in that rôle at the dinner given by President and Mrs. Hoover to the diplomatic corps two weeks ago. The Mexican ambassador, Senor De Tellez, the youngest in the corps, but in Washington since Feb. 25, 1925, now becomes dean.

Count and Countess Wrangel, guests of the Swedish minister and Mme. Bostrom, were given a dinner tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont in their home on R street. Count Wrangel was the former minister of foreign affairs of Sweden. He and the countess are en route to Palm Beach.

MISS MARGARET PATRICIA HANLEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Hanley of 1545 Astor street announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Patricia, to William Westlake, son of the late Edward G. Westlake, and of Mrs. Westlake of 1522 Sherwin avenue. Miss Hanley attended Ferry Hall and Oakesmere schools, and is a provisional member of the Junior league. World Scout Chief Sends Greetings to Chicago Colleagues

The good wishes for the success of the Chicago Boy Scout council's efforts to secure 30,000 scouts in Chicago by 1933 were received yesterday from Lord Robert Baden-Powell, chief scout of the world, and founder of the scouting movement.

The message came in a letter to E. Urner Goodman, Chicago scout executive, in reply to a cablegram sent by Mr. Goodman on Lord Baden-Powell's birthday, Feb. 22. The latter, with Lady Baden-Powell, is stopping in Bermuda.

"I was surprised and delighted to receive the kindly birthday greeting this morning which you cabled me in behalf of the Chicago Boy Scout council," the message stated. "I greatly appreciate this general testimony of good will coming as it does from the largest council of Boy Scouts in the United States.

"Large as it is I cordially hope that it will grow larger and larger yet and that before long the greater proportion of the boyhood of Chicago will have come under its influence and so be trained to the best qualities of citizenship."

Quick thinking and the use of knowledge attained through his work as a Boy Scout brought William Longfield, 14 years old, 3353 North Avers avenue, a medal for bravery last night. Last October when William was on duty as a member of the boys' patrol of Reilly school, he extinguished the flames from the burning garments of Lillian Czak, 4 years old, of 3651 School street.

With his fellow patrolmen, he took the child to a hospital. She later died of burns. The medal was offered two years ago by Scoutmaster Henry T. Wenk, 3424 North Avers avenue, but William is the first to win it. The presentation took place at Bethany Lutheran church, Newport and Kedvale avenues, in the presence of Scout troop No. 861, and parents residing in that neighborhood.

Here's Exhibition That Pleases Senses; Stands Criticism, Too

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There opened yesterday at the Chicago galleries one of the most satisfactory exhibitions that can be seen in town today. Eight painters contribute equally to this success.

Stark Davis with his decorative canvases of birds and beasts shares a room with Frederic Tellander, who offers a group of delightful water colors. Mr. Davis flirts with modernism, but skirts its vulgarities carefully and makes use of its clean cut pattern and suggestion of Egyptian sculpture. Particularly is this true in "The White Cat." His other paintings combine brilliance of color and freshness of outlook with sincere craftsmanship and a stubborn ability to catch the bird on the wing. His "Rooster" and "Enchantment" and "Mother and Child" [monkeys] are great.

Frederic Tellander offers two magnificent oils and a group of water colors, extremely well done, picturesque, sound and inspiring. Edward T. Grigware, in the next room, shows water colors and oils. The gentle beauty of his work was never better illustrated than in "At Grand Detour." It is a livable, lovable picture. "In the Ozarks" is a glorious painting of fall, and the "Monday Morning" is fascinating.

Near these are the stirring paintings by J. Jeffrey Grant. These are colorful canvases. "The Incoming Tide" is glorious—the thunder of the sea is in your ears and the spit of spray in your face as you look at it. From here Mr. Grant carries one to Munich in winter and to sunny Capri and the high Alps. In each picture one feels the artist alive and vital, bringing his best to the scene in hand and making it live again for us. The paintings are varied in theme and key, but are one in their gorgeous presentation.

R. F. Ingerle offers several mountain landscapes. His "Carolina Moon" does not stale with familiarity. His "Tuckaseegee" is one of the loveliest paintings to be found in any gallery today. Farther on hang the sturdy boys from the brush of John Nolf, who, as a change, adventures a bit into the Adam Emory Albright field of landscape and youth. Beyond again are the southwest landscapes by E. Martin Hennings. "In Taos Canyon" stands out, very well done. Carl C. Preussl closes the show with a stunning group of large canvases; some deal with the sailing boats of Venice. Two in direct contrast are particularly intriguing. One of these is "Our City," a superb portrait of Chicago, and the other is "Grey Day," a low keyed, vigorous painting of a stormy sky and dusky marsh.

The exhibition will continue to March 25. If we awarded stars, it should have four.

The Woman Pays.

Coming home from the theater with the girl friend after a most expensive evening on my part I noticed the gas gauge in the car reading empty. To my knowledge I only had twenty cents left in my pocket, but drove into a garage.

Casually strolling up, out of hearing of her, I asked the keeper if he would put a gallon of gas in the car. He was on the verge of putting in the gallon when to my embarrassment I could not find the two dimes. I yelled for him to stop. He looked at me as if he thought I must be crazy. You can imagine the rest of the evening, with the twenty cents coming out of her pocket.

Indoor Skating Furnishes Fine Form of Exercise

It is too bad that ice skating cannot be more conveniently pursued by larger groups of people. It's a grand exercise for keeping the weight down. For getting the color up, too. Then, if you can garb yourself in one of the delightful skating suits that fashion magazines dress their ice patrons in, cutting a fancy figure on the rinks becomes a comparatively easy thing.

The ole swimmin' holes that used to serve small boys in winter as well as summer do not seem to be much in evidence any more. Not so they can be utilized for skating use, anyway. But if there is one fine way you can get oxygen—fat burning, blood toning, complexion giving, oxygen—into your system, it is via the ice pond route.

I was reminded of this fact the other day when I ran into a group of girls just returned from an hour or two on ice. The contrast between them and other subway riding girls seated or standing near was strong. The wan spirit and the tired pallor of the shop and office work showed up touchingly. But, of course, if one has to work daytimes, one can't skate and that is about all there is to it. And if small, safe rinks are scarce and large lakes are dangerous and larger oceans impossible, there is no use preaching skating, is there?

But there is indoor skating and I don't know why it does not take on in more lively fashion than it has. Paris reports an enormous revival of indoor ice skating, due, it is hinted thereby, to some who desire to enjoy the sport but more often by those who wish to wear the attractive suits.

We have a number of indoor skating rinks in America. And while the clear outdoor ozone is missed, still you get a pretty good substitute exercise out of the amusement. And it has the play element in it, which doubles the value of any exercise. For the sedentary worker it is recommended heartily as antidote for the daily muscular inactivity.

If you ever stood on the side lines of a rink, you can appreciate without any one telling you leg, arm and waist muscles are put to work and kept at work.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Old Vegetarian Menus.

When the cook gets up vegetarian menus, she may do it with a good deane of intelligence, or she may be wholly guided by instinct. When Miss Farmer printed the following menu nearly 30 years ago, she was considerably guided by her great knowledge of menu making. Surprisingly this menu is pretty nearly correct for our time, which knows much more about dietetics than did the world when it was prepared. The menu is:

Potato Soup Crisp Crackers
Curried Vegetables Napoli Spaghetti
Dressed Lettuce
Charlotte Russe

In this menu we get the greatest essential of the diet—milk—in the potato soup. There is a tiny amount of protein in potato, and some in the milk also, so that potato soup alone yields that minimum of protein necessary in every diet. The spaghettis and macaronis are made of a flour high in gluten which is a protein, so with these two items this menu could be made a good low protein menu but a little high in starches. The dressed lettuce means that there is oil or fat in the dressing. Charlotte Russe contains pure cream, which is always a worthwhile calorie food, also egg—another protein—so that if we wished to reduce the protein in this diet we would have to change our dessert.

This diet has every promise of providing vitamins, which are contained in both milk and cream, also in the lettuce and the curried vegetables. And then we would almost surely have tomato in the Napoli spaghetti, and we do not need to talk much about the vitamin balance that tomato juice can put into the diet. There is a great deal of leeway in such a statement as curried vegetables, and Napoli spaghetti, but most leeway in the curried vegetables because the proportion of fat used can vary greatly. It is impossible to estimate the dietetic constituents in a dish so named, especially without seeing a recipe for it.

Paris Harnesses Up the Bareback Mode

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—For some seasons past the bareback mode has been riding the evening ragged. To be chic you were obliged to expose quantities of those bones, which your fashionable emaciation had rendered so apparent. But this spring the Paris couturiers are kind. Not only do they allow us a few mild curves, but they devise so many variations of the back decolleté that you can smartly camouflage any dorsal defects and put your best back, backwards, as it were.

The fourth decolleté which appears in the lower right hand corner of our drawing shows Jean Patou's famous harness, which unites depths and heights of modesty. The elongated V creates an effect of extreme slenderness. A central hand attached to the upper cross piece will disguise any possible evidence of vertebrae.

Two-Pay Envelope Brings Discord to This Small Home

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Peggy and her man have been married three years. She kept on and is still holding her job, spending her money for household things, not too grudgingly, however, since she loves her home and loves to fix it up.

Peggy's husband works steadily, but receives a rather small salary. The sore spot in the Peggy-and-mate ménage is the same old one so often reported where the two pay envelope fails of honest coöperation. Peggy's husband expects Peggy's money to provide the necessities of table, home, and some outside pleasure.

To add salt to the wound, the husband has a sister, married, but who has a struggle because her husband is tight fisted. Peggy's husband feels sorry for her and helps her. The struggle in his own home is just as sharp, but the sisters' troubles appear to touch him more.

Peggy has no doubt that her husband loves her. But she thinks that when a wife is good enough to help out, a man ought to try to let that fact be an incentive to coöperation. In fact, Peggy thinks that charity should begin at home, where it could well be put to use.

I must remind myself frequently that it is the discordant cases that are presented to me, or I would get a sadly biased viewpoint on what should be coöperative earning and spending partnerships. As it is, I catch myself saying, "It can't be done. Men are not equal to the test." However, one has but to look around to realize that there are men of intelligence and sufficiently advanced in modern economic problems, to put the fifty-fifty philosophy into active operation.

Nevertheless, in spite of my warranted optimism, there remains a large body of males who need a course of training in domestic financing from the modern angle. They nurse the old illusion of being head of the house. Denied indulgence in this regard, they revert to strange dispositions of their money, undoubtedly in an attempt to bolster up a weakened pride.

If a woman happens to draw this kind of man I think her—more particularly his—salvation depends on letting him have his pride and full financial responsibility. If he believes one pay envelope should run the household—it should be his pay envelope to whom the honor should be ascribed.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The jacket bolero of this smart dress is rolled in revers, showing a contrasting color with which it is lined. The dress shows a swathed treatment through the waist, and the back of the bodice is rather long waisted. The attached circular skirt is cleverly shaped to keep the hips flat and allow a graceful fullness at the hem. Crêpe satin in black or brown, using the reverse side for contrast, or eggshell crêpe for the black, and beige for the brown, will be most attractive.

The pattern, 3,274, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4¼ yards of 39 inch material with ⅝ yard of 32 inch contrasting.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Those who expect to plant shelterbelts or set out shrubbery this spring will secure better results if they give careful consideration to proper handling and planting of the stock, says I. T. Bode, extension forester at the Iowa State college. Nurseries seldom ship poor planting stock and failure in growth usually results from improper or careless planting, he says.

Roots of evergreens should never be allowed to dry out, because when this happens the resin crystallizes, clogs the pores, and no amount of water will dissolve the crystals or bring the plant back to life. When a plant is moved the broken roots should be trimmed off smoothly with a sharp knife. The tops of broad leaf trees should be cut back to equalize the loss of roots.

The hole in which a tree or shrub is planted should be large enough so the roots may be spread out, but they should not be spread out level or they will be too near the surface. After good fertile soil is tramped around the young tree the ground should be soaked thoroughly with water. The wet ground should not be packed or it will bake and the tree probably will die. A mulch of well rotted manure, old straw or leaves will keep the soil moist.

Kansas Painter Has Six Titles for Each Picture

PARIS, March 3.—(AP)—Eugene McCowan of Kansas City, Kas., doesn't believe in giving titles to his canvases. To show the futility of titles he has mustered up six names for each picture in his display.

This middle western American, who came to the Paris Latin quarter six years ago, also thinks long appreciations of an artist's work are useless. Therefore he has devoted his "preface" to explaining why he doesn't have one, and to presenting his ideas about titles.

So McCowan got six of his friends, all persons of prominence in some branch of art, to look over the 17 principal works he is to show in the United States, and had them, separately, pick titles. The six title makers are Clive Bell, Jean Cocteau, Norman Douglas, Bernard Fay, André Gide, and Raymond Mortimer.

Here are the labels wished on one picture, "If Youth Knew," "Three Persons Who Came Without Being Invited," "The Happy Family," "The Unhappy Family," "The Present," and "Intrusion of a Dead Mortality."

Bottled Sunshine Builds

Strong Little Backs
Straight Little Legs
Fine Full Chests

Good Jaws and Chin
Sound Even Teeth

Authorities on baby care are telling mothers that a plentiful supply of one essential factor must be provided if bones and teeth are to develop strong and sound.

This factor—Vitamin D—should be supplied even though your baby is breast-fed; even though he is plump and rosy and the picture of health.

This needed protection is obtainable from two common sources—sunshine and good cod-liver oil. It is almost impossible, however, to get enough sunshine on the bare skin to be of benefit. Clothing, clouds, fog and smoke prevent it. Even ordinary window glass filters out the ultra-violet rays.

They specify Squibb's because it is very rich in two essential vitamins—Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" which helps to build good bones and teeth, and in Vitamin A which increases resistance to many infections.

Your physician knows that Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is vitamin-tested and vitamin-protected and that it will help build teeth and bones for your baby. You can get both Squibb's Plain and Mint-flavored Cod-Liver Oil at all good drug stores.
